Gladys Mangnall a resident at the home passed away Saturday at the hospital. The former Gladys Evenson was born, February 13 at Pelican Rapids, she was a daughter of Charles and Julia Evenson. When she was three years old she moved up with her family and resided on the Charley Evenson homestead, now owned by Leslie Nelson. My parents, the Overum's lived 1/4 mile east of their place, so we learned to know each other well, she had a sister Cora Sjutson and two brothers, Claude and Walter now deceased. We often talked about the good old days on the farm. Both Cora and Gladys stayed a lot with me. Mother also taught Cora how to play the guitar, she enjoyed that. Gladys married Werner Mangnall of Oklee, and they lived at Albany, OR. Her husband passed away some years ago, and now when she became ill of health, she moved into Valley Home. Her funeral was held Monday at Belmont Funeral Home, and buried at Albany, OR. It was nice meeting Gladys again, too bad she couldn't have stayed longer with us. Sympathy is extended to her family in their sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barth, Katie and Kayla of Warroad, Mrs. Tom Oscarson, Jennifer and Amber of Red Lake Falls, were dinner guests Sunday at the Ray Barth home. Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Kaushagen of International Falls spent the weekend there and also David Barth and family and Andy Barth has spent several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Panek were visitors there Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Wold who were married August 21st, celebrated their 42nd wedding anniversary by enjoying dinner at the Best Western in Thief River Falls. Those who spent the afternoon at their home and helped Rueben and Lanore celebrate were their daughter Lynette of Grand Forks, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wold, Rick Wold and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Nyflot. An enjoyable afternoon was spent visiting and supper included anniversary cake and ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pruden and girls of St. Paul, came up a week ago to visit at the Leslie Nelson and Jean Nelson homes. Becky Pruden and Christina Dahlquist of St. Paul, spent the week visiting around. Darren Nelson who attended the Minnesota State Fair returned home with the Prudens.

Dinner guests Sunday, August 25th, at the Leslie Nelsons were the Larry Pruden family of St. Paul, John Sandberg of Middle River, Dale Barth, Brandi Hill, Dale Nelson and Jean Nelson.

Word was received by the Nelson's, that Jean Nelson's twin sister, June's husband, Harvey Odegaard had passed away rather suddenly. The funeral was held on Saturday at Camp Verde, AZ. Jean Nelson accompanied the Pruden's to St. Paul, from there she would take the plane. Understand Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nelson from International Falls would join her on the same plane. Raymond's wife, Dionne is a daughter of Harvey. Sympathy is extended to the family in their bereavement.

Ella Overum accompanied Mrs. Carl Berggren on an interesting ride out in the country Sunday afternoon to familiar places in the area where they used to live. Later they had coffee uptown. I really enjoyed the afternoon as I do not get out much anymore. I cannot gain my strength back again. I feel well otherwise, but am on so much medication to keep the fluid out of my heart and chest. Am thankful as long as I stay well enough to take care of myself and get around in the home. Manage to keep busy with hand work, so the time goes fast.

GRANDPARENTS MAY BE ONLY AS OLD AS THEY WANT TO BE

Our so-called senior citizens come in many varieties these days, depending on their age, the state of their health, their mental attitude, and most of all, their lifestyle. Today, many people continue working beyond what is considered the normal retirement age, because of economic necessity or simply because they enjoy the work. They may also engage in their favorite recreational activities. In any case, whether it be your parents, grandparents, or any older people within your orbit, it's important to treat them with kindness and respect, but not to make them feel any older than they want to feel. The Bible is filled with admonitions about honoring your elders, so attend your House of Worship and learn the importance of making them feel wanted and loved.

You are young at any age if you are planning for tomorrow

Washington Report

Sen. Dave Durenberger

Few issues in my 13 years in the U.S. Senate have provoked a stronger reaction from Minnesotans than the ongoing controversy over federal regulations that prohibit abortion counseling and referrals in Title X pregnancy prevention programs.

As you know, the U.S. Supreme Court recently upheld federal regulations — issued by the Department of HHS — in the Rust v. Sullivan decision. Congress has also been considering legislation to overturn these regulations. And, President Bush has promised to veto legislation proposed by Senator John Chafee (S.323) which would reverse the Rust decision and require pregnancy counseling in Title X clinics.

Numerous concerns have been expressed that the federal regulations impose a "gag rule" on physicians and other health care professionals, interfering with free speech and with physician-patient relationships, and threatening the health of pregnant women who enter Title X clinics.

On the other hand, thousands of Minnesotans have written to me in support of the Rust decision, urging that the historic role of Title X clinics not be broadened to include provision of abortion referral or counseling services.

As a strong supporter of Title — and because I have so much respect for the views and perspectives of health care professionals — I have tried very had to be response to the concerns raised by all sides in this debate.

Veteran Affairs begins service line

Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has inaugurated a special toll-free telephone help-line for veterans who were exposed to radiation during military service.

Current information on VA benefits and services, medical research related to radiation exposure and legislation, was well as assistance in filing or reopening disability compensation claims related to radiation exposure will be offered.

The toll-free number — 1-800-827-0365 — is available to veterans and family members weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Eastern time, and is staffed by counselors at the VA Regional Office and Insurance Center in Philadelphia. After-hours and weekend callers may leave a recorded message, which will be returned the following business day.

More than 200,000 veterans were potentially exposed to radiation as a result of atomic weapons testing between 1945 and 1962, as prisoners of war in Japan during World War II, or as members of occupation forces in Hiroshima and Nagasaki after World War II. Exposure also could have resulted from a variety of military occupations or from X-ray therapy.

This new information help-line supplements statewide toll-free service for information on VA benefits and programs at all VA regional offices. The Philadelphia Regional Office and Insurance Center also maintains a national toll-free number for information about government insurance policies. That number is 1-800-669-8477.

Impressions . . .

by Beth Johnson

Twice this summer I had the "privilege" of using the out-patient services of our local hospital. A couple of years ago, members of my family had this same privilege. What a difference the remodeling of the hospital has made to out-patient facilities!!!

Before, the out-patient rooms were in one of the older sections of the hospital. They looked old, but they served the purpose for out-patient needs.

Our newly remodeled out-patient facilities are truly an improvement over the old. They look new, not old. Looks are not the basis of good care, but looking new does help to ease the patient's fears a bit. The out-patient facilities are no longer on the 2nd floor, but are now housed on the 1st floor of the hospital. They are housed in a section that not only has the out-patient beds, but also has surgery and recovery rooms. To have the unit so nicely contained is a benefit for the patient as well as the care-givers.

The room I occupied both times I was a patient was neat, clean, a bit small, but private even though I shared it with another patient. The beds double as guerneys so that one no longer has to be transferred to a cart for transportation to the operating rooms or testing rooms. That is especially nice for those of us who are feeling rather groggy from medication.

To have the operating room and recovery room just a short ride down the hall from the patient's room is nice. It gives one the sense of serious professional care to have the section so self-contained. To have one's well-being taken seriously by even the set-up of the rooms does help to alleviate fears.

Needless to say, I remember little about the operating room facilities, or even the recovery room facilities. Suffice it to say, I had the feeling—in spite of being very groggy—that I was being tended to by professionals who knew what they were doing. That feeling of trust is an important aspect to any patient's well-being. Thank-you.

The facilities are not what makes a unit of a hospital work. They help, but they can only compliment the people who work in the units. I found—both times that I used the out-patient unit this summer—that those who worked there are truly gems.

To be treated well, even when one feels awful is wonderful. The nurses in out-patient have a knack for reaching through the grogginess of one's medicated mind and telling one exactly what should be expected, before and after surgery. They know how to do all of the little things to make one comfortable. They know that simple tasks become mountains which are difficult to attain—and they help one to accomplish these mountains. They even remain smiling when we patients are not smiling back.

Both times I was a patient this summer, the out-patient facility was being used by many of us. I assume this is because so many of our insurance companies encourage out-patient treatment whenever possible. A few years ago, most of us would have probably spent several days in the hospital. From experience, I can tell you that it took a few days of total rest at home before I even began to feel like myself again.

The wonders of modern day medical treatment gives us the ability to spend some of our recuperating time at home instead of in the hospital. Surgery which used to be totally invasive, now, through modern techniques is amazingly minutely invasive. To see video pictures of one's insides is in itself amazing. Because of these newly improved techniques we patients benefit. The surgery is still accomplished to make us well, but we need much less recuperating time. Out-patient facilities must meet the needs of these new methods of surgery. How nice it is to say that our Northwest Medical Center here in Thief River Falls does meet the needs of modern medicine.

The kind treatment by the care-givers in the out-patient unit extended beyond my few hours time with them. A few days after one is in the hospital, our hospital sees to it that a phone call is made to the patient to check on the patient's progress. I know that large city hospitals do not generally do this. How nice it was to feel that my care and my questions were important enough to generate a phone call from the hospital.

Thank-you to the hospital staff—doctors, nurses, and all others involved in patient care for the courteous, kind, and professional treatment I received from you this summer.

Look who's doubting Thomas
by Dr. Richard L. Lesher
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

It is truly astounding to hear so many otherwise sensible people expressing doubts about the character of Clarence Thomas, President Bush's nominee to the Supreme Court.

There was a time when any citizen of humble origins who pulled himself up by the boot straps was assumed to possess character. Indeed, the self-reliance required to contend with poverty and triumph over adversity is widely held to be key to the American dream.

It was no accident that almost every presidential candidate in the present century laid claim to being born in a log cabin (six of them actually were) or that modern politicians born to wealth feel obliged to prove themselves through honest work. There is a notion in this country that people should prove themselves by merit, and that anyone who does earns a place in the front ranks of society. Clarence Thomas latched onto that notion many years ago, and it has served him well.

Of course, Thomas is a special case. Not only was he born to severe deprivation, but he was born black in the deep south in the era of Jim Crow. Cynics who believe the American dream is a fraud, and that black people in particular have no chance in this society, cannot accept the reality of Thomas. They regard the phrase, "black conservative" to be a contradiction in terms, and look askance at Thomas as if he had just descended from a flying saucer.

As so often happens in Washington, there is less to this controversy than meets the eye. Thomas does not question the injustice of racism, or the debilitating impact it has had on black Americans. As Chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission for eight years, he aggressively enforced equal rights laws, securing more than $1 billion in relief for victims of discrimination.

However, Thomas recognizes that there is only so much government can do to rectify past injustice, and that sometimes the cure is worse than the disease. In particular, he rejects the quota mentality which contradicts the very notion of equal opportunity, and unfairly stigmatizes millions of people.

On a more fundamental level, Thomas challenges the politics of grievance and entitlement which has become a mainstay of the mainstream civil rights movement. He believes minorities will progress faster by relying upon traditional conservative virtues of hard work, thrift, honesty, moral behavior, and self-reliance. He exhorts black Americans to assert themselves, and take control of their own destiny. To the extent the civil rights establishment has a problem with Clarance Thomas, it may be the problem lies with the civil rights establishment.

Grasshoppers

"Prof. Otto Lugger, State Entomologist, will issue a report on the grasshopper situation very soon now, if it is not already out. From an advance review of the paper we learn that he believes there is great danger of an invasion from them next year, or rather that they will breed here in dangerous numbers unless steps are taken to check them. In Polk and this county the variety of hoppers present is one that seeks light or sandy soil more particularly for depositing their eggs, while in Kittson county a hopper is present that favors a heavy soil. This latter feature is one not generally known and should be well born in mind. The hoppers can be easily disposed of by taking care to plow every foot of land either this fall or next spring that is already broken. They will not breed on native prairie land."

Bernice has been cooking at the Gully Mall Cafe ever since it opened in the early 60's, with no time off. Enjoy your retirement Bernice.

Joy Socke of Detroit Lakes was Wednesday overnight guest of sister Heather. Thursday Heather, Joy and Andrea Lundeen accompanied by Helen Chervestad drove to Grand Forks on a business trip, and also motored Joy back to her home. In Detroit Lakes they all visited at the lake home of Carol's grandmother, on Floyd Lake, and went on a boat ride with Heather's father, Gerald.

Lincoln High School weight room supervisor Jeff Mumm (left) and Eagles Club president Godfred Svir announced that the Eagles had made a recent $1,000 donation toward the ever-expanding weight room project. Mumm, the Prowlers' head football coach, also gave public recognition to the Eagles for the purchase of practice jerseys for the football program this fall. Community donations and fund-raising efforts have turned the Thief River Falls weight room into one of the finest facilities in northern Minnesota, according to Mumm. The second-floor room, which also doubles as a wrestling practice area during the winter months, is used extensively by athletes, the general student body and the public through the Community Education Department.

Northland Community College football...

Pioneers open with MSU

Northland Community College will kick off its 1991 football season Thursday when the Pioneers meet the Moorhead State University junior varsity in a 7 p.m. nonconference game at Prowler Field.

Minnesota Community College Conference play starts next week when Northland will visit Itasca.

The Pioneers will dress 55-54 players for the opener, and Nelson expects all of them to play. "Our No. 1 goal is to win the game," he noted, "but we're going to try to look at a lot of people and see how they do in a game situation to get ready for the conference season."

Northland has returning personnel in some skill positions, but much of the Pioneers' success will be dependent upon their rebuilt offensive and defensive lines, pointed out Nelson. "We think our offensive backfield and receiving corps are in pretty good shape, and we've got some good kids at linebacker and in the defensive secondary," he explained. "The biggest question mark we have is in the offensively and defensively line. If we can get those kids to jell, we'll be okay."

Reggie Drummond (Miami, FL) returns at quarterback, where he alternated at the start of the 1990 season before taking over full time over the second half of his freshmen year. He completed 54 of 100 pass attempts for 714 yards, five touchdowns and seven interceptions.

Kevin Massiah (Miami) is back after leading the team in rushing a year ago when he netted 830 yards, averaging 4.0 per carry and 103.8 yards per game.

Dan Boushee (East Grand Forks) has been moved from quarterback, where to alternated with Drummond to start 1990, to a starting role as a defensive back. Boushee, center Greg Monson (Grygla) and free safety Walt Rozier (Miami) are the Pioneers' 1991 captains.

Drummond, Massiah, Boushee, Monson and Rozier will be in the line-up to start the opener, but the rest of the pieces are still being put in place, said Nelson.

Northland lost a 28-18 decision to Moorhead a year ago and finished the year at 4-4.

Nelson's 1991 coaching staff includes Terry Wiseth and Darrin Byklum, along with volunteer coaches Tony Wiseth and Bob Pieper, plus student coaches Terry Blocklanee, Chris McLean, Ron Ditsch and Jeremy Grandstrand.

The season opener will also be the annual Northland Pepsi Bowl, with the sponsoring Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Thief River Falls distributing free pop products to the fans at the gate. There will also be a pre-game brat feed sponsored by the Northland student senate and the Great Marble Hunt will be held at halftime in support of the Little Brother/Little Sister program.

Pioneers dedicate season to Berndt

The 1991 Northland Community College football team will dedicate the upcoming season to Craig Berndt, it was announced by Pioneers head coach Rick Nelson.

Berndt, a standout high school runningback for Grygla/Goodridge and a member of the 1990 Northland squad, was killed in a automobile accident this summer.

"The players, especially the returning sophomores, decided to dedicate the 1991 season in Craig's memory," said Nelson.

"Craig was a leader on the field and was well-liked," added Nelson. "He dedicated his life to football. Football was a very important part of his life. His presence will be missed."

Blue Devils collect 14-0 first game win

Grygla/Goodridge scored a pair of fourth quarter touchdowns Friday afternoon to snap a scoreless tie as the Eagles stopped Badger/Greenbush 14-0 in season-opening Top of the State Conference nine-man high school football at Grygla.

"Jeremy Engelstad scored on a quarterback sneak from one yard out midway through the final period to cap a drive and end the scoring drought, with Scott Rindahl later breaking a 33-yarder for an insurance touchdown.

Rest of the time it was a defensively struggle for both teams, reported Grygla/Goodridge coach Darwin Hagen. "We played pretty well defensively," he said. "We're satisfied for the first game. We've just got to execute a little better offensively."

Grygla/Goodridge will face Kittson County North Friday at 3:45 p.m. in Lancaster in Week No. 2. The Cougars handled East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 50-8 in first-week action.

Linebacker Justin Lunsetter led the Eagles' defensive efforts in the opener with 14 tackles and a pass interception that set up the second Grygla/Goodridge touchdown.

Lunsetter also had a 100-yard day on offense, netting 102 yards on 16 carries. Rindahl rushed for 62 yards on 12 attempts. Engelstad was 2-for-5 passing for 15 yards.

Argyle downed Valley North 44-7 and Tri-County got by Hallock/Kennedy 20-16 in other season-opening Top of the State Conference games, while Stephen shut out Pembina, ND 34-0 in a nonconference match-up.

In addition to the Eagles-Cougars game, Friday's Top of the State Conference draws will find Hallock/Kennedy playing Badger/Greenbush at Badger, Stephen vs. Sacred Heart at East Grand Forks and Argyle against Tri-County at Karlstod. Valley North will be idle.

High school football: Thief River Falls vs. Detroit Lakes

Prowlers host Lakers Friday

First game of the season is supposed to answer questions. But Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm said the Prowlers failed to come up with the right answers Thursday in a 16-6 Section 8A season-opening loss at the hands of Park Rapids. They will try to solve the problems by Friday when Detroit Lakes visits Prowler Field for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Thief River Falls turned in a solid first game first half, although they had to settle for just a 6-0 lead. The second half, however, belonged to Park Rapids.

"There are a lot of unanswered questions at this point," admitted Mumm. "It was just like we switched uniforms at halftime. We were real happy with the first half. Even though we didn't score a lot of points, we moved the ball well. But they (Panthers) came out ready to play in the second half, and we didn't. They took it to us in the second half."

Because of the second half problems, particularly up front, Mumm said some line-up changes may be in the works this week. "We're going to move some people around up front to find something that will work for us," he said. "We were disappointed with the loss. Park Rapids is not a bad football team, but it was a game we felt we should have won. We wanted to start with a bang, and we put a lot of pressure on ourselves to do well."

Detroit Lakes will also be looking for its first win Friday after dropping a 14-10 season-opening home field decision to Fergus Falls – a rematch of the 1990 Section 8A championship game won by the Lakers 10-8.

"Detroit Lakes will be tough," warned Mumm. "It's a typical Detroit Lakes team. They come straight at you and try to wear you down. We'll have to be ready to play four quarters, not just two."

Senior quarterback Kevin Pearson led Fergus Falls on a 9-play, 87-yard scoring march in the closing minutes of the Otters' four-point win over the Lakers. The winning march came after Detroit Lakes had driven 65 yards in 15 plays to tie the game 8-8 with 9:31 remaining.

Pearson went to Marc Beck for a 27-yard touchdown pass and a 14-8 lead with 57 seconds to play.

Moments later the Otters' Scott DeBrito intercepted a Jayson Soyring pass, and Pearson took a safety with 11 seconds left to make it a 14-10 game.

Soyring was 5-for-12 passing for 82 yards. Pearson was 6-for-12 for 61 yards. None of the backs on either side netted more than 67 yards.

Detroit Lakes doubled Thief River Falls 42-21 a year ago.

Season-openers are scheduled this week for the Thief River Falls junior varsity and freshman football teams. The junior varsity was scheduled to play a 5:15 p.m. game today (Tuesday) at East Grand Forks, with the freshmen hosting Crookston Thursday at 4:15 p.m. at Prowler Field – a game moved up from an original 5 p.m. start because of the Northland Community College vs. Moorhead State University junior varsity game at 7 that night at the same site.

Mustangs win 38-6

Red Lake County Central started the 1991 high school football season Friday night with a 38-6 nonconference nine-man win at Laporte.

The Mustangs turned a 16-0 halftime lead into a 30-0 third quarter cushion. A long pass interception return for a touchdown put Laporte on the board, but Shannon Willett of Red Lake County Central promptly returned the ensuing kickoff 65 yards for a touchdown to close out the scoring.

Jamie Hruby scored on 18 and 38 yard runs for the winners, while Eric Kolstoe ran for one score and connected with Jay Malwitz for another touchdown. Malwitz also scored on defense by tackling the Laporte punter in the end zone for a second quarter safety.

"I was pretty pleased with our defensive effort," reported Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brand. Kolstoe and Jacob Melby led the team with eight tackles each from their linebacker positions, while Bernie DeHate was credited with six stops at tackle, Ryan Bjerke and Malwitz were both in on 2 1/2 sacks each at the ends and Hruby came up with a fumble recovery and interception.

Offensively, Hruby was the top ground-gainer with 66 yards on eight carries, while Melby netted 34 yards on 12 tries as the Mustangs collected 152 yards on the ground. Kolstoe was 2-for-6 passing for 27 yards.

"I was happy with the fact we had just one turnover for an opener, but we had way too many penalties," mentioned Brand.

"Our special teams played an important role," Brand said, citing the punting of Malwitz, the kickoffs by Kolstoe and the returns by Willett.

Competition is expected to be tougher Friday when Red Lake County Central starts North Tri-County Conference play against Fisher/Climax, a 7 p.m. match-up at Climax. The Knights lost a 6-0 season-opening decision to Thompson, ND Saturday.

In other season-opening games for North Tri-County Conference teams, Norman County West beat Hillsboro, ND 34-18, Win-E-Mac got by Verndale 28-22 in overtime, Clearbrook/Gonvick out-scored Lake of the Woods 34-26 Red Lake shut out Chief Bug-O-Nay-Ge-Shig 50-0, Ulen-Hitterdahl fell to Pillager 35-14 and Kelliher/Northome lost to Nevis 30-11.

In addition to the Red Lake County Central vs. Fisher/Climax contest, Friday's North Tri-County Conference-counting openers will find Red Lake at Clearbrook/Gonvick, Norman County West at Kelliher/Northome and Ulen-Hitterdahl at Win-E-Mac.

Rebels looking for first football win Friday night

Beaten by Lake Park/Audubon 7-0 in a 1991 season-opening Valley Plains Conference match-up Thursday, Middle River/Marshall County Central will look for its first high school football win Friday when the Rebels take on Glyndon-Felton/Dilworth in a 7:30 p.m. nonconference game at Newfolden.

Only other game at Newfolden this fall will occur the following Friday, Sept. 13, vs. Warren. The Rebels two remaining "home games" will be played at Middle River – September 26 vs. Fertile-Beltrami and October 16 vs. Hawley.

In other first-week games for Valley Plains Conference teams last week, Waubun defeated Ada/Borup 33-13, Warren beat Norman County Season opens Thursday against Park Rapids...

TRF swimmers could be strong

Six seniors graduated off last year's squad, but 14 letter winners return for the Thief River Falls girls, who will open their 1991 high school swimming season Thursday with a 5 p.m. dual meet against Park Rapids at the Franklin Middle School pool.

"We've been looking really solid in practice," said Thief River Falls head coach Ryan Lokken. "We're doing more yards and our work-outs have be more intense. The kids should be stronger than they were last year. It should be a good year. We've got excellent depth."

Dimich and Wedul are the co-captains.

"We've got a well-rounded team," mentioned Lokken. "We're a little weaker in the strokes, but we'll be strong in the freestyle, and we should do well in diving with two seniors and three younger kids."

Rest of the squad includes freshmen Mandy Sjaaheim and Maja Turenne; eighth graders Ann Alger, Robin Bollesen, Lauren Lavalier, Kelly Newton, Myndy Olson, Bobbi Jo Teiken and Blache Valandra; along with seventh graders Gretchen Batalden, Kristin Chrzanowski, Becky Harger, Melanie Johnson, Kelly Martinson, Kelsy Stolborger and Jennifer Olin.

Top four Thief River Falls point-producers return from a year ago when Adams collected 450 points, Ulrich 300, Giauque 294 and Dimich 293.

Volleyball starts tonight

Thief River Falls opens its 1991 high school volleyball season tonight (Tuesday) by hosting Warren.

There will be C squad and junior varsity matches starting at 6 p.m. in the two gyms, with the varsity contest scheduled to get underway about 7:30.

The Prowlers took part in two preseason jamborees – in Thief River Falls last Wednesday and at Warren Friday.

Elsewhere tonight, Red Lake County Central visits East Grand Forks and Grygla/Goodridge meets Middle River at Grygla.

Thursday, Marshall County Central hosts Middle River, Grygla/Goodridge plays Badger/Greenbush at Goodridge and Red Lake County Central meets Fosston in Oklee.

Thief River Falls will be at Roseau and Red Lake County Central will be at the University of Minnesota-Crookston in Saturday invitationals.

Outdoor News

A checklist provided by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is designed to ensure smooth sailing for boat owners entering the uncharted waters of watercraft titling.

"Any new program can seem complicated at first," said Jane Brust, DNR License Bureau supervisor of watercraft titling. "That's why we're trying to draw boat owners attention to this list of common errors to avoid. Because a title provides legal proof of ownership, the application for title must be 100 percent accurate and complete before it can be processed and the title issued. Such precision protects boat owners when they sell their boats or in case of theft.

"We have already mailed out approximately 10,000 watercraft titles, and have received an additional 15,000 applications that we have yet to process," Brust said. "We've have found that nine of every 10 applications we receive are incomplete or incorrectly completed. With an observed error ration of 90 percent, approximately 13,500 of the 15,000 will be in error," she said. Brust offered these tips for correctly completing watercraft titling applications:

- Hull ID numbers are 12 characters long, and on most watercraft are found stamped into a metal plate near the rear of the boat. Because these lengthy numbers are commonly misread, the best way to get the correct hull ID on the title application is to carefully copy it directly from the board. Personal records, or information received from a previous owner may be inaccurate.
- When titling a boat that is already registered with the DNR, be sure to record the correct DNR registration number on the application. Those who own more than one boat should be especially careful not to confuse their registration numbers.
- Full names are required when applying for a watercraft title. Applicants should be sure to record their full middle names on the application, not just the middle initial.
- Watercraft title applications require full information about loans that have been made on the boat. There is a yes or a no box on the application to indicate whether there is a lien on the boat. In either case, it must be checked, and when the answer is yes, the lienholder's name, address and date of perfection of the lien must be listed on the application.
- A full description of the watercraft must be provided. This description must include the make, model, year, length, hull material, engine serial number (on inboards and inboard-outboards) and the hull ID number.

"When errors are found, we try to correct the information," Brust said. "Often we are unable to reach people by phone, and our next task is to write a letter requesting the correct information. At that point, the application is filed until we receive the information we need."

Boat owners whose applications are filed may experience a delay because a title can not be issued until the correct information is supplied, Brust said.

Many people store their boats miles from home, and the information that is in error is often found only on the boat itself. "The most common error that we encounter involves hull ID numbers," Brust said. "People logically assume that the information in their personal records, or the information they received from a previous owner, is correct. Many times it is not. The only way to be absolutely certain is to look at the boat itself, and carefully copy the information directly from it."

Even the hull ID information listed on some boat owner's DNR registration cards may be incorrect, according to Suellen Rau, DNR License Bureau supervisor of recreational vehicle registration. "Boat registrations differ from titles in that they are not legal proof of ownership," Rau said. "Although hull ID information is requested when registering a boat, that information has never been legally required for a registration. Because of this, it has always been our policy to simply accept whatever hull information is provided by the registrant. If we were given an incorrect hull ID on a registration application, that is the information that will show up on the registration card," Rau said.

"We are asking boat owners to be patient as they wait for their titles," Brust said. "Those who have yet to apply for a title should be careful and thorough when they do," she added. "They should treat this title with the same care you would an application for a title on your car or truck."

Watercraft title applications may be filed at the DNR License Bureau, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4026, or at any deputy registrar office.

Wheat Growers support bill

National Association of Wheat Growers has joined five other U.S. agricultural commodity organizations to support a comprehensive bill designed to improve food safety laws and introduced recently by Reps. Terry Bruce (D-Ill.), Thomas Bliley (R-Va.) and 19 co-sponsors.

In a joint statement, the organizations said the Bruce/Bliley measure streamlines the procedure for removing from the market pesticides proven to be unsafe and puts into place a mechanism based on sound scientific data for establishing allowable pesticide residues on food.

"The concepts included in the bill would help bolster consumer confidence in the American food and fiber supply, which is already the safest in the world," the groups said.

The Food Quality Protection Act (H.R. 3216) would establish a "negligible risk" standard which would ensure that the public is not exposed to unsafe levels of pesticides on foods. The bill also allows the government to consider human health benefits of pesticide use in establishing allowable residue levels.

"Responsible pest control makes possible the production of a wide variety of fresh fruits and vegetables and grain crops. The nutritional benefits of these wholesome products must be considered when making regulatory decisions about crop protection products," the commodity organizations said.

"This bill takes a very aggressive approach to limiting consumer exposure to pesticides, while ensuring an abundance of high quality food," the groups said.

The Bruce/Bliley Bill is being proposed as an alternative to legislation introduced by Rep. Henry Waxman (D-CA). The groups said the Waxman bill sets unnecessarily stringent restrictions on pesticide availability which would threaten the ability of farmers to control crop pests and dramatically decrease the availability of wholesome, affordable food products.

In addition to the NAWG, other organizations in the group include the American Soybean Association, National Barley Growers Association, National Corn Growers Association, National Cotton Council and U.S. Rice Producers Group.

State jobless rate in July

Minnesota's unemployment rate declined in July for the second successive month, which is more positive news for our economy," Commissioner R. Jane Brown of the Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training announced.

At 4.4 per cent the jobless figure was down 0.4 of a point from June and 0.5 below the July statistic of a year ago.

Although the decline in the rate is positive news, the drop in joblessness is seasonal, Brown explained. The average change from June to July was 0.6 of a point down on the average over the last 10 years. Furthermore, unemployment insurance claims, although down marginally in the last three months, still are running about 13 per cent above a year ago.

There are other signs of improvement in Minnesota's economy. The July unemployment rate continues a downward trend of 2.2 percentage points total since February of this year, when the rate reached a high of 6.6. And, according to department analysts, three indicators — retail sales, total hours worked in manufacturing and payroll employment — have showed gains since May.

Total employment in July was up 0.5 per cent from June and an even 3.0 per cent from July of 1990. Further increases in these indicators will confirm the trend toward economic recovery in Minnesota.

Specialists in arthritis

Physicians who specialize in arthritis will be available at specific times to answer state fair visitors' questions at the Arthritis Foundation booth in the state fair education building.

"Whenever I volunteer to answer questions at public events like fairs, I'm astounded at the lack of information about arthritis," one volunteer said. "Far too many people accept aching, stiff joints as a minor, inevitable and untreatable consequence of aging when in reality some of these people could have one of the serious, disabling and treatable diseases that affect the joints."

Physicians will be available at the booth August 25, noon to 2 p.m.; August 26, noon to 4 p.m.; August 28, noon to 4 p.m.; August 29, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; August 30, 2 to 4 p.m.; and September 1, 10 a.m. to noon.

THANK YOU

Recently, I was in a Fargo hospital for a major operation and I wish to use this space to personally recognize the many people who directly helped me make it through this ordeal.

The Vern Dokken family, because of their kindness, I was able to have my friend "Aussie" taken to Mpls. and put in a safe and loving environment while I was gone.

Thanks to all of the following for their prayers and support. Connie Bossman (Mpls.), Kathleen Munkelwitz Hicks (Isle, MN), Berthe Kenyon Larson (Mpls.), Kenneth VeVea (Mpls.), Gunda Pederson Larson (G.F.), Robert & Eunice Flynn (T.R.F.), Celia & Wally Ostrang (Oshkosh, WI), Elsie Harter Larson (Mpls.), Petra Nigl Larson (Oshkosh, WI), Marie VeVea Larson (Puyallup, WA), Darlene & Roger Dibeau (Puyallup, WA).

Special thanks to Iline & Nellie Sunsgaard (T.R.F.), for putting a smile on my face when I really needed it.

Last, but far from least, Paul B. & Dorothy Halvorson (T.R.F.), for seeing to it that I was given a safe and enjoyable trip home.

If I missed anyone it was not intentional. Without you all I would never be able to feel this good.

Sincerely, Kenton C. Hicks

Lanoga purchases 15 Lampert stores

James Bemis, CEO of Lampert Lumber Company, and Daryl Nagel, CEO of Lanoga Corporation, jointly announced recently an agreement whereby Lanoga will purchase the assets of 15 Lampert Home and Building Centers, subject to the approval of the Bankruptcy Court. Lampert has been operating under the protection of the court since filing Chapter 11 bankruptcy on June 20, 1991.

The 15 locations that Lanoga is purchasing are located in Minnesota in Alexandria, Fergus Falls, Grand Rapids, Hibbing, Mankato, Morris, Redwood Falls, St. Peter, Thief River Falls, Wadena, and Willmar; in South Dakota in Spearfish, Sturgis and Rapid City; and in Wahpeton, ND.

The stores will all become part of the United Building Centers (UBC) division of Lanoga. UBC, headed by Robert D. (Bob) Drumm, president, is headquartered in Winona, MN, and currently operates 97 similar stores in eight Midwest and Rocky Mountain states.

In two of the cities, Redwood Falls and Willmar, UBC presently has stores and intends to move its operations to the Lampert facilities there. In the other 13 cities, UBC is new to the market although it currently operates 35 stores in Minnesota, 13 in South Dakota, and five in North Dakota.

Bankruptcy court action is anticipated late in September. Assuming approval, a completion of the transaction is planned for early October.

Nagel said, "We are very pleased to have reached agreement with Lampert. For many years, these stores have been strong players in their respective markets. We look forward to the court approving this transaction which will allow us to operate UBC stores in these cities."

UBC anticipates hiring most of the current Lampert employee working at the stores to be acquired.

Lanoga Corporation is a privately held company based in Redmond, Washington that traces its roots back to a beginning as the Laird Norton Company in Winona, MN, in 1855. Martinez new CC counselor

Yolanda Martinez

A native of Texas who has spent most of her life in California is now filling the position of counselor at Northland Community college in Thief River Falls. The post was formerly held by Sverre Solheim who retired at the end of the 1990-91 school year.

The new counselor, who prefers to be called Yolie, moved to Clearbrook last October with her husband, daughter and son. Her husband, Kevin Hart, is a member of the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians and a self-employed artist who creates dolls in Ojibwa native costumes.

Their eight-year-old daughter is named Serena Kwey Hart and their two-and-one-half-year-old son is named Sonny Gabegeezhig Hart.

"Serena is Spanish for the word serene," Yolie explained, "and Kwey is Ojibwa for young woman. Gabegeezhig is Ojibwa for all day, making our son 'sunny all day.'"

Yolie holds a bachelor of science degree in psychology from California State University at Fullerton and a master of science degree in counseling from San Diego State University. Since last December she has worked as a coordinator for the transitional living program at Evergreen House, a non-profit

DTED Commissioner visits TRF businesses

Two issues confront the Minnesota Department of Trade and Economic Development, E. Peter Gillette Jr. just about everywhere he goes — unemployment compensation and commercial industrial taxes.

Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls and Gillette met with Thief River Falls area business and community leaders for dinner at the Best Western Inn Monday, September 9, to discuss the state's role in helping shape Minnesota's economic future.

Gillette went on tours of Arctco, Hydra-Mac and Digi-Key before the meeting. Gillette said they were three very interesting businesses. Gillette had also been in Bemidji Monday and he will be in Warroad Wednesday.

Gillette said as a banker in Minneapolis before he became commissioner, he though he knew Minnesota pretty well. Ever since he took office, he said he has spent a lot of time getting to know Minnesota by traveling to various communities. Gillette said he has gotten an over-riding sense that Minnesota is a good place to do business, however, there's a perception out there that Minnesota is also an expensive place to do business. During his visits the most common issues that have arise involve unemployment compensation and commercial industrial taxes.

Gillette said an unemployment compensation bill has to be passed. And, the perception that Minnesota is an expensive place to do business must be changed.

The purpose of the visit is also to seek advice and recommendation as the department of trade and economic development begin preparing for an economic development strategy for the state. Governor Arne Carlson and Gillette will be working closely with legislators, business and labor leaders, educators and other state agencies as they prepare to draw up an economic development strategy, a process that is expected to take about 18 months.

Gillette said they haven't settled on any specific goals yet. He said the plan will parallel the governor's Minnesota Milestones program. The overall strategy will give us a sense of "what we're like now", he said. "It will tell us what is important and where we want to be," he added.

Gillette was also interested to learn what was happening in Thief River Falls regarding the proposed gambling casino. Gillette said there are all kinds of economic development implications to gambling. "The department of trade and economic development will be attempting to get its arms around the issue," Gillette said.

Gillette also said his purpose for being in Thief River Falls and the other 49 communities he has or will visit this summer, is to figure out how to bring the department of trade and economic development to United Way of Thief River Falls will hold its annual fund-raising kick-off meeting on Monday, September 16. The kick-off is a prelude to the fund-raising efforts in the community which will raise money to benefit many local agencies. This year the board of directors have set a goal of $112,200. The board of directors recently held a meeting to finalize preparations for the fund-raising effort: (from left, front row) Kent Fritze, Denice Nelson, Judi Habedank, Rheda Wengeler, Bruce Gerdy; (back row) Chad Broadwell, Mary Anderson, Doris VeVea, Danica Robson, Sally Erickson, Bev Rupprecht, and Kyle Anderson.

City attorney looks at issues about gaming

City Attorney Paul Ihle is in the middle of negotiations with the Red Lake band of Chippewa officials regarding the proposed casino in Thief River Falls. Ihle said there just isn't much information out there.

In an interview last Friday, Ihle said the band has one of the few closed reservations in the United States. He didn't know how many closed reservations there are but pointed out that they are self-governing and are subject only to Federal law, not state law.

That raises all kinds of questions, Ihle said. For example, since they are a self-governing form of government, they will issue their own liquor license to the establishment if they want. Ihle said it is his understanding (and that of the media's) that the tribal chairman wanted to split the operation at the proposed site in Thief River Falls so that one side will serve alcohol and the other won't.

From his discussions with tribal leaders last week, Ihle said this group is very conservative. Even though they can issue their own liquor license, they haven't done so at their Warroad operation.

One of the many questions being asked is what is a "compact" and what legal importance does it have?

In 1987, the Supreme court ruled that Indian reservations are exempt from state and local gambling laws. The next year, President Ronald Regan signed a bill setting up a federal Indian gaming commission to regulate and monitor high stakes gambling. The Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (1988) creates a mechanism through which the several states and Indian tribal governments may allocate jurisdiction and control of gaming activity which occurs on their lands.

One of the tools volunteers will use this year is the 1991 campaign movie called "Something to Believe In." The eight-and-one half minute long movie stars Louis Gossett Jr. Any business, agency or organization can use the movie.

Another tool volunteers will use will come from the motivational speeches to be presented to volunteers Monday night by Marvel Anderson and Diedre Nordin. The two have been asked to present a special motivational presentation at the meeting.

Where money in the state budget goes

By Rep. Wally Sparby

The state budget often is a dominant topic when talk turns to politics. But despite the hours of discussion and the barrels of newspaper ink devoted to it, there is still a lot of confusion and misinformation among the public.

I hope to clear up some misconceptions and give you the real story on where your tax dollars are going (see accompanying chart).

Our $15.3 billion 1992-93 budget goes to 11 specific areas. They can be grouped into four general topics: Education, Property Tax Relief, Health & Human Services and Cost of Government. The chart reflects what the Legislature passed and the line-item vetoes made by the Governor, but does not include the $400 million Rainy Day Fund.

• Education is by far the largest slice, 47.1 per cent, and that reflects the priority we put on bringing up our children and training them for jobs and careers. Aid to K-12 schools represents $4.5 billion of the more than $A7.2 billion we spend on education; the university and technical colleges receive about $2.7 billion.

• Health & Human Services form the second-biggest piece of the pie at 21.9 per cent. But it's the fastest-growing, largely because of the exploding cost of health care, which now totals nearly $2.2 billion 14.3 per cent of the budget, three times the share it received 10 years ago. It pays for health clinics for the sick, for nursing home care for the elderly and for the Children's Health Plan.

The slice labelled "AFDC/GA/MSA" is what is commonly called welfare. Its 2.7 per cent share works out to about $415 million, up slightly owing to the economic recession.

The third slice, 4.9 per cent for prisons and state hospitals, has been stable. But if we begin keeping criminals in jail longer, it will inevitably climb above the $753 million now allocated. That is a choice we will have to make.

• Property Tax Relief forms the third major slice at 18 per cent, or about $2.8 billion. When you get your property tax bill, notice the lines for "State-Paid Relief" and "Homestead Credit." That money comes from the "Property Tax Aids & Credits" slice, which also covers the circuit breaker program, the renters credit and the special credit for increases of 10 per cent or more. Some $1.6 billion goes directly to individuals; the rest goes to cities and counties in aid programs.

• Cost of Government forms the final—and smallest —slice of the pie. Less than 13 cents out of every dollar, some $1.9 billion, is spent on state agencies, the Legislature and Constitutional offices, the courts and in paying off state bonds. This category pays the salaries of snowplow drivers, park rangers, game wardens and other such employees all over the state, so an even larger share of the tax dollar returns to the Minnesota economy. Some 90 cents of every dollar returns to local governments, to individuals or to institutions from Warroad to Winona to Worthington.

Because so much money goes to local governments and back to people, and because many institutions are located in Greater Minnesota, our area especially benefits from state spending. Every one of the 80 rural counties gets back more in aid, tax relief and departmental spending than residents pay in taxes. The metro area, the locomotive for the state's economic train, pulls the bud*get train as* well.

As always, I appreciate your comments on these or any other state issues. You can reach me by calling my office at the Capitol, at (612) 296-9918, or by writing to my Capitol office, 351 State Office Building, St. Paul, MN, 55155.

agency in Bemidji.

Although born in Texas, Yolie lived most of her first seven years in Mexico with her mother while her father was a migrant worker in the United States. The family moved to California when she was seven years old and she attended the public schools there.

Prior to coming to Clearbrook from California last October, Yolie worked for the county mental health department in Ventura on programs involved primarily with the public schools.

She previously had employment with the federal Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA), working with refugees of all ages from small children to older adults, providing assessment and evaluation of job skills and suitability for jobs or other placement. The refugees came from many different nations, she said, and had a wide variety of abilities and needs.

She also worked with a private non-profit organization in counseling of adolescent youth, primarily Hispanics, and in teaching parenting skills and recognition of cultural differences to parents of the youths.

"Often the young people would be frustrated and confused," she said, "because they received two sets of instructions. Their parents told them to be respectful and submissive to their elders and their resulting quiet behavior caused their teachers to be critical of their lack of participation and speaking up in class. Some of the parents were in total awe when they were able to meet for the first time with a school superintendent."

Yolie said she enjoys being in Minnesota and that she is looking forward to meeting and working with Northland students, especially those who have handicaps that are creating any difficulty for them.

TAD and TUP to meet Thursday

Tobacco/Alcohol/Drug and the Tobacco-Use Prevention (TAD and TUP) task force will meet Thursday, September 12, at 7 p.m. in the Newfolden Community center.

Main focus of the evening will be the assembly of manuals to be used by fifth grade school children from the area during a two-day workshop October 3-4.

The sixth grade workshop will be Thursday and Friday, September 19 and 20, at Camp Minne-Wa-Kan on Cass Lake.

Dear Readers,
Vivid dreams are not unusual following the death of a loved one. A woman who had recently lost her father in death tells that one night as she lay sleeping she could hear her father calling to her. "It was so real, and his voice loud and clear. He continued to call my name. Then suddenly, he was standing beside me! It was at that instant I awakened and realized it was only a dream - a very vivid dream." I buried my head in my pillow and cried because I missed him so."
Respectfully

City attorney in looks at gaming issues

talking about is an agreement between the state and the band. The agreement governs the licensing, regulation and operation of the games. It also provides the band with an opportunity to operate the games of chance in a way that will benefit the band economically, insure fair operation, and minimize the possibilities of corruption and infiltration by criminal influences.

Regulator standards in the compact with the Red Lake Band of Chippewa at Warroad include some of the following items: a minimum age for players, permission to inspect, defines non-complying video games, sets forth remedies for non-complying video games of chance, requires background investigations prior to employment, requires background investigation of employees during employment, provides licensing and discipline of employees, sets for the qualifications of lessors of video games of chance, sets forth technical standards for video games such as testing and approval, calls for reports of test result to be provided to the state, sets forth hardware requirements such as, electronic equipment, secure cabinets, secure cash compartments, records of credits and payouts, identification plates on machines, rules of play and possible winnings displayed, operation of telecommunications network and security tapes. The compact also calls for software requirements such as random testing, and correlation analysis. It also sets percent of return, such as a minimum of 80 per cent and not more than 95 per cent of the amount wagered on games not affected by player skill, and a minimum of 83 per cent and not more than 98 per cent on the amount wagered on video games that are affected by player skill. Each video game of chance must have a probability of obtaining the maximum payout which is greater than one in 17,000,000 for each play. The compact also sets forth accounting and auditing procedures.

For the compact to become effective, the Governor of the state must agree to the terms and the agreement must be ratified by the Secretary of the Interior. According to information provided to the media, the Governor requires that the city and county invite the band to operate the casino within the city limits.

Once the land is purchased does it remain in "Trust" forever? According to Ihle, it can remain in "Trust" or as property of the band, forever. However, Ihle said, the band is not interested in keeping the land without some right to sell the property. That means it could become private property in the future, if an agreement is reached.

Ihle said every time the band wishes to expand the gaming facility it must seek to have the property enrolled as "Trust" land, with the exception of property used for parking.

Ihle said the city will seek to define in an agreement with the band the many rights and responsibilities of the parties. One such issue is law enforcement. Ihle is still researching the issue, however, he hopes law enforcement officials will be given some authority over non-enrolled tribal members while on the premises. That means they will have to have some rights granted to allow them to enter the premises. He said they can be deputized now, but doesn't know if that option will work.

Ihle said from his discussions with band officials, they seem real conscious that they have to be a good neighbor. He said they have assured him that they want to do everything they can to be a good neighbor.

Four youths face charges

Four youths face charges following the theft of an ATV from Bruggeman's Used Machinery lot.

On September 2 at 7:02 p.m. Dave Bruggeman of Bruggeman's Used Machinery reported that a 1983 Honda three-wheeler, three chains and batteries were missing. The three wheeler had an estimated value of $650.

At about 2 a.m. Saturday, before the report was received, an officer stopped a person riding a three-wheeler for riding without headlights. After the report was received the police officer recalled the incident and provided information to Pennington county sheriff's department which was in charge of the investigation.

On September 3 at 8 p.m. the sheriff's department located the ATV in a stock pond in Smiley township. The tires had been flattened and the gas cap removed in an effort to sink the vehicle. The machine was considered a total loss.

As a result of the investigation, charges are pending against four individuals. Jeremey Lee Altendorf, 19, Thief River Falls, faces charges of theft over $500 and felony damage to property. Brian Douglas Johnson, 19, route 3, Thief River Falls, faces charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle and criminal damage to property, a felony. Jeremy Seglem, 19, Thief River Falls, faces a charge of aiding in theft over $500. Redeemer to dedicate new pipe organ

Redeemer Lutheran church will dedicate its newly-installed 16-rank Casavant pipe organ Sunday, September 15, with a special service at 4 p.m. Interested people from the community are invited to participate in the worship program.

Judy Sanders, organist at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd in Moorhead, will be organist for the dedicatory service which will include several hymns as well as selected organ pieces.

"For several years the members of Redeemer knew that their electronic organ, which had been purchased in 1966, was nearing its end," states Rev. Luther Anderson, pastor of Redeemer congregation.

An organ search committee was formed to study various options for replacement. After considerable study and evaluation, which included visits to surrounding congregations, the committee recommended to the congregation that a pipe organ be purchased. Initial costs would be higher, it was noted, but the committee was convinced that the investment would be wise, musically and financially, over the years.

Members of the congregation approved the committee's recommendation in April of 1990. One week later the church's existing organ "literally died," Rev. Anderson said.

Selected as the organ builder was Casavant Freres (Casavant Brothers) of Quebec, Canada, which has a long tradition as a builder of quality pipe organs. The new organ for Redeemer is number 3699 in the company's organ-building history.

Since April of 1990 the congregation has used a substitute organ, "eagerly awaiting notice from the Casavant company that the pipe organ's construction has been completed," Rev. Anderson said.

That notice came in early June, 1991. Soon afterward the truck carrying the new organ and its 812 pipes arrived. Following three weeks for installation, tuning and voicing, the organ was used for the first time on Sunday, July 14.

"Featuring a front wall installation which allows the sound to travel directly toward people in the sanctuary, this organ represents some of the finest qualities in craftsmanship and musical sound," Rev. Anderson added. "Redeemer's members are thrilled with the finished product, anticipating its contributions to worship leadership and accompaniment for many years to come."

An offering will be received at the Sunday afternoon dedication service which will be contributed to the arts in Thief River Falls. Following the dedication worship a reception will be hosted in the fellowship hall.

Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls will dedicate this newly-installed 16-rank pipe organ at a special worship service Sunday, September 15, at 4 p.m. in the church. Organist will be Judy Sanders of Moorhead.

The organ is number 3,699 built by Casavent Freres of Quebec, Canada. All persons interested are invited to participate in the special service.

Attorney General settles complaint

Attorney General Hubert Humphrey III has settled a major consumer protection investigation which requires Transohio Savings Bank to stop charging Minnesota Homeowers with late fees for mortgage payments that were paid on time, but posted late by the bank, failing to pay insurance premiums from consumers' escrow accounts on time and unnecessarily obtaining additional home hazard insurance for homeowners who already had adequate coverage. The Attorney General's investigation revealed that the bank was violating the state's deceptive business practices law. Transohio, a Cleveland, Ohio, mortgage company, services more than 6,800 Minnesota mortgages.

"Most Minnesotans work hard to bring home a pay check and pay the mortgage on time," Humphrey said. "They shouldn't have to worry about getting ripped-off with false late charges, unnecessary insurance coverage, and the unconscionable failure to apply escrow money toward essential insurance. This case should send a message to the mortgage industry that we will take aggressive action to stop these abuses against homeowners."

The Attorney General's investigation revealed that Transohio failed to pay hazard insurance on time for 1,275 mortgage loans. One hundred and thirty of the customers had their hazard insurance lapse because of the late premium payments. In 189 other cases, Transohio obtained additional hazard insurance for homeowners who already had insurance coverage.

The Assurance of Discontinuance filed in Ramsey County District Court requires Transohio Savings Bank to:

- Charge late fees only when payments truly arrive late rather than when simply posted as late by the company;
- Make timely payments of customer taxes and insurance from escrow accounts.
- Adopt safeguards to ensure homeowners are not required to pay for unnecessary insurance coverage;
- Establish a toll-free telephone number for customers to contact the company; and,
- Pay the State $55,440 for civil penalties, investigative and attorney costs, and toward a consumer education fund.

"It is a cruel irony that customers who paid their bills in a timely fashion were charged late fees by a company which itself was recklessly late in applying escrow money toward vitally important hazard insurance premiums," Humphrey said.

In March 1990, the Attorney General obtained a court order compelling the company to provide records on late fee practices. Transohio appealed to the Minnesota Court of Appeals to overturn the order, but the Court refused to hear the case. An Assurance of Discontinuance is a legally enforceable court order and is not an admission of wrongdoing.

Rep. Sparby takes part in mini-session

Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls participated in the House of Representatives' mini-session—a three-day series of committee hearings, town meetings and other forums—this week in the Brainerd area.

"Public opinions and suggestions expressed as previous mini-sessions have been transformed into laws during successive legislative sessions," Rep. Sparby said. "The message is definitely heard. We listen carefully to what people tell us should be our priorities and to their suggestions for solving the state's problems."

He said affordable rural health care was identified as a problem during several mini-sessions two years ago and this year the legislature passed the Health Care Access bill intended to provide more accessible care, bring more medical practitioners to rural areas and support small community hospitals.

"In mini-sessions in Alexandria and Worthington workers' compensation reform was cited as a major issue," he added. "In the last three years we've passed major workers' compensation reform packages.

"In a mini-session in Eveleth domestic abuse was identified as a priority issue. During the session that followed we passed several new laws related to domestic abuse crimes and greater protection for battered women.

"The same is true in the areas of environment, transportation, education, property tax relief and probably dozens of other issues," he said.

"We went to the mini-sessions, heard the concerns and then acted on them in later legislative sessions. Lawmaking does not take place in a vacuum. We respond to what people tell us are the important issues and problems in their lives and communities. That's what we consider to be the 'representative' part of our job description."

Regarding expense of the mini-session, Rep. Sparby said the expenditure is from internal House administrative funds that are already appropriated.

"It probably means fewer amenities for the House and our staff—less computer equipment or office furniture—but I believe it's a wise investment," he said.

MCCL chapter hosts region workshop

Central Marshall chapter of the Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life (MCCL) hosted the regional MCCL workshop August 20 in Newfolden. Guest speaker was Jackie Schwietz, state executive director and chief lobbyist for MCCL.

Dorothy Pederson and Marge Olson are co-chairs of the host chapter with Linda Rockstad as secretary and Harvey Dyrud as treasurer. Dyrud is from Newfolden and the others from Viking.

Regional coordinator Frances Crummy of Warren welcomed chapter leaders from Roseau, Marshall, Pennington and Red Lake counties. Rev. LeRoy Flickinger of Westaker church at Newfolden gave the invocation.

Schwietz told the group the MCCL's goal remains the reversal of the Supreme Court's Roe vs. Wade decision "which in effect," she said, "gave the nation abortion-on-demand through all nine months of pregnancy.

"We are poised for victory in the Supreme Court and that is no accident," Schwietz said. "It is the result of hard work. For 18 years we have identified and educated pro-life people and motivated them to get involved in the political process. Legal abortion came to us through the law. Lawmakers make laws. We elect lawmakers. The changed composition of the Supreme Court since 1973 is due to appointments by pro-life Presidents who were elected by pro-life voters."

She said there is no connection between the MCCL and the Lambs of Christ organization "although we share a common goal. MCCL's methods are very different. MCCL works through the system to change the system. All of our actions are entirely within the law."

Mary Jo Cooley, MCCL state organizational director, presented some of the newest educational materials available to chapters and gave suggestions for using them. She reviewed MCCL's four basic areas of action—education, membership, fund raising and citizen action. Chapter leaders present shared examples of successful projects they had directed in their areas.

A video entitled "A Window to the Womb" was shown, presenting the life of the unborn child through ultrasound. Next educational workshop by the MCCL will be conducted Saturday, September 7 at Highland school in Crookston.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Those Lambs

I think the Lambs of Christ are going too far. No matter whether I am for abortion or against it, I cannot help but feel these "Lambs" are making a mockery of the law and also of the people who truly believe that abortion is wrong.

The fact is, the law has decided that abortion is legal, whatever we may think of that fact. If we feel that abortion is wrong, we must take steps to change the law by working with our legislators. The tactics of the Lambs of Christ are having no effect on the law, whatsoever.

If anything, the Lambs are having the opposite effect. They are being so violent, so oggressive, obnoxious and offensive, that lawmakers are having second thoughts about taking stands that are opposed to abortion lest constituents think they are siding with radical groups like the Lambs.

The Lambs who are demonstrating in Fargo and Wichita are not citizens of those cities. They have come together from many different places for the express purpose of demonstration against abortion in whatever parts of the country they choose. They have no regard for the people in those cities, or for the law enforcement agencies there.

In fact, it appears that they could care less about the people who live and work in the cities they choose to plague with their presence. They appear to be tormenting and persecuting those people who come near the clinics where they are protesting, whether the people are at the clinic to seek an abortion or are there for some other reason, and they are rude and belligerent to policemen and others who are present there to merely keep law and order.

The Lambs are not "lamb-like_ at all. Watch them on television some time. You will see them screaming and shouting for all they are worth at the policemen and women, the officers who are simply standing there doing what they have been ordered to do by their superiors. You will see the Lambs shake their fists and placards at the officers. I wonder, could it be that many of these Lambs have been enticed into joining the group simply to be able to harass law enforcement people in public, besides getting some national television coverage while they do it? It certainly looks that way to me.

Speaking of national television coverage, I wonder if the Lambs would be quite so demonstrative if the cameras suddenly quit rolling. It appears that publicity is the name of the game where these people are concerned, and if there were no publicity, perhaps there would be no demonstrations.

The Lambs have turned peaceful protests into hysterical mob scenes. In order to thwart attempts of the police to arrest them, they mimic babies, utilizing tiny baby steps, or curl into fetal balls and turn themselves into dead weights when they are being lifted. They chain themselves together and to poles and fences. I understand that some of them even super-glued themselves to to a building. These tactics do not make for calm, peaceful, mature demonstrations.

Some of the Lambs like to imitate the screams and cries of babies in pain. This is going too far. Most of us are aware of the sounds that crying children make, and, as a mother, I can't think of anything that would make me more frantic and more angry than to have someone imitating that sound near me.

It is too bad that such a worthy cause as the right to life issue should have such misguided, immature representatives as the Lambs of Christ. They would win a lot more people to their cause if they would stop acting like a bunch of unruly hooligans.

Businesses must report

Any business that receives more than $10,000 in cash in a single transaction or in at least two related transactions must promptly report these payments to the Internal Revenue Service.

Form 8300 is used to report these payments to the IRS' computing center in Detroit, MI, within 15 days of the transaction. Information about cash-paying customers and clients reported on these forms is used by the IRS to investigate the money-laundering activities of people involved in drug trafficking and other illegal activity.

People in the real estate business, coin dealers, attorneys and retailers of such items as cars, trucks, boats, jewelry and furs are often affected by this reporting requirement. The business must obtain the customer's social security number and verify his or her identity by checking a driver's license, passport or similar document.

The IRS asks business people to report suspicious cash transactions which may be below the $10,000 threshold. The use of multiple money orders or cashiers' checks often indicates a suspicious transaction, the IRS says.

Cash purchases in which someone else represents the buyer, or when the buyer asks, for example, that an automobile be listed in the name of a friend or relative, should also be considered suspicious.

Form 8300 and Publication 1544, "Reporting Cash Payments of Over $10,000" can be obtained free from the IRS by calling toll-free 1-800-829-3676.

Rabbit judging team first at MN state fair

Intermediate rabbit judging team from Pennington county placed first and the senior team placed fifth at the 1991 Minnesota State fair rabbit judging contest Wednesday, August 21.

Members of the intermediate team were Kelly Martinsen and Jocelyn Helgeland of the Smiley 4-H club and Shelley and Sarah Koland of the Silverton 4-H club. Coaches were Sande Drevlow and Susie Koland.

Members of the senior team were Lesley Helgeland, Guy Drevlow and Shawn Martinsen of the Smiley 4-H club and Wayne Johnson of the New Solum 4-H club with Sande Drevlow as coach.

Nearly 60 young people from all over the state took part in this year's contest, according to Van Swanson, Pennington county extension agent for 4-H. They judged a total of six rabbit classes that were determined by the official judge.

This is the first year for 4-H rabbit judging competition at the state fair. The judging requires observation, evaluation, judgment and ability to express yourself and communicate with others, Swanson said. Judging the contest were Christine Panning of Belle Plaine and Gail Krall of Brooklyn Center.

Rabbit judging was one of many educational events at the state fair coordinated by the Minnesota Extension service and conducted by county extension agents and 4-H volunteers.

Members of the team in addition to Kelly were Lisa Reierson of New Solum and Ryan Swanson of Happy Acres. Coach was Christian Ochsendorf, summer assistant in the 4-H club program in Pennington county.

More than 140 young people from all over the state took part in this year's contest, according to Van Swanson, county extension agent for 4-H. BOOKMARKS

Those books are available at the Thief River Falls Public Library, 101 East First Street, Phone 681-4325

The TRF Public Library invites you to check out and enjoy the following new books:

"Southern Exposure" - by Linda Lightsey Rice: A psychological drama, this book focuses on a small town with secrets it would rather hide than discover a murderer within their midst.

"Yes, Married" - by Judith Viorst: This book is a comical, critical, always enjoyable view of the highs and lows of marriage.

"The Wood-Chopper Murder" - by Arthur Herzog: The disappearance of Helle Crafts would have gone unnoticed had it not been for a tenacious private investigator who led the police to a crime so bizarre and grisly, it is difficult to imagine it is not fictitious.

"Through a Window" - by Jane Goodall: Jane Goodall reveals 30 years of her work with chimpanzees on the shores of Lake Tanganyika. Labelled as perhaps the best book ever written about animal behavior, it is also a tremendous insight into human behavior.

"The Light Book" - by Jane W. Hyman: Medical writer Jane W. Hyman details the roles of sunlight and moonlight in setting body rhythms, which, in turn, affect every aspect of our health and well-being. For example, she notes that the winter blues are caused by light deprivation.

Goodridge fire dep't. to hold pancake feed

Goodridge Area Fire Department will hold its annual pancake feed and open house from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sunday, September 22, at the fire hall in Goodridge.

Pancakes, sausage, juice and coffee will be served and free will donations to support the fire department will be accepted.

"This will be an opportunity for residents of the department area to visit the fire hall and inspect the new fire truck we received early in June," stated Dale Hanson, fire chief.

The 1991 International diesel fire truck has a 3,000 gallon tank capacity and will be used by the department in fighting structure fires, Hanson said. He said the purchase price of $67,000 was made possible by use of some of the department's reserve funds, a $20,000 donation from the Goodridge Area Development Corporation, a $20,000 loan and several donations which the department plans to acknowledge publicly at a later date.

Hanson said the new truck's large tank capacity will be a major improvement for the department because the City of Goodridge has no water tower and only a relatively small pressure tank to serve the city's residences and businesses. The department now has five vehicles available for various fire fighting uses.

Local man injured

While watching target practice on September 1 at a shooting range in North township, Jerome Donald Hermanson, 26, was struck in the arm by a fragment.

According to a police spokesperson in Thief River Falls, Hermanson was standing behind and to the side of Carl Kvick, 26, Thief River Falls, while Kvick was shooting a .22 calibre revolver when he was struck by a fragment. Police could find no defect or damage to the gun and no casings were damaged. The sheriff's office said the wound was very small.

Impressions . . .

Do you remember the old song that went something like this?:

School days, School days,
Dear old golden rule days
Reading and writing n'rithmetic
Talk to the rule of the hickory stick.
You were my gal in calico.
I was your bashful barefoot beau.
I wrote on my slate...
I love you so.
When we were a couple of kids.

Every year as school was beginning once again, my father would sing this song to us kids. We would groan, and grin, and kindly put up with our father's way of wishing us well in school. Each time he sang this song, with a grin on his face and a twinkle in his eye, he instilled in us hope for another year of school.

What kind of hope can such a simple song instill in a child? One kind of hope is that song taught us was the hope of new knowledge. To learn how to read, to learn how to write, to learn how to add and subtract were real hopes for us school children. School was the place we were supposed to learn these. To imagine that school had been the place of instruction, even before paper and pencils were used, gave us a sense that this knowledge we were to learn was truly important. It had been important for generations and would continue to be important even after we had mastered reading and writing n'rithmetic.

Another kind of hope this song instilled was the promise of discipline. The hickory stick was the dreaded stick for disobedient behavior. To realize that discipline, kindness, justice, fair treatment, were to be important aspects of school helped us children to treat our teachers with respect as they too treated us with respect. With respect, education could flourish.

No education would be complete without the daydreaming that is done by all children about that cute boy or gorgeous girl in the next row! This simple song sang about love—first love. The hope that this first love could last a lifetime was a dream all of us could dream.

School has started for another year. My father no longer needs to sing me this simple song, for I am now done with my schooling. But, the song leaves me wondering what kind of hope I may or may not be instilling in my children. What kind of hope for this school year are you giving your children?

Are we showing them that one way to a happy life is knowledge? Are we letting our children realize that it is of extreme importance to learn how to read, and to write, and to do basic math? Are we letting them know that school is an important place for them to do their best? Do we send them off each morning with a sense of our confidence in them that they can do their best?

What about school discipline? Do we expect our children to respect others around them in school—teachers and students alike? Do we expect others to respect our children? Respect for one another causes education to flourish. We ought to practice the "old-fashioned" golden-rule. It truly never becomes out of fashion.

What about our children's friendships? Do we give them the confidence in themselves that they can choose the right friends: Do we guide them in the right daily paths so that we as parents can trust in their choice of friends as well? We can't expect our children to make lifetime choices if we haven't bothered to give them daily guidelines for living.

As school starts again, our children will probably be in the "new school year daze"—homework is still somewhat exciting, new books are still just waiting to be read, new crayons still smell good, friends are still being friendly. As the year rolls on we parents will need to continue encouraging our children to go about the business of being the best they can be.

If you asked me today who my teachers were and what subjects I learned in school, I couldn't give you a very detailed answer. But, I can still sing that song my father sang to us kids. The encouragement that a child receives from his home goes with him for many years after he has left his childhood. Encourage your child today. As an adult he will thank you for that special encouragement that only you can give him.

Thank you, Dad.

Northern State Bank Of Thief River Falls, MN Rated Five-Stars For Ten Consecutive Quarters has been awarded its five-star rating. This prestigious award identifies this institution as one of the safest, most creditworthy commercial banks in the United States.

The award is based on a zero to five-star rating assigned by BFR based on its analysis of the March 31, 1991 financial data as filed with federal regulators.

A five-star rating, for the safest commercial banks in the country, indicates that the bank's adjusted tangible capital exceeds 9.0% of tangible assets, its risk-based capital ratio exceeds 9.25%, delinquencies and repossessed assets are manageable, the institution is soundly invested and that it earned a profit or suffered an insignificant loss for the quarter ended March 31, 1991. Paul A. Bauer, President, said, "Although the total number of commercial banks nationwide decreased by 92 during the first quarter 1991, the total number of 5-star rated institutions increased by 4871 As expected, stronger banks are growing stronger and consequently safer."

"Our five-star rating", continued Mr. Bauer, "is primarily concerned with an institution's capital (net worth) - not its return on investment. Consequently, it is most often awarded to conservatively run, strongly capitalized, federally insured, community oriented commercial banks that concentrate on traditional business and consumer needs."

"Out of 12,250 commercial banks, reporting for the period ended March 31, 1991, 3,559 commercial banks, slightly over one out of four, 29.05%, received our five-star rating."

On Friday, August 21st, twenty-five Keenagers and friends attended the Western Minnesota Steam Threshers reunion at Rollag. They stopped at Gary Pines park for a coffee break on their way down. Clark receives honor

It is a little after-the-fact, but word was recently received by Northland Community College officials that the Pioneers' John Clark was awarded Minnesota Community College Conference academic all-state recognition last spring when the freshman from Waubun won the 1991 MCCC men's state golf tournament title.

Clark was one of 20 student-athletes awarded spring MCCC honors, presented to student-athletes who earn all-state recognition while maintaining at least a 2.5 grade-point average during their quarter of participation. The state title-winning performance at Edenbourough Golf Course in the Twin Cities produced all-state status for Clark.

A member of the 1990-91 Northland basketball team and active in other Northland activities, Clark maintained a 3.3 GPA through his freshman year.

Fullback Matt Kaushagen (25) was the lead blocker for halfback Marc Haugen (20) as Thief River Falls tried to turn the corner on the Detroit Lakes defense during Friday's Section 8A high school football game at Prowler Field. The first quarter pitchout netted Haugen 18 yards, but the Lakers won the game 24-14.

Lakers muscle past Prowlers 24-14

Optimistic as he was at the start of the year, Thief River Falls head coach Jeff Mumm nevertheless warned that the big, physical teams that predominate Section 8A high school football would give the Prowlers problems this fall. Two weeks into the 1991 season that concern has proved prophetic in back-to-back 10-point home field losses to Park Rapids and Detroit Lakes.

The Panthers wore down the Prowlers 16-6 in Week 1, and the Lakers out-muscled them 24-14 Friday night.

"We're just not blessed with a lot of physical size," offered Mumm. "We battled them. The kids tried hard. We can't take anything away from them. The effort was there. But they (Detroit Lakes) are bigger and stronger than we are. They're just a better football team."

It was a game performance by the Prowlers, who battled back from a 14-0 first half deficit to tie the defending Section 8A champion Lakers at 14-all early in the third quarter. But Thief River Falls could not stop a Detroit Lakes offense that finished with a 306-69 edge in offensive yards and wound up with a 17-5 advantage in first downs.

"That's a good football team," pointed out Mumm. "They have a legitimate shot at winning the section again. They're not rebuilding; they're just reloading."

Detroit Lakes showed its power on the Lakers' first possession of the night – a 13-play, 64-yard drive that led to a 5-yard touchdown run by Wade Whitworth on a fourth-and-goal call. A 33-yard burst off right tackle by Matt Carrier that took the ball to the Thief River Falls 16 was the big gainer on the drive. Eight plays later Whitworth dragged defenders across the goal line on a straight-ahead dive and Matt Horner made the first of his three conversion kicks for a 7-0 lead with 8:47 elapsed.

It became 14-0 with 3:36 left in the first half when Toby Kommer plowed through the middle from two yards out to finish off an eight-play, 47-yard touchdown drive. Whitworth had the big play on that march when he took an inside counter 21 yards to the Thief River Falls 10-yard line.

The two-touchdown lead was short-lived, however, when Jason Svir returned the ensuing kickoff 79 yards for a touchdown, breaking through the middle and out-running the kick coverage to reach the end zone just 12 seconds after Kommer had scored. The conversion was blocked, leaving it a 14-6 game.

A long kick-off by Tom Upham to start the second half helped set up the game-tying Thief River Falls score as he pinned the Lakers back at their own 10-yard line. Three plays later Svir came up with his second touchdown of the night as he intercepted a deep pass over the middle by Detroit Lakes quarterback Jason Soyring and returned it 28 yards for the score after snatching it out of the grasp of the Lakers' receiver.

A sweep right by Marc Haugen added the two-point conversion for the tie.

But Soyring came back to hook up with Whitworth on a 26-yard touchdown pass with 2:03 left in the third quarter to put the Lakers back on top 21-14. It was a short pass play to the left side, but Whitworth broke away from a sideline tackle at the 20 and sprinted into the end zone for the tie-breaking score.

A 35-yard pass interception return by Eric Gilbertson late in the third quarter set up a 25-yard Horner field goal with 8:46 remaining to finish the scoring.

A three-pronged Detroit Lakes running game that dominated play included a 14-carry, 100-yard night for Carrier, a 195-pound senior; a 12-carry, 93-yard effort by Whitworth, a 155-pound senior; and a 21-carry, 83-yard performance by Kommer, a 200-pound senior.

Soyring's only pass completion in five attempts went for the touchdown. Svir and Jeremy Olson were a combined 2-for-11 passing for 12 yards, and the Thief River Falls ground game netted only 57 yards, although Haugen, a 150-pound junior, finished with 68 yards on 10 carries.

Like the Park Rapids game, the Prowlers' backfield quickness was a constant threat, but usually wound up a block or a step away from a big gain. "We try to use our speed – it's there," explained Mumm. "We've got to break the long one. With our size up front, we're not going to grind out a 15-play scoring drive. We're one step away all the time from breaking that 60-70-yarder."

Both sides made mistakes. The Lakers fumbled five times, losing four of them; Soyring was intercepted twice; and they wound up with seven penalties (55 yards). But the Prowlers also had two interceptions and seven penalties (70 yards), while losing one of two fumbles.

Week 3 will produce a Thief River Falls vs. Staples match-up Friday at 8 p.m. at Prowler Field.

Thief River Falls fourth in volleyball invitational...

Prowlers 2-2 at Roseau

Thief River Falls wound up 2-2 and picked up the fourth place trophy Saturday at the Roseau Invitational high school volleyball tournament.

Host Roseau beat rival Warroad in the finals. Steinbach, Manitoba defeated Thief River Falls in the third place match.

In round-robin pool play, the Prowlers topped Badger/Greenbush 15-5, 15-9 and turned back Middle River 15-5, 5-15, 15-7 before dropping a 15-10, 15-0 decision to Warroad.

Steinbach outlasted Thief River Falls 15-12, 11-15, 17-15 in the third place match featuring the second place teams in the two round-robin pools.

The Prowlers, 2-3 overall, will face two North Sub-Section 8AA teams this week, hosting Detroit Lakes tonight (Tuesday) before driving to Bemidji Thursday.

An 11-0 start in Game 1 sparked Thief River Falls to a 15-5, 15-9 win over Badger/Greenbush.

The Prowlers also had a big head start in Game 2, but the Bulldogs managed to trim a 12-3 deficit to 12-7 before Thief River Falls closed it out on a shot by Nessa Anderson.

Back-to-back ace serves by Nessa Anderson, a spike by Kathy Kvick and a block by Kelly Skeim produced four straight momentum-building points to kick off the Prowlers' match-ending surge.

"After the second game loss, the girls came back strong to win Game 3," said Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson.

Mahnomen girls collect 3-2 dual win

What was scheduled to be a seven-point match turned into a five-point event Monday when Mahnomen showed up with just seven varsity players instead of ten, and the Indians used those numbers to pull out a 3-2 girls high school tennis win over Thief River Falls.

Mahnomen plays five-point matches as a Class A team, but the smaller schools go to the seven-point matches used in Class AA when they play the larger schools.

However, Mahnomen didn't comply this time. Technically, the Prowlers could have picked up forfeit wins at No. 4 singles and No. 3 doubles and won the match 4-3. But Thief River Falls coach Jay Forney did not exercise that ill will-creating option, and the Prowlers surrendered their second dual meet decision in as many starts this fall.

Both Thief River Falls winners against Mahnomen came in doubles – Tarik Koivisto and Sara Tweet at No. 1; Carly Dee and Jami Dehnert at No. 2.

"Unforced errors, concentration and mental toughness," said Forney. "We have to work on all three areas. At times they showed signs of concentration and mental toughness, but we had a whole lot of unforced errors. They're all playing much better than they did two weeks ago, but it's still a one-match-at-a-time situation for us."

Nordics to stage MCC Invitational

The host Nordics will meet Argyle at 10 a.m. in the first round of the Marshall County Central Invitational high school volleyball tournament Saturday.

Play starts at 9 a.m. when Badger/Greenbush plays Grygla/Goodridge, with Middle River meeting Stephen at 11 a.m. and East Grand Forks Sacred Heart going against Lake of the Woods at 12 to round out the first round quarterfinals.

The tournament continues throughout the day. The finals include the third place match at 5 p.m., consolation championship at 6 and title match at 7.

Marshall County Central opened its 1991 season Thursday with a 15-8, 15-5, 15-17, 15-11 victory over Middle River at Newfolden.

"For the first time out, they performed pretty well," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson, who has just one player with extensive varsity experience on hand this year – senior hitter Kim Davidson. "We've got a lot of young, inexperienced people out there. We have a lot of role players, and we're still trying to fit the pieces together. It may take a while."

Senior Karen Ness turned in a solid first-match performance, said Jorgenson, with her serving and setting efforts.

Bemidji Relays title belongs to Brainerd team

Brainerd out-pointed a seven-team field to win the Bemidji Relays girls high school swim meet Saturday.

The Warriors finished with 390 points, followed by Hibbing with 370, Bemidji 304, Detroit Lakes 214, Park Rapids 156, Thief River Falls 114 and Crookston 36.

It was the second outing of the 1991 season for the Ryan Lokken-coached Prowlers, who will host Bemidji in a 5 p.m. dual meet Thursday at the Franklin Middle School pool.

NCC starts 1991 MCCC schedule

Minnesota Community College Conference play starts Saturday for the Northland Community College football team when the Pioneers take on Itasca in a 1:30 p.m. game at Grand Rapids.

Northland opened the 1991 season Thursday, losing a 28-7 nonconference match-up with the Moorhead State University junior varsity at Prowler Field.

The Dragons controlled play, particularly in the first half, en route to a 20-9 advantage in first downs and a 430-216 edge in total yards.

Most of the Moorhead damage was done before intermission as the Dragons built a 20-0 lead.

"We were very disorganized and we didn't play very well as a unit in the first half," admitted Northland coach Rick Nelson. "But we were very pleased on both sides of the football in the second half. From the first play to the last play we made some definite improvement."

Northland lost the service of fullback Sylvester Davis, a promising freshman from Tallahassee, FL, to a broken leg in the first quarter of the opener. "We're concerned about our depth in the offensive backfield," acknowledged Nelson.

In other Northwest-Northeast Division MCCC openers Saturday, Hibbing will be at Brainerd, Vermilion visits the University of Minnesota-Crookston and Fergus Falls will be at Mesabi. Inter-division games are worth 1/2-point in the Minnesota Community College Conference divisional standings.

Other Week 1 season-opening nonconference results found Itasca beating the Bethel junior varsity 21-14, UMC knocked off the Bemidji State junior varsity 15-7, Vermilion defeated North Dakota State School of Science 34-24, Mesabi downed the Mt. Scenario junior varsity 30-10 and Hibbing clobbered St. Paul Bible College 81-6.

Prowlers host Staples Friday

Staples will bring a 1-1 record to Thief River Falls Friday for an 8 p.m. Section 8A high school football game at Prowler Field.

The 1989 Section 8A champion Cardinals opened the 1991 season with a 25-22 overtime win against Little Falls before dropping a 24-6 Saturday decision to East Grand Forks, ending a 10-game Green Wave losing streak and dropping Staples from the No. 3 spot in last week's Class A state rankings.

Northland volleyball starts Friday

Northland Community College will open its 1991 volleyball season Friday with a 6 p.m. match against Rainy River in Thief River Falls.

The Pioneers will take off the next morning for the annual Minnesota Community College Conference Northwest/Northeast Division Invitational at the University of Minnesota-Crookston. The tournament gets underway at 10 a.m.

Long-time Northland coach Deb Jacobson returns to direct the volleyball program this fall following a one-year sabbatical. Sue Barnd, the Pioneers' women's basketball and softball coach, had the volleyball team in Jacobson's absence. It was a long fall for Barnd and the Pioneers, who failed to win a match in 29 starts.

Two players return from that team – Nikki Anderson, Grygla; and Gina Peterson, Newfolden.

This year's newcomers include Maria Ditch, Janlee Helm, Jodi Chaplinski and Tonya Aamodt, Roseau; Rhonda Smsky, Goodridge; Jill Brantl and Tori Hughes, Plummer; Alice Dunning and Cheri Bjorgaard, Thief River Falls; Leigh Anderson, Fosston; and Jessica Brayton, Minnehaha Academy.

"I'm glad to be back," offered Jacobson. "We've got some players, but we're still trying to figure out where they all fit in."

TRF girls compete in Lake Hubert Invitational...

Tennis team fields young line-up

A young Thief River Falls girls high school tennis team found points hard to come by at the 1991 Lake Hubert Invitational Friday and Saturday near Brainerd.

Woodbury won the event with 30 points, followed by White Bear Lake with 25, Brainerd and Blaine 21 each, Thief River Falls 7 and Columbia Heights 1.

In singles, the youthful Prowlers had freshman Jami Fremstad, eighth grader Anne Padilla, seventh grader Tiffany Brouse and eighth grader Shari Evenson at 1-through-4, respectively.

Only seniors in the Thief River Falls line-up – Tarik Koivisto and Sara Tweet – were together at No. 1 doubles. Sophomores Carly Dee and Jami Dehnert played No. 2 doubles, while sophomore Jennifer Duncan and eighth grader Kumi Twomey were used at No. 3 doubles.

Dee and Dehnert were the only Prowlers to win two matches.

Still, Thief River Falls head coach Jay Forney said it was a productive weekend for the Prowlers. "It was a great learning experience - a key to improving their level of play," he said. "And the weekend at camp was really great for the girls to get to know each other and build team unity."

Woodbury and White Bear Lake both had three Lake Hubert Invitational champions, with Blaine picking up one title.

White Bear Lake champions were junior Katie Hole at No. 1 singles, senior Lynelle Johnson at No. 2 singles, plus sophomores Christa Burtnecht and Susan Schultz at No. 3 doubles.

Freshman Sonya Skogerboe of Blaine was a winner at No. 4 singles.

Thief River Falls was scheduled to be in Crookston today (Tuesday) for a double-dual against the Pirates and Moorhead. The Prowlers will be at Roseau Friday for a 4 p.m. dual.

RLCC 1-2 at UMC meet

Red Lake County struggled through a 1-2 appearance Saturday at the University of Minnesota-Crookston Invitational high school volleyball tournament.

"We just didn't play very well," reported Red Lake County Central coach Brad Borene, whose team sandwiched a win over Fisher between losses to Crookston and East Grand Forks. "We had a few good moments, but we were flat all day. We just weren't ready to go."

Crookston stopped Red Lake County Central 15-11, 15-7 in first round quarterfinal play. The Mustangs came back to beat Fisher 15-5, 15-4 in the consolation semifinals, but East Grand Forks was a 15-9, 9-15, 15-2 winner over the Oklee/Plummer cooperative in the consolation finals.

Valley North defeated host Crookston 2-0 in the title match.

Red Lake County Central, 2-3 in a busy first week of the 1991 season, was scheduled to meet East Grand Forks Sacred Heart tonight (Tuesday) in Plummer before taking on Climax Thursday at Oklee.

Blue Devils look to rebound

Grygla/Goodridge will try to bounce back from a 24-0 loss at the hands of Kittson County North Friday when the Blue Devils take on Hallock/Kennedy in a 7:30 p.m. Top of the State Conference high school football game at Goodridge.

"We just got out-played," said Grygla/Goodridge coach Darwin Hagen after the unexpected four-touchdown margin at Lancaster Friday afternoon. "They (Cougars) executed real well on offense and stuck it to us on defense. We just didn't have it."

Kittson County North scored single touchdowns in each quarter; failing to pick up the conversion points on each attempt.

Grygla/Goodridge, a 14-0 winner over Badger/Greenbush in the 1991 season opener, did not mount a serious scoring threat in Week 2, finishing the day with 127 yards on 39 rushing attempts. The Blue Devils were 0-for-6 in the passing department.

Scott Rindahl, a 175-pound junior, led Grygla/Goodridge offensively with 58 yards on 18 carries. Justin Lunsetter, a 170-pound senior, was in on 20 tackles to lead the Blue Devils' defense.

Several Grygla/Goodridge players who missed the first two games because of off-season rules infractions, will make their 1991 debuts Friday against Hallock/Kennedy.

"We want to do well this week," noted Hagen. "It's important to come back after getting beat like that."

Hallock/Kennedy went to 1-1 Friday with a 39-19 win over Badger/Greenbush.

Stephen handled East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 44-14 and Argyle got by Tri-County 28-20 to round out last week's Top of the State Conference results.

In addition to the Grygla/Goodridge vs. Hallock/Kennedy match-up, Friday's conference schedule will find Kittson County North (2-0) at Stephen (2-0), Badger/Greenbush (0-2) at Argyle (2-0) and Sacred Heart (0-2) vs. Valley North (0-1) at Oslo.

Early success was achieved by this group of moose hunters last Wednesday, September 4. The hunters had licenses for the regular moose season in Zone 8 but were invited to hunt early due to damage being caused by moose in the Bortyt Pederson corn field between Viking and Newfolden. When this bull moose was shot as it left the field, there were still five other moose visible in the field. Other early permits were also given to hunters who had been drawn for licenses and were able to hunt earlier than planned. Members of this hunting party were (left to right) Dennis Zulewski, Dean Lawrenz, Ward Brink and Greg Harris. The antlers measured 40 inches and were still in velvet.

Mustangs lose to Knights 20-6

Red Lake County Central fell to 1-1 Friday when the Mustangs dropped a 20-6 North Tri-County Conference nine-man high school football game to Fisher/Climax at Climax.

The Knights grabbed a 12-0 first quarter lead, then watched the Mustangs cut that spread in half before tacking on a final-period insurance touchdown.

Red Lake County Central opened the 1991 season the week before with a 38-6 nonconference win at Laporte. The Mustangs will be on the road again Friday with a 3:30 North Tri-County Conference matinee match-up against Ulen-Hitterdal at Ulen.

A 42-yard Mike Stratton breakaway touchdown run and a 3-yard Stratton score after a Fisher/Climax fumble recovery deep in Red Lake County Central territory, provided the Knights with the 12-point head start.

Eric Kolstoe scored on a 1-yard second quarter run to tighten things, and it stayed close until a pass interception set up a one-yard Jarrod Midboe fourth quarter touchdown to rebuilt the two-touchdown Knights cushion.

"Defensively we played pretty well," said Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brantl. "Offensively we sputtered, but we did show some improvement over last week. Their (Knights) line and linebackers controlled things. It was difficult to move against them."

Red Lake County Central rushed for 124 yards on 43 attempts, with Jacob Melby netting 71 yards on 20 carries and Kolstoe finishing with 46 yards on 19 tries. Kolstoe was also 10-for-22 passing for 70 yards. Jay Malwitz and Jamie Hruby both caught three passes for 28 and 33 yards, respectively.

Kolstoe was also busy on defense, where he was in on 16 tackles, recovered a fumble and had a pass interception at linebacker. Ryan Bjerklie was credited with 11 tackles, while Melby had 10, Hruby 9, Bernie DeHate 8 and Adam Lundeen 7.

Rebels drop to 0-2

Dilworth/Glyndon-Felton broke off a 66-yard touchdown run on its first play from scrimmage Friday en route to a 30-0 high school football win over Middle River/Marshall County Central at Newfolden.

The first-carry touchdown by Dylan Olson and a 10-yard Joe Schrieber touchdown pass to Craig Rehder gave the first-year Dilworth/Glyndon-Felton cooperative a 14-0 first quarter lead.

It became 20-0 at halftime when Schrieber turned a second-and-25 situation into a 40-yard touchdown run.

A 2-yard Brandon Soukup touchdown run in the third quarter and a 21-yard Rehder fourth quarter field goal completed the scoring.

The loss dropped Middle River/Marshall County Central to 0-2. The second-year Rebels, beaten by Lake Park/Audubon a week earlier, are still looking for the first win as a cooperative program.

State Park Budgets

Though some services and amenities may be limited, Minnesotans will be able to camp at all state parks this fall, the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) announced. By making cuts in administration and some areas of support services, parks staff has worked to minimize the public impact of its budget shortfall.

"Even with our shortfall, all parks will be open," said Kathleen Wallace, assistant director for Minnesota State Parks. "The public impact will vary among user groups. Our 66 state parks are spread throughout the state and are visited by nearly 8 million people each year, so any changes we make are going to affect someone," Wallace said.

Annually, camping activity decreases significantly after Labor Day and before Memorial Day, Wallace said. Because of that decrease, the number of sites in some parks will be limited, but it is expected that the available spaces will meet the normal fall through spring demand. Some flush toilet facilities and showers will be closing earlier this year and/or opening later in the spring. Reduced hours in park offices will mean that more campers will have to self-register as they enter the parks. During the winter, snowmobile and cross country ski trails will continue to be maintained, but the number of miles groomed and the frequency of grooming will be limited.

"Minnesota has one of the best state park systems in the country," said Wallace, "and everyone in the state is justifiably proud of what we have. Sate park staff will continue to work and provide a high-quality experience. While we have been able to minimize the public impact of this shortfall, there will be some differences from past years. In this time of tight budgets, we need the understanding and support of the public, and especially park visitors."

Staples is 1-1

River Falls 24-6 a year ago and edged the Prowlers 14-6 in 1989 when the series was resumed after a seven-year hiatus. The two teams did meet in the first round of the 1986 Section 8A playoffs, with the Cardinals winning 24-9.

The game against Staples will close out a three-game season-opening home stand for the Prowlers, who will be on the road for the first time this fall September 20 with a trip to Belcourt, ND.

Only other 1991 Thief River Falls home game will be a Friday, Oct. 4, homecoming contest vs. Morris.

In addition to Belcourt, the Prowlers will be on the road Friday, Sept. 27, at Crookston; Friday, Oct. 11, at Fergus Falls; and Wednesday, Oct. 16, at East Grand Forks.

TRF fourth at Roseau meet

"It was back-and-forth in the first game – it could have gone either way," noted Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "In the second game, we could not receive the serve. The more points they got, the worse it was for us."

TRF last-touch points – Kelly Skeim 3, Ali Peterson 3, Nessa Anderson 2, Kathy Kvick 1, Toni Chiodo 1.
Service points - Ali Peterson 5, Kelly Skeim 2, Nessa Anderson 2, Toni Chiodo 1.

Steinbach	2
Thief River Falls	1

Although Thief River Falls ended the day-long affair with a loss, the 15-12, 11-15, 17-15 Steinbach third place win nevertheless brought out the Prowlers' best volleyball of the still-young 1991 season.

"This was the best we have played so far," said Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "The girls played with a lot of enthusiasm."

Game 1 was deadlocked at 12-12 before Steinbach closed it with three straight points on a pair of Thief River Falls errors and a close judgement call by the officials.

An ace by Jamie Martell pulled Thief River Falls into a 10-10 tie in Game 2 before a series of mistakes by Steinbach evened the match at 1-1.

Steinbach was ready to close it out with a 14-11 lead in Game 3 before Thief River Falls rallied and went ahead on a tip by Martell and an ace by LuAnne Maslowski. But Steinbach capitalized on a couple of Thief River Falls mistakes at the end to win the extended contest 17-15.

"We still have things we need to work on, especially blocking, covering and serve reception," acknowledged Anderson, "but all the girls played, and we were able to play different girls in different positions. It's great when you can play that many games – the girls get that much more experience, and we really need that."

TRF last-touch points – Jamie Martell 12, Kelly Skeim 9, Nessa Anderson 0, Toni Chiodo 7, LuAnne Maslowski 4, Kathy Kvick 1, Amy Erikson 1.

backs, but other than that, I didn't think we played that bad," said Middle River/Marshall County Central coach Eldon Sparby. "We felt we played better than we did last week. They're just a better team than we are. We played well defensively, but they ran the option play well on those two long runs."

The Rebels finished with just 115 yards worth of offense – 105 on the ground – and six first downs. "We knew we would have a tough time scoring against them," admitted Sparby.

Dilworth/Glyndon-Felton rushed for 230 yards and added 26 yards passing. Olson, after that 66-yarder to start things, wound up with 140 yards out of the tailback position.

Nose guard Dan Kochmstedt had a "super night," said Sparby with 41 defensive points, including 15 assisted tackles and five solo stops. Linebacker David Blazek was credited with 12 assisted tackles and three unassisted stops.

Another tough assignment awaits Middle River/Marshall County Central Friday when the Rebels take on Warren at Newfolden.

State responds to inquiries about NW Airlines

by Peter Gillette Jr.
MN Dept. Trade and Economic Development

Over the past several weeks, there have been a number of inquiries about the status of the Northwest Airline proposal. The Governor has suggested I provide you with a current update and address several questions that have been raised about the process.

As you are aware, there are significant realignments taking place within the domestic airline industry that will have serious ramifications for Northwest. With over 17,000 employees in Minnesota producing the largest payroll in the state, we all have stake in the impact of these industry developments on NWA.

Currently extensive negotiations with Northwest are being conducted by the State and the Metropolitan Airports Commission. Concurrently, independent financial and aviation experts hired by MAC and the State are undertaking careful, thorough "due diligence" to ascertain the financial condition of the airline, its affiliates and parents. When, as, and if there is a financial agreement concluded, the terms of both the MAC and State proposals will be reviewed by a legislative commission made up of 18 members from the House and Senate. Their recommendations will be forwarded to the Governor and to the 15 member airports commission for final action, hopefully by early fall.

Let me try to clarify some points that have been raised from public discussion:

1) NWA has not made any requests to the State Pension Board for any funding considerations whatsoever.

2) The state will not extend any funds directly to NWA. Financing for the Duluth/Hibbing maintenance facilities will be raised through publicly underwritten revenue bonds to be repaid from lease payments by the airline. Additionally, the city of Duluth and IRRRB will provide some direct repayment subsidies

Plummer man arrested after fight with sheriff

Red Lake County Sheriff's department charged Palmer Oliver Soderlund of Plummer with obstructing legal process after an altercation with Red Lake County Sheriff Al Morken on Wednesday.

According to a spokesperson with the Red Lake County Sheriff's department, Sheriff Al Morken was serving a court order on Soderlund, 45, Plummer, at his residence when an altercation between Morken and Soderlund happened. There were no injuries in the altercation. Soderlund was taken into custody and transported to the Regional Correctional facility in Crookston.

Soderlund appeared before Ninth District Judge Russell Anderson on Thursday. Soderlund was charged with obstruction of legal process and released on his own personal recognizance on the condition he not return to the residence.

MPCA removes detergent from consumer shelves

Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA), Wisconsin-based distributor Gateway Foods, Inc., and detergent manufacturer Procter and Gamble, are urging consumers to check their laundry rooms for boxes of Ultra Tide containing more than 0.5 per cent phosphorus, the legal limit.

The Minneapolis division of Gateway notified the MPCA on August 9 that boxes of scented and unscented Ultra Tide containing too much phosphorous had been discovered in a Twin Cities warehouse. The detergent has probably been for sale in Minnesota stores since early May, when Procter and Gamble introduced the new formula. Preliminary investigation revealed that when the old formulation of Tide was being removed to make room for Ultra Tide, the high phosphorus content of the new product was not detected, according to Gateway Foods.

"Minnesota law just couldn't be more clear — laundry detergent must not contain more than 0.5 per cent phosphorous," said Chuck Williams, MPCA Commissioner. "Consumers who use this higher phosphorus Ultra Tide are unknowingly polluting the environment. Along with Gateway Foods and Procter and Gamble, we're urging folks who may have bought his illegal product to return it to the store for a refund or a replacement."

Gateway Foods, Inc., was one of six food product distributors and chain stores found to be distributing high-phosphorus detergents in August 1990. On June 25, 1991, the MPCA Citizens Board approved agreements with all six, requiring penalties for the past violations and initiating systems to avoid this problem in the future. The agreements a required the companies to check the phosphorus content of all detergents received for distribution effective June 25, 1991.

Phosphorus is a chemical that acts as a fertilizer to increase algae and weed growth in lakes, rivers and streams. It enters the waters when it is discharged from wastewater treatment plants. Since 1976, Minnesota law has restricted the phosphorus content of laundry detergents, automatic dishwater detergents (11 per cent phosphorus by weight) and water conditioners (20 per cent phosphorus). Studies conducted by the MPCA after the ban went into effect show a 40 per cent reduction in the amount of phosphorus going into treatment plants.

THE FREEDOM THAT OUR LAWS ENSURE MUST BE PROTECTED

We are fortunate that, due to the wisdom of our founding fathers, we live under the protection of a set of laws that safeguard our freedom; where each level of government has its powers and limitations clearly defined. However, we must never forget that freedom is a fragile thing; often under attack from within as well as from without, by those whose misguided beliefs would make use of its very provisions to destroy it. Throughout our history we have all too frequently had to defend our principles of liberty and democracy on the various battlefields of the world, and there seems to be no end to the process. Let us attend our House of Worship and pray that all people may one day live under a system of God-given freedom like the one that has always blessed our land.

It is my duty to my country to support its Constitution... and to defend it against all enemies. — William Tyler Page benefitting NWA.

State responds to inquiries about Northwest

3) The state will have a contingent liability as a guarantor of up to half the amount of the revenue bonds issued for Duluth/Hibbing, with a ceiling amount of $125 million and $50 million respectively. (St. Louis County has made smaller but similar guarantees.) Those guarantees would be called into play if, and only if, NWA defaults on their lease payments.

4) The statute requires that NWA at all times maintain suitable collateral equal to 125 per cent of the state contingent liability as a partial guarantor. Such collateral could include a security interest in pledgeable liquid assets in addition to the lien on maintenance facilities and related fixtures and equipment. This element of the negotiations will be very crucial.

5) Corporate income tax credits are available to NWA only upon the actual creation of new jobs to the State. Geographic transfers do not qualify.

6) The MAC is currently appraising fixed assets located in the Twin Cities that are owned "free and clear" and are mortgageable with appropriate margin.

The Governor and Legislature have passed legislation that could be instrumental in creating new jobs, sustaining NWA's payroll in Minnesota, and ensuring NWA's headquarters presence. In fulfilling the legislative intent, every effort is being made to address the various interest of the public, particularly the potential going-forward risks to Minnesota taxpayers.

appearance at a Thief River Falls chemical awareness evening. He spoke here four years ago and his message was well received by parents and students alike, according to Bill Stock, Lincoln counselor and chemical awareness coordinator.

Nord is a 1979 honors graduate of St. Cloud State university's school of business. He was football team captain, an all-conference player and named team most valuable player. He was a walk-on at the Minnesota Vikings camp in the fall of 1979 and won a place on the team, playing in the NFL for seven years. He became the Vikings' special teams captain in 1983 and was awarded five game balls as recognition of his performance by his teammates.

Using his own experiences as illustrations, Nord speaks of success, failure and of setting and achieving goals. He is a persuasive proponent of a healthy, positive, fulfilling lifestyle free of chemical abuse.

Because of his experience in the NFL, he has seen dozens of exceptionally talented and promising young people succumb to chemical abuse. His talks to groups of teenagers and parents effectively raise awareness and provide options and solutions.

In his talks to students, Nord talks about goals, self-esteem, responsible decision making and how to withstand peer group pressures. In his talks to parents he directly and candidly urges parents to examine their own lifestyles and to explore ways of helping their children avoid the perils of chemical abuse.

YOUR TIMES

We live in a global society, separated by culture rather than geography. Today Yugoslavia is only as far as away as a television screen. A coup in the Soviet Union effects the price of grain in the Midwest. Strife in the Mid-East involves the North Dakota and Minnesota National Guard overseas. As nations become inter-woven politically and economically it is culture, not geography, that continues to divide world populations.

In 1990, the Red Lake Falls School District took an innovative step into Global Education by founding the Northwest Minnesota Global Studies Institute, a school for international exchange students within the traditional American high school setting. Students spend part of the year with host families, developing a "real life experience" in American family living. The rest of the year is spent at the Pavilian International, a dormitory, conference and recreation center in Red Lake Falls, where students absorb a rich cultural exchange from many nations represented there. Of more than 25 students attending this year, 11 different countries and cultures will live and study together.

Glen Proechel, director of the Global Institute, says, "In every living room in the nation you can turn on the television and see the highlights of world events." However, the program in Northwestern Minnesota offers a much more meaningful exchange between American and global cultures. The Global Studies program at Lafayette High School in Red Lake Falls includes four year programs and instruction in five foreign languages; Russian, Japanese, Spanish, French and German, with an introduction this year to Arabic. The 1991-92 curriculum includes exchange teachers from Mexico, Austria, France, and Japan and students from Yugoslavia, Thailand, Spain, Japan, Brazil, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Finland, Mexico the Marshal Islands and Argentina. The result is an intense program that brings the world into the Northwest Minnesota classroom."

High School Principal, Gail Sells, says it gives Lafayette students "a cultural experience without having to leave the country. It's a global society, Yugoslavia just isn't that far away anymore."

Student orientation was held the last week of August. Exchange students began classes with their American counter-parts September 3.

Soil—Our Future Depends On It

While the previous editorial comments on surplus farm production, the importance of maintaining or improving our soil for food production in future generations can't be overemphasized. Following is the essay written by sixth grader Julie Sundberg of Grygla which won first place in the Minnesota Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts junior essay contest.

Soil—Our Future Depends On It
by Julie Sundberg
Age 11 — Sixth Grade — Grygla School

Everyone has seen soil. Usually you think of soil as something pretty common. Soil means life to all living things. You may wonder, "How can soil really mean life to me" Well, to live, every one of us must have food, clothing and shelter. Without good soil we couldn't have enough food and all these other things for a growing population.

For our future we need rich soil to grow larger amounts of grain, fruit, vegetables and even to produce milk and meat. If you want nutritious milk, you have to plant hay and grass for a cow to eat. If you want meat you have to plant corn, hay and grass so your cows will get meat on them. If you want to keep on having these things, take special care of the soil.

Can nature keep right on producing more good, rich topsoil for us? Yes, the natural forces do keep making soil, but it takes a very long period of time. Soil scientists have figured out that it needs hundreds of years to produce one inch of good, rich topsoil. This inch of rich topsoil can be destroyed by wind or rain in one year if we don't take good care of it.

If you have good land you can keep on growing crops on it without putting anything in the soil. But when your plants keep on taking nutrients from the soil to produce grains and other foods, the soil will become poor. The soil will have less nutrients for growing new plants.

There are many ways we can prevent soil erosion. Soil is sometimes left with no covering of grass or trees. When soil is exposed to the rain it is washed from the slopes and the plant food is lost. On these badly eroded spots, soil produces less than it would in rich soil that is covered.

There are some things farmers can do to prevent soil erosion from happening. Farmers can plant trees for windbreaks, leave stubble on the fields, build terraces (ridges built across the slope to keep water from running away), and do strip cropping (farming cultivated crops in alternate strips across the slope).

Soil conservation helps wildlife by improving habitat. Hedgerows and windbreaks provide protective shelter for birds and many other animals. Without the food that plants provide, and protection of the trees and bushes, all the animals would die out.

Plants play a very important part in making soil. Plant roots grow and break up rocks and larger soil particles. The roots also hold the soil together and protect it from severe damage by running animals and running water. Planting trees, like spruce and willow, will give you a good windbreak and stop wind erosion. Planting slough grass and other kinds of grasses will help hold soil together and help prevent water erosion.

Do farmers keep our soil in good condition? Yes, conservation farmers do a real great job of protecting and improving the land. But they need more help. They need help from every man, woman and child in America. They need your help.

Pensioning Europe's Farmers?

If a plan proposed by European Community agriculture commissioner Ray MacSharry is put into effect, half of Europe's 10 million farmers will reap a harvest of handouts instead of crops.

MacSharry has proposed that each farmer over the age of 55 be given a tax free pension if he retires. Each year the farmer leaving the land would be entitled to an annual sum of $4,700, plus $295 per hectare—a unit of land equivalent to just under two and one-half acres. In addition, he could sell the land which could remain in production.

"Our aim is to make European agriculture more viable in the long term so that it has a better chance of surviving against tougher outside competition," a spokesman for MacSharry was quoted as stating in "The European," which terms itself Europe's first national newspaper.

"Our problem is," he continued, "that we have 10 million farmers on the same size of land that the U.S. has two million."

The average European Community farm size is 13 hectares, compared with 175 hectares in the United States and 2,920 hectares in Australia. In the Mediterranean regions of the EC, more than two million farmers tend less than five hectares each.

Because the plan calls for payments annually up to $11,750, it provides the greatest incentive to small landowners with up to 25 hectares. The northern European countries feel they will be left to subsidize their Mediterranean competitors. Annual cost of the plan is projected to be $1.65 billion—a huge amount but only a fraction of the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) which costs the EC nearly $40 billion a year.

The proposal would have to be approved by the agricultural ministers who will meet this month. Some have already expressed opposition to the plan, which MacSharry admits would be unlikely to cut Europe's growing and costly food surpluses. He has introduced the proposal on the belief that the amalgamation of smaller farms into larger units will ultimately be less of a drain on the European Community's resources.

"The European" article points out that the move would have as much of a social objective as an economic or agricultural one. MacSharry wants a new system of direct payments to producers which would keep incomes steady on all but the largest farms. The idea is to rein in farm spending in the long term, although allowing short term costs to soar.

The theory is an interesting one in view of the experience in the United States where farm consolidations have taken place on a voluntary basis, farm sizes have increased, numbers of farms declined and government support costs have continued to climb.

But isn't it nice, here and in Europe, to have a problem of too much food rather than not enough? Despite the costs, it is much easier to deal with the problem of surpluses than with a hungry populace.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

We address our thoughts to residents of Thief River Falls and of the Red Lake Indian Reservation:

Dear Friends:

After much thought and prayer, we wish to state our firm opposition to the establishment of a casino in Thief River Falls.

We recognize the difficulty and the complexity of this issue, for we, along with many others, want to witness health and growth—personal, economic and spiritual—for all persons. We remain unconvinced, however, that expansion of the gambling options in our community is the route whereby such growth will be realized.

Our task as Christian people is to be "holy." That is to say, to be living witnesses to the life and resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ and for all that Christ desires for His world and the people in it.

Such holiness is marked by an increased commitment to the happiness, the peace, of all people. It includes bringing comfort and nourishment to people, especially to those whose lives are filled with unrest and discomfort.

Increased wealth is not the true measure of comfort. Nor is it the recommended avenue. Oftentimes, to the contrary, more money and the desire for more lead to greater anguish and pain. At the heart of financial gaming, however—pull tabs, the lottery and casino gambling—is the false message that winning will bring wealth and greater happiness.

In fact, such gambling does not bring wealth. Rather, it brings greater poverty, physical and spiritual. There are, after all, more losers than winners. In addition, even "winning" can be characterized by self-indulgence, greed and less empathy and concern for others. Gambling, in other words, although in and of itself not necessarily wrong, customarily breeds behaviors and attitudes that are self-centered, selfish and destructive; in other words, sinful. Just as Scripture teaches, "the love of money is the root of all evil."

Jesus tells us that our lives are to be ruled by two commands: to love God with all that we are and have; and to love our neighbors as ourselves. Gambling, with its attending behaviors and motives, too often puts both God and our neighbors on the back burner, in search of that so-called "true happiness." That happiness is already before us, however, through joyful, faithful living, in the name of Jesus Christ.

Some say that casino gambling will bring financial benefit to the community. Perhaps....but that belief is subject to question. True, some retail businesses would benefit. But to suggest that all retail businesses would prosper as a result of the casino's presence is premature, perhaps even wrong.

Some people will gamble recreationally and enjoyably without bringing harm to themselves or others. However, many individuals and families (in TRF and elsewhere) will suffer the consequences of lost financial resources, bringing them trauma and pain. To the extent that such will happen to even one, it happens to our Lord. And to the extent that we prevent such from happening to even one, we have been ministers to Jesus Christ.

Our concerns also rest with our brothers and sisters of the Chippewa community. What is best for them and for their nation? Will casino gambling be a source for their well-being and happiness? For their personal and spiritual growth? Of that we also remain skeptical. Our desires for them include meaningful work, quality education, happy living and spiritual peace. We fear that casino gambling will not offer all of that, in spite of the promises. For, again, financial prosperity is not a guaranteed avenue for health and happiness.

Again, our prayer and hope for all people is holy living—living which is an outgrowth of faith and loving service in the name of Jesus Christ. Let's not be distracted, therefore, by superficial, shallow substance or pursuits. Let us rather be moved by God's grace—a grace that leads us to learning, to service, to love; a grace that moves us to meaningful living and work. All of which, we fear, will be seriously compromised, if not lost, by a too great indulgence in and dependence upon yet another "opportunity" for gambling in our community.

We urge you, therefore, to take whatever measures are appropriate and necessary against the beginnings of casino gambling in the Thief River Falls area.

Respectfully, in the Name of Christ,

A group of neighboring residents were attracted to the scene, and at 3 o'clock Sunday morning located Mr. Bruin, who was then shot by L. A. Knight. The carcass weighing 200 pounds, was turned over to the department of conservation for disposal."

Vikings Crime Prevention program starts

Minnesota Vikings Crime Prevention Card program kicks off its 1991 season with a running back — fullback Rick Fenney. More than 300 participating law enforcement agencies, including the law enforcement center in Thief River Falls, are distributing 2.1 million "trading cards" over a 10-week period, primarily in Minnesota. The first card features Fenney and a "Say No to Drugs" tip.

The program, sponsored by Gatorade, the official sports drink of the Vikings, in cooperation with KFAN-AM and K102-FM radio and the Minnesota Crime Prevention Officers Association, is designed to develop relationships between young people and law enforcement officers.

Each Sunday, lasting for one week, a different card is available to any youngster who asks for one from a member of a participating law enforcement department. The cards feature a color picture of a Viking player on the front and a crime prevention tip on the back.

"This is our ninth year of the program and it just keeps getting better," said Mike Slice of the Burnsville police department. "We will soon reach a distribution of nearly 20 million cards over the life of this program. We can see the results of our efforts in the number of children who approach officers for cards. It has helped to build a healthy relationship between youth and our law enforcement representatives.

"It is important that children, as well as adults, feel comfortable dealing with police officers, and this program has taken a giant step in helping to bridge the communications gap."

Over 6,000 officers are carrying the cards in 1991. The 10 members of the Viking organization who are feature include: Rick Feeney from August 23 to August 31; Wade Wilson from September 1 to September 7; Mike Merriweather from September 8 to 14; Hassan Jones from September 15 to 21; Rich Gannon from September 22 to 28; Mark Dusbabek from September 29 to October 5; Sean Salisbury from October 6 to 12; Reggie Rutland from October 13 to 19; Tim Irwin from October 20 to 26; and Chris Doleman from October 27 to November 2.

Harvest report disappointing to extension agent

by Howard Person
County Extension Agent

Wheat and barley yields for most of our area have been disappointing this harvest season. Yields vary greatly across the county, but even the better yielding fields have had problems with disease and poor quality.

The barley crop, most of which has been harvested now, has a great deal of staining resulting mostly from black chaff infection. Black chaff is a bacterial disease of small grains which enters the field as a contaminant on seed or on contaminated residue from the previous crop year. Severe infections can reduce yields and cause some seed sterility but in the case of barley, the main problem is a staining of the seed coat, reducing the value of the barley for malting purposes. Consequently, much of the barley produced in the Valley will bring only feed barley prices, amounting to 20 or 30 cents less per bushel.

The wheat crop has also experienced reduced yields and greatly reduced test weight as compared to last year's crop. While reduced yields and poor quality in West Central Minnesota have been attributed to head scab, most of the wheat in our area has suffered mainly from poor filling conditions.

Scabby wheat brought to market in West Central Minnesota in late July was being discounted up to $1 per bushel and recently elevators in that area have discontinued buying this wheat as ASCS announced they would not be making loans to farmers on the damaged wheat.

Neither black chaff or scab respond to standard post plant fungicide application but rather rotation, residue management and, in the case of scab, seed treatment are needed to effectively manage these diseases.

Testing for scab and possible toxins produced by this disease can be done through the Minnesota Department of Agriculture, University of Minnesota or North Dakota or several private laboratories at costs ranging from $30 to $80 per test. Individuals looking for more specific information on black chaff and scab can contact their county extension office.

The following information provided by Person was prepared by Roger Jones and Richard Meronuck, plant pathologists from the Minnesota extension service.

Head Scab and Vomitoxin in Minnesota spring wheat. The wheat crop in West Central Minnesota has been severely affected by head scab this season. Growers marketing this years crop are encountering buyers that are refusing this scabby wheat due to concerns over th presence of deoxynivalenol (DDN). This fungal toxin (also known as vomitoxin) can be produced in wheat that is affected by head scab.

Head scab is caused by the fungus Fusarium graminearum. This same fungus causes stalk rot in corn. The fungus survives the winter in corn stubble and airborne spores can infect wheat at the time wheat flowers especially during warm moist weather. Warm temperatures and heavy rains during the flowering period of this year's wheat crop have produced an unusually high incidence of scab in West Central Minnesota. Cooler that normal temperatures favor the production of DON. Such conditions prevailed during early August and have contributed to concerns over DON.

Scabby wheat brought to market in West Central Minnesota during late July was frequently subjected to a price dockage of up to $1 per bushel because of the head scab. During the last week, however, many elevators including those in Garfield, Lowrey, and Morris are refusing to buy grain because of perceived and real instances of contamination by DON.

Recently, the Minnesota ASCS stopped loan payments for spring wheat in Traverse, Grant, Stevens, Big Stone, Swift, and Lac Qui Parle counties. Some additional counties may be added to this list but these counties represent the primary areas of severe head scab with regards to this year's crop. Very little head scab was observed during the 1991 growing season north of Interstate 94 (VL users see map of wheat head scab 8/13).

A lot of spring wheat (variety Wheaton) from Red Lake Falls contained 59 per cent scabby seed and 32 ppm DON in 1986. Samples collected that year with less than 10 per cent scab showed little or no detectable DON.

Management of DON. Deoxynivalenol can be detected in affected wheat and certain laboratories are equipped to perform this analysis. The Minnesota State Department of Agriculture Division of Laboratory Services 90 West Plato Blvd., St. Paul, MN, will test suspected samples. Other laboratories to consider are the ones located in the department of veterinary medicine at the University of Minnesota and North Dakota State university. Romer labs in Washington, MD, (Tel. 314-239-3009) and Ingman labs in Minneapolis (tel. 612-724-0121) are also able to run these analysis. Prices for the analysis vary but are in the neighborhood of $30 to $85. National Crop Insurance won't pay claims without a quantitative test.

The level of concern in the wheat entering the milling process use is 2 ppm according to the Food and Drug Administration. Other levels of concern for DON are 1 p.m for finished wheat products for human consumption, and 4 ppm for animal feed. The agency also recommends that vomitoxin-contaminated ingredients be limited to not more than 10 per cent of swine diets and not more than 50 per cent of diets of beef cattle and broilers (Food Chemical News Oct. 1982).

Scab is frequently associated with shriveled grain. Experience in 1986 has shown that cleaning removes a lot of scab and can reduce vomitoxin levels. However, the 1991 crop was generally low in test weight and it may be necessary to use gravity tables to clean certain seed lots if standard air systems fail to work. Attempts should be made to clean grain to desired levels based on the intended end use.

Clean to below 2 parts per million (ppm) for bread milling purposes. These is research evidence to show that grain containing up to 10 ppm can be fed to beef cattle and poultry. Dairy cattle are relatively insensitive to dietary concentrations of DON but decreased milk production has been associated with Fusarium infected feed. This effect is presumably caused by other toxins associated with Fusarium infested feeds. Sheep are in the same feeding category as beef cattle. Rations containing DON should not be fed to breeding stock. Hogs are the most sensitive to DON. Research shows that feed intake and rate of gain are affected when consuming rations with 1 to 3 ppm. The higher the concentration of DDN in the feed the greater the degree of refusal. Screenings of extremely contaminated lots can be used for producing ethanol although the DON will accumulate in the final cake and this should not be further utilized.

Control of Scab. In-season control of head scab with foliar fungicides has not proven to be effective. Currently, there are no varieties that are resistant to scab. Crop rotation, sanitation, soil preparation (tillage), and seed treatment are important control measures. Covering the crop residue completely when plowing and treating the seed with effective seed treatment fungicides will aid in control of head scab and seedling blight respectively.

Inoculum of the head scab fungus occurs widely throughout the corn and wheat producing areas of the Upper Mid-West. Corn stalks left on the soil surface are ideal sources of inoculum and will produce large quantities of spores during moist conditions. When this much inoculum is generated and wet conditions prevail during flowering of the wheat crop, the benefits of crop rotation are reduced.

Certain seed treatments were effective in 1987 trials using 1986 seed. Seed treatments containing the fungicide thiram (Vitavax 200R) or those containing imazalil (Flo-Pro IMZR, Nu-Zone 10MER, or Agsco RRR) were shown to represent cost effective choices for 1992 if scabby seed must be planted. More information will be developed on this topic in the future.

Items grown in Minnesota

Minnesota Grown Products Month in September has been proclaimed by Gov. Arne Carlson and announced by Elton Redalen, Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture.

The month "celebrates the quality and diversity of Minnesota agriculture," Commissioner Redalen said. "I encourage consumers to look and ask for quality Minnesota Grown products a grocery stores, farmers markets, garden centers and florists."

Minnesota Department of Agriculture formally began the Minnesota Grown program in 1987 with cooperation and financial support from grower associations and commodity groups.

Approximately 300 individuals and businesses are currently licensed to use the Minnesota Grown logo. A conservatively estimated 20 million consumer impressions are made annually in regional, national and international markets, Commissioner Redalen added.

BIG MONEY
BIG TIMES
BIG TROUBLE

Sure, gambling casinos are big money operations. Sure, some businesses boom. But a casino on reservation property in Thief River Falls? Are we serious? Think of the implications for our children and our community:

1. What example would we be giving our children by accepting a gambling casino?
   Every parent and leader has the responsibility to set an example for their children, to teach them honest work ethics and that getting more money is not the most important thing in life.
2. Gambling casinos have always been illegal for the general public to establish because they have always been classified as vice businesses.
   The strength of a community is the moral values of its citizens. Good moral values are worth more than money. Vice has the long-term effect of collectively lowering the moral standards of people. That means more greed, more laziness, more stealing, and everyone suffers.
3. Former reservation land purchased by the Indians becomes permanent reservation land.
   Think of permanently seceding out of local jurisdiction a central business area in our city for a vice businessl Local officials would have no authority over it. Law enforcement officials cannot enter reservation property unless given permission by the Indians owning it. That parcel of ground would become theirs to do with as they wish for as long as you live, free from the taxes and ordinances the rest of the city is under.
4. Think of the fact that gambling itself is motivated by raw greed.
   It is recorded in the Bible that "the love of money is the root of all evil." This means that those who love money are willing to make morally wrong decisions in order to get more of it. It is also written that, "righteousness lifts up a nation, but evil is a disgrace to any people."
5. Would an accessible gambling casino help to further ruin our families?
   One leading cause of divorce is financial problems. So if money is tight because Dad or Mom spent it at the casino, that means more arguments in the home. How many divorces would be encouraged by a casino in our city? Strong families mean strong churches, schools and communities.
6. Think of the fact that people have only so much money to spend.
   Most people living in our area are not overly wealthy. So if our people gamble away their money at a very available casino, it simply means they will have less money to spend on new shoes, a new car, new furniture, house improvements, etc. It means more money for the Red Lake band of Chippewa and less money for our local businesses.
7. Could this casino become a financial parasite, siphoning far more money out of the area than it ever returned?
   The jobs created by a casino would not come close to returning the money siphoned out of the area. Some say tourism will make up the difference. But with casinos in Warroad, Mahnomen, Leech Lake, Mille Lacs, etc. and who knows where else in the future, could we reasonably expect long-term tourism to be a great factor in resupplying the local finances that have been drained away?
8. How much more of your taxes will go to pay for increased welfare costs?
   If Mom and Dad gamble away their earnings how will they feed their kids? By food stamps, AFDC, emergency assistance, etc. And who pays for that? You dol

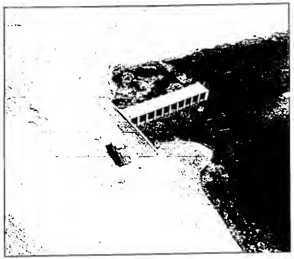
Volume 80, Number 58 | 324 Main Avenue North, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 | Tuesday, September 17, 1991



Sodding was being done on a portion of the area near the outlet structure of the Elm Lake project in eastern Marshall county when this Times aerial photo was taken earlier this year. The concrete pad in the upper left portion of the photo is the base for a six-ton engraved granite cairn which has been placed in tribute to the late Robert E. Farmes. Dedication of the memorial will take place Saturday, September 21, at the impoundment site. The name Elm Lake will be officially changed at that time to Robert E. Farmes Pool. The Elm Lake project is a more than $1.5 million effort by Ducks Unlimited and the Red Lake Watershed district to restore the lake drained about 75 years ago. The project is designed for three benefits—flood control, improved drainage and wildlife.

Robert E. Farmes Pool to replace Elm Lake

Renaming of Elm Lake in eastern Marshall county as Robert E. Farmes Pool will take place at a special dedication program Saturday, September 21, at 1:30 p.m. at the outlet site for the recently completed Elm Lake restoration project.

To reach the site from Thief River Falls, go two miles east of the softball diamonds on highway 1 to County Road 20 (the rangeline road); nine miles north to Marshall County Road 120, one mile east, one mile north and two miles east to the project outlet structure.

Restoration of Elm Lake is being accomplished following completion of a Red Lake Watershed District and Ducks Unlimited project which included diking, ditching, installation of culverts and a water control structure at the outlet on Ditch 200.

Approval of the project was given by the board of the watershed district and preliminary design engineering was done by Charles Anderson when he was the watershed district's engineer. The watershed also conducted the hearing process and acquired what little private land was involved. State and federal lands involved no acquisition cost.

Cost of the project was about $150,000 to the watershed district and about $1.5 million for Ducks Unlimited. Project area is about 100 acres of state land including and surrounding Elm Lake and about 1,500 acres of federal land on the adjoining Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge.

Lowell Enerson, administrator for the watershed district, said the project is a multiple use project which combines improved drainage and flood control with wildlife benefits.

Scheduled to be on the dedication program Saturday are Collin Peterson, Seventh District Congressman; James Gritman, Region 3 director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife service; Rod Sando, Minnesota DNR commissioner; Roger Holmes, DNR fish and wildlife director; Dave Vesall, retired fish and wildlife director; Lowell Enerson, Red Lake Watershed District administrator; Matthew Connolly Jr., executive vice president of Ducks Unlimited; and John E. Walker, president of Ducks Unlimited.

Part of the program will be the official re-naming of Elm Lake as Robert E. Farmes pool.

General public is invited to attend the dedication and unveiling of an engraved, six-ton granite cairn as a permanent monument to Robert E. Farmes, DNR research biologist, area wildlife manager and regional wildlife supervisor for 37 years until his retirement in 1985. He died of cancer in Bemidji April 21, 1988.

Farmes is credited with being the primary mover in establishment of 33,000 acres of northwestern Minnesota public lands into state Wildlife Management Areas. Included is the 15,560-acre Elm Lake area located just south of Agassiz National Wildlife refuge.

Robert Farmes graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1949 with a degree in wildlife management and soon began working with the state department of conservation as a research biologist in waterfowl and prairie grouse. He became wildlife manager for 13 counties in northwestern Minnesota with headquarters in Thief River Falls in 1958 and was promoted to regional supervisor at the Bemidji office in 1980.

Among the awards which Farmes received during his long period of public service were an outstanding service award from the Minnesota Conservation Federation in 1962, awards from American Motors and the Fergus Falls Save-the-Wetlands club in 1968 and 1966 for his intensive campaign to preserve Northwest Minnesota wetlands, special recognition from his co-workers in the Minnesota Fish and Wildlife Employees association for a lifetime of dedication to preservation and protection of the wildlife resource and the "Man of the Year" award from the Minnesota chapter of the Wildlife society in 1978.

Upon his retirement he also received special recognition from the Minnesota Deer Hunters association, Minnesota Conservation Federation and the Minnesota Prairie Chicken Society.

He was also one of only several Minnesota residents to receive the Silver Eagle Award presented by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service for exceptional service in the preservation of wetlands and improvement of habitat for wildlife.

Dear Readers,

There is comfort in a touch. A widow tells of attending Sunday church services shortly after the death of her husband. As the choir sang one of her husband's favorite hymns, it became impossible for her to hold back the tears. Next to her, a girl of about 10 noticed. "I felt the child move closer to me. She reached over and slipped her small hand into mine. My heart swelled."

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Groomsmen were Brent Peterson of Fargo, ND, Shane Knutson of Middle River and Tom Blazek of Fargo, MD, all friends of the groom. They wore black tuxedos with long jackets, black ties and cummerbunds and boutonnieres of white roses with babies' breath. Programs were handed out by Reed Korpi, brother of the groom, and Molly Rantanen, friend of the couple.

For her daughter's wedding the mother of the bride wore a champagne street length dress with lace overlay and chiffon pleated skirt. The groom's mother wore a light teal satin suit with lace overlay. Each wore a corsage of violets, pink roses, white roses and babies' breath. The fathers of the couple wore black tuxedos with stroller length jackets, black ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonniers were white roses with babies' breath.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Scramstad and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wellwood, grandparents of the bride, and Eunice Korpi and Thelma Driscoll, grandmothers of the groom.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Host couples were Tony and Connie Dorn, Jr. and Dan and Cecky Rantanen, friends of the couple. Stacie Sparby, friend of the groom, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a three-tiered white wedding cake featuring a fountain with purple water, purple silk flowers, greenery and babies' breath. It was topped by a heart with purple satin roses, pearls, pearl sprays and porcelain bride and groom bears. The cake was cut by Eleanore Rantanen and Gladys Sorter, both friends of the groom. Coffee was served by Audrey Bennett and Gayle Skaaden, both cousins of the bride. Twila Brandon and Stacy Davidson, both friends of the bride, served punch. Register tapes help purchase computers

Opening of school for the 1991-92 term is a reminder that cash register tapes from Northland Foods can assist with purchase of computers for Thief River Falls schools.

Separate containers are placed at the store for Thief River Falls public schools, Our Saviour's Christian Academy and St. Bernard's school. Shoppers may deposit their cash register tapes from Northland Foods purchases in the container of their choice. When tapes showing $100,000 of purchases have been collected from any container, that school system will be paid by Northland for the cost of purchasing a computer.

Thief River Falls public schools received funds for its first computer under the program earlier this year. Shoppers who wish to check their purchases against the tapes at home may bring them along for deposit the next time they visit the store.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Petty Peeves

Everybody has a pet peeve or two, no matter what they say. I think I have lots of them, but maybe it would be better to call mine "petty" peeves. I am not really sure just exactly what a pet peeve is, but you can tell me if these are them or not, if you know better than I do, which you probably do.

I wonder if some of my, so-called, petty peeves are some of yours, too. Shall we see? I see that some of my petty peeves are rather female and old ladyish, but go ahead and adapt them to your own situation.

Don't you just hast it when your telephone cord gets all would up and you don't notice and you answer the phone and end up pulling the unit off the counter because the cord is would so tightly around itself that you have about three inches between the receiver and the console and that isn't enough to reach? Don't you especially hate it when this happens at work, and especially when it is your boss's fault? Is this one of your petty peeves, too?

Speaking of telephones, don't you just hate it when you have to look up a number and you do so, carefully memorizing it, and then close the phone book and put it away and get back to the phone and realize your memory isn't what it used to be and you forgot the number and you have to go through the whole process again? (This is definitely one of my petty peeves and I do it all the time!)

Speaking of telephones some more, don't you just hate it when your phone rings on Saturday and you are in the middle of a very complicated project and you drop everything to jump up and race to answer it and it is one of those "super salespersons" who is trying to sell you magazines and they just won't give up? This must be one of everybody's petty peeves, isn't it?

Don't you just hate it when you get your grocery list all ready, coupons included, and drive all the way to the grocery store and get inside the door and grab your cart and start down the aisle and then find out you forgot your grocery list at home on the coffee table? Is this one of your petty peeves, too?

In that same vein, don't you just hate it when you go to all the trouble to stop what you are doing, get yourself cleaned up, jump in the car and go downtown only to find that once you are standing in, the store you have forgotten what you came for? Is this one of your petty peeves, too?

Speaking of forgetting, don't you just hate it when you meet someone on the street and you can't remember their name and isn't it even worse when some other friend stops to talk to you and you have to introduce the two of them? Is this a petty peeve or not? Is it one of yours?

If you are a mother or a father, don't you just hate it when you call one of your kids by one of your other kid's names? If you are a kid, don't you just hate it when your mom or dad calls you by one of your brother's or sister's names? And isn't it even worse when they call you by several of your brother's or sister's names or even by the names of both brothers and sisters? Isn't this a definite petty peeve?

Don't you just hate it when you are comfortably seated in the bathroom and getting just about ready to leave, and then you notice that someone has used up all of the tissue and not replaced it and the tissue is stored across the room and you can't run to get it easily at all? (This one definitely qualifies as a petty peeve, but I bet it is one of yours, too!)

Speaking of tissue, don't you just hate it when you absolutely know you are going to sneeze and you reach into the tissue box to grab a tissue to catch it in and you fish around there in the box and discover that there are no tissues left in there because someone has used them all up and not replaced the old box with a new one and then you sneeze all over because your hand is in the tissue box and you don't have time to get it out and up to your nose?

On that very appropriate, fall-like, sneezy, sniffily note, I will leave you to think up some of your own petty peeves. Share them with me by mailing them to the Times at Box 100, TRF, if you would like. Maybe I can use them in future columns.

Chain letter makes rounds

Chain letters are making the rounds in Thief River Falls.

Police received a report from a local citizen last week that she had received a chain letter asking from $1 from the first five people. They were using an attorney's name. The letters didn't have a return address.

Three types of seats recalled

Minnesota Passenger Protection Program reports that three child car seats are subject to recall due to defects which could reduce child safety.

Renolux has announced recall of its Turn-A-Tot child car seat number GT5000 manufactured between Feb. 18, 1990 and April 29, 1991. Call the company at 1-800-476-5273 to obtain a new seat base with a tool and instructions for replacement of the base and a new seat cover.

Playskool model numbers 140-155 and 180-400 manufactured between Dec. 1, 1989 and Aug. 31, 1990 have padded covers which do not meet safety standards.

Approximately 40,000 Kolcraft Perfect Fitt seats model 180-150 and 180-200 manufactured between March 1, 1989 and Oct. 1, 1990 may allow a child's head and knee to lurch too far forward in a crash.

Owners of any of these seat models may call Kolcraft Enterprises at 1-800-453-7673 to obtain free replacement parts and instructions.

For more information contact the Minnesota Passenger Protection Program at 509 University Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55103-1938 or call 1-800-223-5833.

Certain boats recalled for safety defect

A new safety recall campaign being conducted by the manufacturer of certain 1986, '87 and '88 Smoker Craft and Sylvan boats was released recently by the U.S. Coast Guard.

The removal bass-type seat may break and detach from the pedestal. If this happens, the seat could fall off, possibly causing injury to the occupant, or loss of control of the boat.

Consumers who own boats involved in the recall campaign are urged to have the problem fixed promptly. The law required the manufacturer to correct safety defects at no cost to the consumer.

A boat is subject to a safety recall if it fails to comply with Coast Guard safety standards, or contains a defect that creates a substantial risk of personal injury to the public.

Dick Bergen, chief of the Coast Guard's Consumer Affairs and analysis Branch, said, "While manufacturers are required, when a defect is found, to mail a recall notice to all purchasers or owners whose addresses are known, sometimes they are unable to maintain complete and up-to-date mailing lists of all owners."

Boaters who own any of the models identified in the recall campaign, but who have not received a recall notification, or boaters who want to know if their boat is involved in the recall, should telephone the toll-free Coast Guard Boating Safety Hotline—800-368-5647.

Face painting was done by Rachael Marshall, daughter of Everett and Diane Marshall of Thief River Falls, during Everybody's Market in Thief River Falls Saturday. Because of rain in the morning the market was moved to the curling club building on the Pennington county fairgrounds. Although the space was crowded, exhibitors were appreciative of having the indoor facilities available to keep their merchandise out of the elements.

Sportsmen club changes date for Sept. meeting

Pennington County Sportsmen club has changed its monthly meeting date for September to Friday, September 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the club house north of Thief River Falls. Members are asked to note the change in date.

Discussion will include changes in annual dues and plans for the annual "sighting-in" days at the club range prior to the rifle deer season.

Impressions . . .

My dictionary defines "risk" as "the possibility of suffering harm or loss; danger. 2. A situation, factor, or course of action that exposes one to harm or loss." I looked further in my dictionary to see how it defined the word "gamble". It defines "gamble", when used as a verb as "to bet money on the outcome of a game, contest, or other event. 2. To take a chance in the hope of gaining an advantage; speculate." When used as a noun, it defines "gamble" as "an act or undertaking of uncertain outcome; a risk."

Every day we take risks. Waking up in the morning to simply start a new day is a risk. We know not where the day will take us or what will happen to us during that day. Walking on the sidewalk, driving a car, eating, playing, can all be risky. The sidewalk may have a crack in which you will trip. The car may be in an accident. The food you eat may make you ill. The sport you play may cause an injury to you.

Farmers may possibly be the biggest risk takers of all of us. They constantly are in danger of having a bad year if all of the variables for a good year do not fall into place. They must decide which variety of seed to plant, when to plant it, when to harvest, when to apply the chemicals, when to prepare the soil. If any of these go awry, they risk endangering the outcome of their crop for that year. If the weather also doesn't cooperate, even the best plans are in danger of loss.

Risks can be calculated by us. We can use our knowledge and our intuition to determine if a risk is worth taking. My knowledge tells me that it is usually fine to walk the sidewalks of this town, so I will not be placing myself in a very great risk if I go for a walk. My lack of knowledge tells me that if I were to take a risk and become a math teacher, I would be at danger of quickly losing that job. Calculating the risks we take in life can help us determine the best routes to take.

When we forget to calculate the cost of risk, we will often come to harm, or cause the harm of others. If you drink, and then get behind the wheel of a car you are taking a risk of causing great harm to yourself or to others. If you venture into a new business without bothering to count the entire cost, you may find yourself in financial difficulty. If you don't bother to calculate how worthy your time with your family is, you may find yourself with a grown family that you barely know.

We in our town are not in a risky situation. We need to calculate the cost of a new business which wants to come into our town. Usually we do not find ourselves caring too much about the businesses which come into our town. We say, "welcome, we hope you will do fine", but, we don't find ourselves in a moral dilemma about the typical new business.

A casino wants to become part of the business community in our town. It's a hot topic of conversation. People are either for or against having it in our town. There are many issues to weigh. There are risks that will be taken. There is research to to be done by those in authority. There are citizens to listen to.

It makes me wonder, though, why this type of business causes such controversy? Perhaps the risk has been calculated by many of us. Perhaps the risk is not simply a good risk of added jobs to our community. Perhaps the controversy is because of the risk of danger to the moral fabric of the people of our community. Do we need a business which will by its very nature cause people to waste money on a chance?

But, might I add, those of our community who do not want to see the morals of our town decay because of the gambling in a casino, must also see to it that they lead lives that are morally strong. If you object to the danger of a cassino, also object to the danger of not loving your family. If you object to the danger of a casino, also object to the danger of drinking and driving. If you object to the danger of a casino, also object to the danger of abuse in families. If you object to the danger of a casino, also object to the danger of all betting.

In other words, let's not just be desiring a town free of the dangers of gambling of a casino, but lets also see that our daily living is full of calculated risks which help to ease the dangers which are ever present.

THE VOICE of BUSINESS

by Richard L. Lesher, President
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

The Bush administration has raised its estimate of the 1992 federal budget deficit to some $348.3 billion, about $70 billion more than originally projected. This will be the largest deficit in history, by far.

This was not supposed to happen. Less than a year ago, the Bush Administration linked arms with Congress to impose a new round of tax increases guaranteed to reduce the deficit. Some guarantee!

The key problem, according to the White House, is that tax receipts are running much lower than predicted. It now seems clear Uncle Sam will rake in about $20 billion less than expected this year and next year, and more than $40 billion less annually by mid-decade.

Meanwhile, out in California, Governor Pete Wilson has persuaded the state legislature to impose draconian tax increases in an effort to staunch the flow of red ink. Up in Connecticut, Governor Lowell Weicker is demanding creating of a new state income tax for the same reason. Other states are stumbling into the same trap — raising taxes in an attempt to reduce deficits.

But California and Connecticut will discover — as Uncle Sam has discovered — that higher taxes do not lead to lower deficits. To the contrary, higher taxes strangle economic growth, reducing tax revenues while at the same time increasing demand for government services. The inevitable result is even bigger deficits.

Unfortunately, there is little reason to believe the politicians will learn from this experience. When the Bush administration sought last year's budget deal, there were many voices — including the U.S. Chamber of Commerce — warning that the cure was worse than the disease. We were roundly ignored. We will probably be ignored again next time when the politicians come back for another round of tax increases to stem the exploding deficit, tax increases that will again make the deficit even larger.

There is no great mystery why this is happening. The bread and butter of politics is spending money to address social needs. But as soon as government spending programs are in place, they assume a life of their own. The beneficiaries come to reagar them as entitlements. Bureaucracies and special interest groups form alliances with politicians to defend them.

when recession comes, usually because of foolish government policies, there is insufficient revenue to support all the programs. The inevitable result is red ink and demands for higher taxes.

But taxes aren't the problem — spending is. Until we elect politicians who realize that fact, and give them the support they need to do something about it, the fiscal crisis will continue.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

In reference to the casino:

II Chronicles 7:14 states, "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and will heal their land."

If God will heal a nation under these conditions he will keep a casino out of our town, if the Christians will do likewise.

I Timothy 6:10: "For the love of money is the root of all evil. While some coveted after it, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows."

Proverbs 28:20: "A faithful man shall abound with blessings, but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent."

Let everyone who names the name of Christ pray without ceasing. We have a prayer-answering God.

Sincerely,
LaVonne Thune

Grasshopper control funds are available

Landowners in the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) may be eligible for cost share funds when grasshopper infestations on their lands threaten adjacent croplands, according to the Minnesota Department of Agriculture.

The federal-state agreement provides eligible CRP landowners with a one-third reimbursement of their grasshopper control costs when they meet all federal requirements.

This year landowners are asked to monitor the grasshopper problem in addition to operating under 1990 federal guidelines. The guidelines are:

- Only CRP lands adjacent to threatened cropland in designated grasshopper control zones are eligible.
- A grasshopper count must be taken by a county or township grasshopper inspector before spraying to verify the need and again after spraying to verify effectiveness.
- Only three federally approved insecticides may be used: Sevin XLR Plus, Malathion and Orthene 75S. The application rates are limited to the lower concentrations of the labeled rates.
- The pesticide must be applied by a certified commercial applicator.
- Water, soil and plant monitoring must accompany each treatment.
- The landowner, the pesticide applicator and the township or county inspector must all sign a contract agreement.

Such cost share funds have been provided in the past. Deadline to apply for cost share is Sept. 30, 1991. For more information or to apply for the program, contact local township officials or county extension agents.

PRAIRIE RAMBLING

by Gretchen Beito

Martha Hanson wrote a 5-page paper describing a canoe trip down the Red Lake River. She has never visited northwestern Minnesota but was able to find information about the Red Lake River in the library at Augustana-Rock Island College in Illinois where she is a student.

Martha is interested in our area because she has heard so much about it from her father, Rev. Harold Hanson, who grew up at Holt. I received a copy of Martha's paper from our daughter, Kathryn, who works in Chicago with Rev. Hanson in the Division of Global Mission for the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA).

I am impressed by the amount and kind of information Martha Hanson could find about "our" river in an Illinois library.

Here is what Martha Hanson writes about an imaginary Red Lake River trip that begins just past the dam at Thief River Falls and ends at the falls of Red Lake Falls:

"I hope you're up for an adventure because you will encounter a series of rapids, but don't worry, they've been done before and the survival rate is fairly high!

"From the dam at Thief River Falls to the town St. Hilaire, there are occasional rapids, but otherwise it is fairly slow moving, approximately two or three miles per hour.

"The land use in this area is considered to be mainly cultivated with some pasture and open spaces. The town of St. Hilaire may be a much needed stop-off point for you along the way.

"Downstream from the St. Hilaire there are a series of excellent rapids separated by short pools. Most rapids are navigable and probably would be even with half the amount of stream flow. However, I recommend taking this trip during June or early July to ensure there is an ample supply of water to decrease the amount of portaging you will have to do if the rapids are not navigable.

"The Red Lake River region was carved out as a result of what has been called the Des Moines lobe of the Wisconsin glacier that moved south out of Canada into the Lake Agassiz basin.

"Although this lobe came forth and retreated more than once, it was the most recent glaciation, the Mankato phase, that had an effect on this valley. Lake Agassiz, which once was larger than all the Great Lakes combined, formed behind the dam of ice. This accounts for much of the lake deposits found in the soil on top of glacial deposit.

"From the junction of Thief River and Red Lake River down to St. Hilaire, the Red Lake River ceases flowing west and flows south parallel to a series of morainal hills that were deposited from the late Des Moines Lobe. From here the valley swings west again and the Red Lake River flows through a canyon-like area. The steep valley walls are hard, light gray till of the Des Moines Lobe and stand as nearly vertical cliffs as much as 100 ft. in height. The steep drop to the ancient shores of Lake Agassiz results in almost continuous rapids I spoke of earlier.

"In the area between Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire, there is mostly thick buff or gray calcareous drift covering precambrian bedrock. The drift in general is clayey and has only local sandy water-bearing lenses which yield hard water. Somewhat softer water may occur in the weathered top of precambrian rocks, but yield is small. In the Red Lake Falls area, there exists cretaceous sand (or gravel) overlain by cretaceous shale below the drift. These sandy beds yield water abundantly.

"Enough on the geology of the region, let's begin with the here and now. Okay, just below the dam in Thief River Falls is where you board your canoe. If you enjoy fishing, this is the time and place to do it. Walleye, northern pike, catfish and bullfish abound, and I've been told if you're lucky, you may catch some sturgeon! Along the way there'll be scattered woods and brush. The common trees of the area are oak, maple, boxelder, elm, basswood, alder, willow, cottonwood, and aspen. South of St. Hilaire wild celery and pondweed are common in the river. There are also many kinds of wild fruits such as chokecherry, wild grape, raspberry, and high-bush cranberry, in case you need a snack.

"While on your way you should keep your eye out for various wildlife like beaver, mink, muskrat, as well as rabbits, weasel, and maybe even fox.

"Near Red Lake Falls you may want to drop off your canoe gear and "Tube the Red," which is a large attraction. If not, then pat yourself on the back for surviving a challenging yet fantastically memorable vacation down the river of Red Lake!"

Martha got her information from books by L.H. Ropes, G.M. Schwartz, and G.A. Theil, et al in her Illinois college library.

Martha makes me want to launch a canoe there right away. Although we have spent many pleasant hours canoeing above Thief River Falls, we have never canoed below the dam. I have talked with residents who say this trip is beautiful and that the rapids should indeed be taken during high water. However, at high water the river is fast and advanced canoeing skills are needed for the rapids. It is true that in late summer the river is low and then the canoeist must either portage or get out many times to drag the canoe through shallow spots.

From my own experience, I would not care much for the snack Martha suggests, except for raspberries. For my taste, the wild berries must be cooked up with sugar syrup first.

I think that Martha has done us all a favor by taking us along on a fun canoe trip and summarizing the geology of our area.

Tom Mickelson graduates from RIT

Thomas Mickelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mickelson, has graduated from the National Technical Institute for the Deaf, a college of Rochester Institute of Technology (RIT), with an associate in applied science degree in Applied Accounting, awarded during RIT's annual commencement.

NTID, on of RIT's nine college, is the world's largest technological college for deaf students. Created by Congress and funded primarily by the U.S. Department of Education, it represents the world's first effort to educate large numbers of deaf students within a college campus planned principally for hearing students. Among RIT's 13,000 full- and part-time students are more than 1,100 college-age deaf students from all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several U.S. territories and foreign countries.

In addition to the academic programs based within NTID, RIT's deaf students also benefit from nearly 200 other technical and professional courses of study offered by RIT's other eight colleges.

NTID offers deaf students the opportunity to go to college in a hearing environment and thus makes their transition to a hearing society easier and more effective.

Foundation gives grant

Marshall County Group Homes, Inc., has received a $3,000 grant from the L. B. Hartz Foundation, according to Sue Holter, administrator.

Holter said the funds will be used to paint the interior of the home. She thanked the foundation for its continued assistance to the mentally handicapped which has now totaled at least $16,500 to the Marshall County DAC and Group Home over the past few years.

Thief River Falls Sports Boosters club recently contributed $1,250 to the Thief River Falls public library for purchase of various sports "How To" books. Joel Swanson, president of the Sports Boosters, is shown with library board member Jeanne Larson reviewing some of the books purchased with the donation. Thief River Falls public library is observing its 90th anniversary year and a number of organizations have made special contributions to assist the library in increasing its offerings to the public.

Deer stand for handicapped at Agassiz installed

Thief River Falls Chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association and the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge have completed a cooperative effort to provide an elevated deer hunting platform for wheelchair handicapped individuals.

The seven foot by seven foot platform, mounted six feet above ground level, is constructed along a restricted access road in the east-central area of the refuge. The height of the railing on the platform is 32 inches and provides access to those gun hunters restricted to wheelchairs. The platform was constructed by Tim Hanson Construction of Thief River Falls and paid for by the local Minnesota Deer Hunters Association chapter.

The purpose of the platform is to provide an opportunity for hunters confined to wheelchairs to experience a more normal hunting situation. Use of the platform is restricted to handicapped people in wheelchairs and one assistant. One restricted hunter may also hunt from the platform with the wheelchair hunter. Both hunters must have a Zone 2 license and must follow all state and federal regulations. The assistant may be a non-hunter but cannot shoot the deer for the hunter confined to a wheelchair.

Roger Jablinske, president of the Thief River Falls chapter stated that, "this project is a great way for handicapped hunters to once again feel the opportunities of the wilderness areas without a lot of the restrictions placed on them by the environment."

All wheelchair handicapped hunters that have a valid license for Zone 2 and want a chance to use the platform must telephone (218) 449-4115 or write to Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, P.O. Box 74, Middle River, MN 56737. Use of the platform will be on a first come, first serve method. All interested wheelchair hunters must have their requested reservation to the refuge by November 1, 1991. Name of the wheelchair hunter and the partner, date(s) the wheelchair hunter wants to reserve, must be given at the time the request is made. The number of day(s) to hunt for each wheelchair hunter will depend upon the number of interested hunters.

On September 20 at 4 p.m., a short dedication ceremony will be held to officially open this elevated stand to public use. All interested individuals are urged to attend.

Rules for using the platform:

1) This handicap hunt will be restricted to those individuals with disabilities that restrict them to wheelchairs plus one unrestricted hunter or non-hunter.

2) The handicap hunter must have a valid license for Zone 2 and if possesses a valid antlerless permit it must be for Area 203. The unrestricted hunter must also have a valid license for Zone 2 and if possesses a valid antlerless permit it must be for Area 203.

3) The unrestricted hunter can only hunt from the platform when the wheelchair hunter is hunting.

4) The non-hunter cannot possess a firearm or bow and arrow and can only assist the wheelchair hunter by retrieving the deer and helping the wheelchair hunter onto and out of the platform. The non-hunter can not make deer drives through the vegetation for the wheelchair hunter.

5) All wheelchair handicapped hunters will be issued a key for the gate. The gate must be locked after going out to the blind and after they are done for the day. The key must be returned immediately after the hunting time period has expired.

Fish population of Lake Bronson, located in Lake Bronson State Park in Kittson County of northwestern Minnesota could be improved through a proposed project that might be undertaken this fall by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The lake's current fish population consists primarily of small bullheads, providing poor fishing for park visitors and area residents, according to the DNR. The proposed project would include the elimination of existing fish and restocking with a variety of game fish, including walleye, largemouth bass, northern pike, bluegill, yellow perch and channel catfish.

Unlimited fishing will be allowed in the lake beginning Friday, Sept. 13, and running through Sunday, Oct. 13, to allow utilization of the existing fish population. Licensed resident anglers will be allowed to take fish of any species, in any quantity, by any means except the use of seines, hoop nets, fyke nets or explosives.

If approved, the rehabilitation project would then be undertaken on the 350-acre lake in conjunction with repair of a leak in the lake's 55-year old dam. The lake level is being lowered to allow for dam repair. DNR Fisheries Section personnel are proposing to take advantage of the necessary drawdown, which began in mid-August, to rehabilitate the fisheries resource in this popular fishing lake. The main lake basin would be shrunk to about 50 acres by the end of September, and then treated with rotenone in October to eliminate the remaining fish population.

The drawdown would decrease the required amount of rotenone, a naturally-occurring substance extracted from plants and commonly used in garden pesticides and on farm animals for pest control. It has been approved for fish-control projects by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Minnesota Department of Agriculture.

A recent Minnesota Department of Health analysis of impurities in the rotenone that would be used in the Lake Bronson project showed "at least a five-fold margin of safety" for human exposure through drinking or swimming in lake water at the time of treatment. "Even at the time of treatment, the contaminants pose no threat to human health," the analysis report stated.

In addition, a Minnesota Historical Society review revealed no historic or archeological resources in the project area.

The rotenone solution would be applied from boats. Toxicity to fish would last only a few days. The lake would then be allowed to return to its normal water level following the treatment and completion of dam repairs.

Fish stocking would begin next spring, and the initial stocking would include some "keepers" so that there would be no missed fishing opportunity next season. Stocking would continue annually for those species that won't reproduce naturally in Lake Bronson.

Pheasant Stamp

Minnesota artists have until 4 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 20, to submit artwork for the 1992 Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Pheasant Habitat Stamp Contest. Entries must arrive by then at the DNR Section of Wildlife office, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4007.

Pheasant Habitat Stamp art contest, which is open only to Minnesota artists, offers no prizes. Winning artists retain reproduction rights, however, and they usually issue limited edition prints of the artwork.

The contest will have a six-member judging panel consisting of members with expertise in art, ornithology, pheasant hunting and conservation. The names of artists will remain unknown to the judges until the winner is selected.

Judging will take place at Woodlake Nature Center, 735 Lake Shore Drive, Richfield, Sept. 26. Only the final stage of judging will be open to the public, beginning at approximately 2 p.m.

Finalists and other selected entries from the Pheasant Habitat, Migratory Waterfowl and Trout/Salmon stamp contests will be exhibited at the Bell Museum of Natural History in Minneapolis from Oct. 26 through Jan. 26, 1992. Revenues from Stamp sales are dedicated to the development, restoration, maintenance and preservation of the species and their habitats.

in the Twin Cities Metro Goose Zone and the Olmsted County Goose Zone. These seasons will begin Dec. 14 and close Dec. 23. A special $3 permit is required for the late metro goose hunt and is the same permit as for the early metro hunt. Hunters who did not obtain an early season permit will be able to apply again between Oct. 28 and Nov. 22.

In the West Central Goose Zone, the goose season will be 40 days. For the second year, all goose hunters in the West Central Zone (which includes the Lac qui Parle Zone) are required to obtain and possess a special $3 West Central Zone Goose Hunting Permit. Permit applications are available from DNR offices, county clerks, and hunting license agents throughout the state. To avoid possible delays in their hunts, goose hunters are strongly encouraged by the DNR to apply early for these permits. The hunter permit system will be used to gather information needed to improve management of the goose flock. Some goose hunters in the West Central and Lac qui Parle goose Zones will be randomly selected after the season to participate in a survey to determine the harvest of geese in the zones. The goose season will close on Wednesday, Nov. 6, in the West Central Zone.

In the Lac qui Parle Goose Zone, the season will close when a harvest index of 6,000 Canada geese is reached or on Nov. 6, whichever occurs first.

In the remainder of the state, the 30-day goose season will end on Saturday, Nov. 16. The bag limit is two Canada geese.

"Last year in Minnesota goose seasons were liberalized in response to increasing populations," said Bromicker. "Goose populations are doing well, and if favorable breeding conditions continue, we will be able to provide abundant goose hunting opportunity."

Prowlers pick up first win, 26-6 over Staples

After two luckless outings, Thief River Falls found Friday the 13th to its liking as the Prowlers broke into the win column for the first time with a 26-6 Section 8A high school football decision over visiting Staples.

Instead of misfortune on what folk lore says is supposed to be a cursed day, good fortune was shining on the Prowlers, who broke a 6-6 tie with a 51-yard touchdown pass on the final play of the final half and then scored on short second half touchdown runs following a 40-yard pass interception return and a high Staples punt snap.

The result: a 1-2 record for both teams.

"Usually those kind of things always seem to happen against us," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm. "Now maybe it's our turn."

Fullback Matt Kaushagen had a 118-yard game on 23 carries behind an offensive line that had trouble handling bigger, stronger defenders in season-opening losses to Park Rapids 16-6 and Detroit Lakes 24-14. But this time center Rick Ostby, guards Brad Kragness and Barry Rhineberger, tackles Darin Weleski and Jason Kainz, plus tight end John Wallberg more than held their own up front.

"We controlled the football as well as we ever have," praised Mumm. "The kids did a heck of a job. We told them they had to get off the ball, and they did. They did a great job up front."

While the Prowlers capitalized on the opportunities to take command, it was their game-tying 12-play scoring drive that set the tempo, pointed out Mumm.

Thief River Falls had a golden opportunity early when Kaushagen, playing at linebacker, recovered a fumbled Staples snap at the Cardinals' 31-yard line on the second play of the game. Kaushagen promptly ripped off a 25-yard run through the middle for a first-and-goal at the Staples 6, but four plays the Prowlers gave up the ball on downs at the 11. And to complicate matters, the Cardinals put together a dominating 12-play, 89-yard drive that resulted in a 1-yard touchdown for David Cizek on a quarterback sneak with 3:47 left in the first quarter.

However, a Thief River Falls team that could not put together a sustained scoring drive against the Panthers and Lakers, duplicated the Cardinals effort with a 12-play series of its own that covered 63 yards and produced a 1-yard Kaushagen touchdown with 9:33 remaining in the first half. Key play on the drive was a 17-yard gain by Svir on a fourth-and six quarterback bootleg from the Staples 29.

"That was the most important series of the night right there," acknowledged Mumm. "We were very worried at the start. We got the early turnover, but didn't score, and they turned right around, marched the length of the field and scored. That had me scared. But give our kids a lot of credit: they came right back and tied it up. That really gave us a shot."

It looked like the first half would end in a 6-6 tie when the Prowlers were sitting at midfield with just 10 seconds showing on the scoreboard clock. But a Thief River Falls timeout was followed by the half-ending touchdown pass as Svir rolled to his right to avoid a hard Staples rush and threw on the run to halfback Marc Haugen, who had come back for the ball after seeing his quarterback in trouble. Haugen then crossed the width of the field and simply out-ran the Staples secondary to score with no time showing.

Svir came up with another big play to made it a two-touchdown margin midway through the third quarter when the junior safety picked off a long pass by Cizek at the Cardinals' 45 and returned it to the 5-yard line. Kaushagen scored on the next play, and Haugen reached the end zone on a sweep for the conversion points and a 20-6 cushion.

Next Staples possession proved equally fruitful for the Prowlers when a high snap sailed over the head of Cizek on a fourth down punt attempt from the Cardinals' 29. Cizek wound up with an incomplete pass on the play, but Thief River Falls capitalized on the field position to go ahead 26-6.

It took the Prowlers 11 plays to go those 29 yards, but the ball-control effort eventually produced a six-yard Haugen touchdown as he sprinted to the right corner of the end zone 1:01 into the final period to complete the scoring.

Staples wound up with a 16-11 edge in first downs, but Thief River Falls had a 224-175 advantage in total yards, and, of course, a 20-point victory.

"The defense played great," said Mumm. "They deserve a lot of credit. They set up a lot of our scoring opportunities."

Staples fullback Eric Reeck almost joined Kaushagen in the 100-yard club, but had to settle for 99 yards on 18 carries. Cizek, putting the ball in the air on nearly every play in a desperate attempt to get back in the game at the end, wound up throwing 24 passes. Eight of them went to the intended target for 83 yards.

Thief River Falls will go on the road for the first time Friday when the Prowlers play a 7:30 p.m. game at Belcourt, ND.

Mistakes cost Rebels, 37-20

Warren turned three Middle River-Marshall County Central errors into 18 first quarter points Friday and the Ponies went on to out-score the Rebels 37-20 in a Valley Plains Conference high school football game played at Newfolden.

The Rebels had the Ponies backed into a third-and-14 situation before Mike Roux and Steve Sedlacek teamed up on an 82-yard touchdown pass to start the scoring. Moments later a Middle River-Marshall County Central fumble set up an 11-yard Roux-to-Ben Ranstrom touchdown pass, and the Rebels' early-game misfortune continued when a blocked punt wound up producing an 8-yard Jeremy Marstad touchdown run.

It was 31-0 at halftime when Aaron Molacek and Ben Nichols caught touchdown passes covering 68 and 21 yards from Roux and Ryan Aakre, respectively.

"The game was over at halftime," said Middle River-Marshall County Central coach Eldon Sparby. "Those 18 points in the first quarter just broke our backs. We just made too many mistakes."

Middle River-Marshall County Central comeback hopes were thwarted, too, when quarterback John Sparby left the game with an ankle injury on the first play of the second quarter.

"We hurt ourselves with fumbles and interceptions," mentioned Eldon Sparby, looking at a stat sheet that showed four fumbles, an interception and the blocked punt.

The Rebels' scoring came at the end when David Blazek scored on fourth quarter runs of 80, 33 and 2 yards. He finished with night with 196 yards on 13 carries. The Rebels out-rained the Ponies 245-158 on the ground, but a 5-for-12, 62-yard Middle River-Marshall County Central passing game paled in comparison to a 6-for-8, 209-yard air effort by Warren.

"We knew that it (pass defense) would be a problem," acknowledged Sparby. "They didn't run the ball very well on us when we faced them in the jamboree earlier, so we knew they would put the ball in the air this time. We had been working on a pass rush all week in practice, bot they still beat us with the pass."

Middle River-Marshall County Central fell to 0-3 with the loss. The Rebels will be on the road Friday – a Valley Plains Conference game at Ada-Borup.

Pioneers start with 3-4 mark

A busy season-opening schedule for the 1991 Northland Community College volleyball team found the Pioneers playing seven matches in five days – producing a 3-4 record in a Friday dual vs. Rainy River, a Saturday Minnesota Community College Conference Northwest-Northeast Division Invitational at the University of Minnesota-Crookston and a Monday triangular at UND-Lake Region.

The Pioneers will play Itasca Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Northland gym before heading back to Crookston Saturday for the UMC invitational.

"We're very happy, overall, with our performances," said Northland coach Deb Jacobson after the three outings. "We played some very good volleyball at times. We did have some lapses, though. Our conditioning still isn't the greatest, and our concentration level isn't always where it should be."

Hitters Jill Brandt (Plummer) and Cheri Bjorgaard (Thief River Falls), along with setter Rhonda Smsky (Goodridge) were the Pioneers' first-week leaders, according to Jacobson. Tori Hughes (Plummer) was lost to an ankle injury during a first-match outing in Saturday's tournament at UMC.

Northland - Itasca

Northland opened the season at home against Rainy River Friday night, dropping a 3-0 decision.

The slow-starting Pioneers warmed up as the evening wore on, but couldn't catch the Voyageurs, who left with a 15-2, 15-8, 15-11 sweep.

Northwest-Northeast Invitational

An eight-team, two-pool MCCC Northwest-Northeast Division invitational at UMC Saturday produced a 2-2 Northland split.

Fergus Falls stopped Northland in the first round 15-9, 15-6. The Pioneers came back to beat Itasca 15-3, 13-15, 15-13, but Hibbing downed Northland 16-14, 15-5 in Round 3.

The 1-2 pool showing sent Northland against Rainy River in a match-up of third place finishers in the final round. The Pioneers gained a measure of revenge for the season-opening loss the night before by beating the Voyageurs 15-9, 9-15, 15-8.

UND-Lake Region Triangular

Northland turned in a strong effort, but came up short on the scoreboard in a 15-8, 15-9 loss to Northern State of Aberdeen, SD to start Monday's triangular in Devils Lake, ND.

The Pioneers finished with a split, though, by beating the host Royals 5-15, 15-2, 15-12.

Babe Ruth uniforms should be returned

There are still a number of Babe Ruth players who have not yet returned their uniforms from the 1991 season, it was pointed out by the Thief River Falls Babe Ruth baseball board.

Players who still have uniforms are asked to call Myron Peterson at 681-2798.

Itasca passing game topples Northland 27-20...

Vikings beat Pioneers

A rarity occurred Saturday when the Northeast Division came up with a clean sweep over the Northwest Division in the opening week of the 1991 Minnesota Community College Conference football season.

Northland was one of the victims, dropping a 27-20 decision to Itasca at Grand Rapids. Elsewhere, Hibbing shut out Brainerd 28-0, Vermilion handled the University of Minnesota-Crookston 20-7 and Mesabi stopped Fergus Falls 24-7.

It was a disappointing MCCC opener for the Pioneers, who fell to 0-2 overall. "It was definitely a game we should have won," said Northland coach Rick Nelson. "They made the big plays, and we didn't."

Touchdown runs of 29 yards by Kevin Massiah and 22 yards by Shawn Campell gave Northland a 12-6 first quarter edge. But Itasca, after scoring on a 4-yard Joel Vos run in the first quarter, came back to take a 21-12 halftime lead on a 15-yard Eric Wolff pass to Nate O'Gorman and a 2-yard Robby Ott run.

A 14-yard Wolff-to-O'Gorman pass stretched the Itasca lead to 27-12 midway through the third quarter.

Reggie Drummond hooked up with Dennis Carpenter for a 23-yard touchdown on the final play of the third quarter, and Massiah added the two-point conversion as the Pioneers pulled within 27-20.

A couple of opportunities to catch the Vikings slipped away from the Pioneers down the stretch, however, as a 50-yard run was called back on a penalty; a fourth-and-six fourth down pass from the 39 fell just out of the reach of the Northland receiver at the 5-yard line; and a seven-yard run to start a drive with three minutes left was aborted by a fumble.

Itasca wound up with a 357-261 edge in offensive yards, highlighted by 17-for-27 passing effort by Wolff for 240 yards. O'Gorman caught four of them for 103 yards.

Northland's offense featured a 124-yard rushing performance on 20 carries by Massiah, despite a second half leg injury. Drummond was 7-for-15 passing for 66 yards, with Dennis Carpenter catching six for 60 yards.

"Offensively I thought we played fairly well," mentioned Nelson. "The offensive line controlled the line of scrimmage, and our run defense was pretty decent. But our pass defense was horrid. We didn't put any pressure on them with our pass rush; we were too tentative when we blitzed; and our pass coverage was poor."

Northland has a difficult assignment this week with a 1:30 p.m. Saturday game against Vermilion – considered an MCCC title contender – in Ely. The Pioneers' first conference home game will be a Sept. 28 match-up with Hibbing.

Sacred Heart wins MCC Invitational

East Grand Forks Sacred Heart beat Lake of the Woods 2-0, Stephen 2-1 and Badger-Greenbush 2-0 Saturday to win championship honors at the Marshall County Central Invitational high school volleyball tournament in Newfolden.

The two teams Sacred Heart beat en route to the finals also had trophy-winning finishes as Stephen, a 2-0 quarterfinal winner over Middle River, bounced back from the semi-final loss to Sacred Heart with a 2-0 victory over Argyle in the third place match, while Lake of the Woods came back from the first round loss to Sacred Heart with a 2-0 decision over Middle River and a 2-1 victory over Marshall County Central for the consolation title.

"It was a good tournament," said coach Mark Jorgenson of the host Nordics. "There were a lot of good

Blue Devils 21-6 winner over H-K

Grygla-Goodridge scored on its first possession Friday and the Blue Devils went on to beat Hallock-Kennedy 21-6 in Top of the State Conference nine-man high school football at Goodridge.

A 17-yard Mitch Bernstein to Donovan Quam touchdown pass and a Jeremy Rychlock conversion kick gave the Blue Devils an early 7-0 lead.

Justin Lunsetter scored on a 4-yard run and Quam caught the two-point conversion pass from Bernstein for a 15-0 halftime edge.

It became 21-0 on an 8-yard Jason Grandstrand touchdown run in the third quarter.

Hallock-Kennedy averted a shutout with a late-game 1-yard Ryan Younggren touchdown run.

The win put Grygla-Goodridge at 2-1 for the year. The Blue Devils will meet Tri-County Friday at at 7:30 p.m. in Karlstad.

"The kids played pretty well," reported Grygla-Goodridge coach Darwin Hagen, whose team bounced back from a 24-0 loss to Kittson County North the week before.

Yards were hard to come by on both sides, noted Hagen, who cited the defensive play by Rychlock and Blaine at the tackles. They provided some instant size, mentioned Hagen, in their first appearances of the 1991 season.

Most of the Grygla-Goodridge line-up is finally in place, pointed out Hagen, although the Blue Devils were without the services of injured Shane Wilkens (shoulder) and Travis Kotrba (back).

Freshmen lose 22-20

East Grand Forks overcame a 20-8 third quarter deficit to beat visiting Thief River Falls 22-20 Thursday in freshman high school football.

Thief River Falls scored on a 45-yard Brian Howe run, a Steve Burslie pass to Eric Bjorgaard and a 4-yard Burslie run.

Thief River Falls, 1-1, plays at Crookston Thursday.

Waterfowl dates set

Two notable changes will be implemented in Minnesota duck and goose hunting regulations this fall: the duck season will be split into three parts to provide late hunting opportunity, and waterfowl hunting will begin one-half hour before sunrise daily after the noon opener on Saturday, Oct. 5, according to Department of Natural Resources (DNR) officials. The official announcements were made by DNR official Thursday in St. Paul.

"In the waterfowl producing areas that contribute to Minnesota's fall flight, duck and goose populations are similar to last year," said Tim Bremicker, chief of the DNR section of Wildlife.

"Duck harvest rates have been very low with the conservative seasons of the past few years," said Bremicker. "The reduced season length and bag limits of the past few years will continue and will maintain the low harvest rates.

"Goose populations are doing well, however," Bremicker said, "so we will continue with the more liberal regulations provided during last year's goose season."

Ducks

The 1991 Minnesota duck hunting season will be open during three segments: from noon Saturday, Oct. 5, through Sunday, Oct. 13; from Thursday, Oct. 17, through Sunday, Nov. 3; and from Friday, Nov. 8, through Sunday, Nov. 10. Shooting hours will be from one-half hour before sunrise to 4 p.m. daily through Oct. 18 (except noon to 4 p.m. on the opener Oct. 5) and from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset beginning Saturday, Oct. 19.

Daily bag limit of ducks is three, and may include no more than two mallards (only one of which may be a female), one black duck, two wood ducks, one pintail and one redhead. The possession limit is six, including no more than four mallards (only two of which may be females), two black ducks, four wood ducks, two pintails and two redheads. The season on canvasbacks is closed.

Daily bag limit of mergansers is five, only one of which may be a hooded merganser. The possession limit is twice the daily bag limit.

Daily bag and possession limit for coots are 15 and 30, respectively.

A fall flight of ducks similar to that of 1990 is predicted. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, with input from the flyway councils and the public, recommended seasons similar to 1990.

"The shooting hour and split season changes for the 1991 duck season will provide more hunter opportunity without substantially increasing harvest," noted Bremicker. "Season length and bag limit, the main regulatory factors affecting duck harvest, remain unchanged."

Geese

The Minnesota goose season will begin statewide at one-half hour before sunrise on Saturday, Sept. 28. The bag limit will be seven geese daily, including no more than two white-fronted geese, one Canada goose in the West Central Goose Zone (including the Lac qui Parle Zone), or two Canada geese in the remainder of the state. Possession limits are double the daily bag limits. Shooting hours will be the same as for ducks, ending at 4 p.m. daily from Sept. 28 through Oct. 18. Shooting hours for geese will also begin at noon on Oct. 5, the opening day of the duck season.

The 70-day goose hunting season in the Southeast Goose Zone will close on Friday, Dec. 6. In addition, late December Canada goose hunts will be conducted for the fifth year

Bemidji tops TRF 3-1 in volleyball

Bemidji defeated Thief River Falls 3-1 Thursday in a late-reported high school volleyball match played at Bemidji.

The Lumberjacks won 15-8, 8-15, 17-15, 15-12.

It was the second straight North Sub-Section 8AA setback for the Prowlers, who lost a 3-0 home court match to Detroit Lakes earlier in the week.

Despite the setback, Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson said "I thought we played a pretty good match. I was [illegible] with our serves (95 percent) [illegible] compared to a shaky 83 percent [illegible] against Detroit Lakes [illegible] serve reception [illegible] work, but it's coming along.

Mustangs struggle in 38-6 defeat

Red Lake County Central saw its record drop to 1-2 Friday when the Mustangs lost a 38-6 North Tri-County Conference high school football game to Ulen-Hitterdal at Ulen.

It was a disappointing outing for the Mustangs, who will play their first home game of the 1991 season Friday when they meet Kelliher-Northome at 7 p.m. in Oklee. "We just weren't mentally ready to play football," said Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brantl. "They (Ulen-Hitterdal) played well, but we just weren't in it. I guess I have to take some of the blame for that. I guess I didn't do a very good job preparing them. We had a very disappointing first half."

Ulen-Hitterdal had a 30-0 cushion at halftime. Only Red Lake County Central scoring came on defense – a 40-yard pass interception return by Eric Kolstoe.

The Mustangs netted just 68 yards on the ground and had 82 yards passing, although it took 38 attempts to get that. "We knew we would have trouble moving the ball against them, but we didn't think it would be 38-6," said Brantl.

Ulen-Hitterdal quarterback Aaron Durkop started the scoring with a tackle-breaking 20-yard touchdown run. He later connected on touchdown passes covering 20, 14 and 10 yards.

Kolstoe rushed for 50 carries on 13 attempts for the Mustangs and was 7-for-26 passing for 42 yards. Jay Malwitz and Jacob Melby both caught three passes.

Defensively, Bernie DeHate and Jamie Hruby led Red Lake County Central with 13 and 10 tackles, respectively.

DNR News

Bob Hautman's acrylic painting of a pair of Barrow's goldeneyes in flight has been chosen as the design for the 1992 Minnesota Migratory Waterfowl Stamp.

Hautman's painting was judged best among 101 entries in the contest, held Sept. 5 at the Wood Lake Nature Center in Richfield. Hautman, a resident of Plymouth, also won the contest in 1988.

Tied for second place were Bruce Miller of Mound, who painted a ring-necked duck, and Jim Hautman of Plymouth, who painted a pair of common mergansers. A painting of Barrow's goldeneye by Darrel Bush of St. Louis Park took fourth place. Other finalists and their subjects were Brian Jarvi of Grand Rapids, ring-necked duck; Phil Sholer of Kasson, green-winged teal; David Maas of Long Lake, green-winged teal; Louis Raymer of Minneapolis, black duck; and Anthony Hilscher of Plymouth, green-winged teal.

The contest was judged in three rounds, with 23 paintings making it to the second stage of judging and nine to the final stage. Judges this year were Tom Carlson, DNR waterfowl habitat specialist from Fergus Falls; Don Dinndorf, executive director of the Minnesota Conservation Federation; Bob Schranck, principal writer for Outdoor News; artist Dan Smith, last year's contest winner; Jim Pichner, curator of birds at the Minnesota Zoo; and Bob Koenke, publisher of Wildlife Art News.

The $5 Minnesota Migratory Waterfowl Stamp is required for all Minnesota waterfowl hunters ages 18 through 64. Stamp sales generate between $400,000 and $600,000 each year for habitat enhancement projects in state wildlife management areas and designated waterfowl lakes.

Bemidji collected six straight points to break a 5-5 tie en route to the 15-8 Game 1 win. Thief River Falls started Game 2 with a 10-0 run before duplicating the Lumberjacks' 15-8 victory.

A see-saw third game included a 13-10 Thief River Falls lead; a 14-13 Bemidji edge; and a 15-14 advantage for the Prowlers before the Lumberjacks won the extended contest 17-15 for a 2-1 match edge.

Bemidji started Game 4 with an 8-1 cushion, but Thief River Falls came back to tie it at 11-11 and 12-12 before surrendering the match-ending 15-12 contest.

Nessa Anderson and Toni Chiodo had double-figure performances at the service line for the Prowlers with 18 and 12 points, respectively, while Chiodo and Kathy Kvick were the last-touch point leaders with 11 and 10, respectively. Kvick finished with 10 kills and Chiodo had seven.

"Everyone played pretty solid volleyball," said Helen Anderson, who had special praise for the efforts of Nessa Anderson. "Nessa has really improved in her back row play and serving."

Earlier in the evening, Thief River Falls was a 2-0 winner in junior varsity and C-I play, and a 2-1 winner in C-II action.

Chiodo was named the Prowlers' varsity Player of the Week by the coaching staff for her efforts against the Lakers and Lumberjacks. "Toni's aggressiveness and enthusiasm is really an asset to the team," pointed out Anderson.

Similar Player of the Week honors went to Kristi Lindberg, junior varsity; Keri Schommer, C-I; and Angie Efta, C-II.

TRF Scoring

Service points - Nessa Anderson 18, Toni Chiodo 12, LuAnne Maslowski 8, Kristi Lindberg 4, Jamie Martell 4, Ali Peterson 3, Amy Erikson 3.

Last-touch points - Toni Chiodo 11, Kathy Kvick 10, Nessa Anderson 8, Kelly Skalm 6, LuAnne Maslowski 4, Kristi Lindberg 2, Ali Person 2, Carie Lawrence 1.

Clair Larson, Gary Lane and Ray Johnson representing the Pennington County Soil & Water Conservation District met with the County Board to discuss their 1992 budget request of $43,723. The County Board will hold over their decision until after review of the County Budget.

County Assessor, Gerry DeHaan met with the County Board to review his 1992 budget.

Acting Engineer George Broadwell brought up an old Soo Line Railroad bill for replacing a culvert in 1981. The bill was put on hold until County Attorney, Dave Olin has a chance to review it. It was then noted that the Bridge Engineer, Robert Tomezak had made a recommendation that Longe Bridge be posted at 8 ton's. The County Board agreed to post it at 8 tons as per Mr. Tomezak's recommendation.

George then asked the County Board to write off 3 bad debts listed on the Highway Department Accounts Receivable. Commissioner Swanson moved, seconded by Commissioner Murphy to write off the accounts receivable amount listed under Future Fuel, Inc. for work done at the Solid Waste Facility. Motion unanimously carried. The other 2 accounts receivables will remain on the books.

Donna Myhrer, Director of the Pennington County Historical Society requested a $8,000 1992 appropriation and asked that the County Board authorize the Highway Department to help fill in the pit in the old settling tank at the Pioneer Village. The Board referred the request for funds to the budget and asked George Broadwell to work with the Historical Society to fill in the settling tank floor.

Howard Person, County Extension Ag Agent requests the County Board adopt a special levy of $1,974 so that Pennington County would be eligible for the Local Water Resource Protection and Management Program grant in the amount of $35,526. These funds are to be used to implement the County's Local Water Plans.

Commissioner Swanson moved, Commissioner Murphy seconded the motion to approve a 1992 special levy of $1,974 for implementation of Pennington County's Comprehensive Local Water plans. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Board then proceeded to review quotes for a new or used Skidsteer Loader for the Solid Waste Facility. The following quotes were received:

Schmalz Industries, Thief River Falls, MN - New Hydra-Mac 1600 - $18,950, Used Hydra Mac 14 CV - $9,950

OMI, West Fargo, ND - New Ramrod 584B - $16,107.52, New Hydra Mac 1600 - $19,381.83

Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to approve the purchase of the used Hydra Mac 14 CV from Schmalz Industries for $9,950.00. Motion unanimously carried.

Rick Nordhagen was present and wanted to discuss with the County Board the Compost screener that Dale Wannberg and him had looked at in Lake of the Woods County. He has taken a sample of our Compost to Lake of the Woods County and ran it through their Screener with good results. It was felt that a screener similar to this one could be built for approximately $5,000. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Swanson that Pennington County authorize Wannberg's to begin construction of a compost screener for the Solid Waste Facility and that the County Auditor would be authorized to pay $2,500 to Wannberg's for cost of the materials. Motion unanimously carried.

Rick then discussed meetings coming up with Crystal Sugar and Walhalla regarding pellet sales. He also reviewed the Solid Waste Management Facility Inspection Report. The only item noted on the report was that Pennington County does not have an Industrial Waste Management Plan. Also discussed was the repairs needed on the Kenworth truck if it was to pass inspection. The County Board asked Rick Nordhagen to hold on those repairs for now and bring this up to the Solid Waste Committee.

Eugene Plasteggard, County Recorder, Deb Zak, County Extension Director and Allan Monroe, Motor Vehicle Supervisor all reviewed their 1992 budget with the County Board. The County Board also reviewed a contract between Deputy Registrar's and the Department of Public Safety for access to Drivers License and Motor Vehicle Computer records.

The following resolution was introduced by Commissioner Penning, seconded by Commissioner Swanson and upon vote unanimously carried.

BE IT RESOLVED that the County of Pennington enter into an agreement with the State of Minnesota Department of Public Safety for the purpose of receiving from the State of Minnesota Department of Public Safety's Driver and Vehicle Services Division direct computer access to driver license and motor vehicle records maintained by the Driver and Vehicle Services Division for use by the County's Deputy Registrar.

State Housing Finance Agency loans available

Many Minnesotans like to consider fall their favorite season of the year. But mixed in with the cooler days and spectacular leaf colors can be increasing energy costs. You can still enjoy all the splendor of fall without the rising energy costs by taking advantage of a Home Energy Loan which is available through the Minnesota Housing Finance Agency.

Home energy loans are available to Minnesota homeowners through participating lending institutions at the attractive annual percentage rate of 8-7/8 per cent. Homeowners can borrow from $1,000 to $5,000. The loan term, a maximum of five years, is based on loan amount and household budget.

The loans can be used for most improvements that increase a home's energy efficiency, including furnace replacement or modification, insulation, storm windows and doors, water heater replacement, weather stripping and caulking.

Home energy loans are available to Minnesotans who are owner-occupants of single-family homes, and who are considered a reasonable credit risk with the ability to repay the loan.

Homeowners who are interested in additional information can contact a participating lending institution directly or call the Minnesota Housing Finance Agency for a free brochure and list of participating lenders. Residents in Greater Minnesota can use 1-800-652-9747 and ask for "Home Energy Loans."

Those interested in information about energy saving home improvements can contact the Energy Information Center at the Minnesota Department of Public Service by calling the toll-free number listed above and asking for the "Energy Information Center."

Grovum to represent MEA on Minnesota 2000

Elaine Grovum of Thief River Falls is one of 29 members of the Minnesota Education association serving on a group of 140 planners of Minnesota 2000, a community-based initiative to improve education for Minnesota school children.

Cooperating in the program are the Minnesota Business Partnership, Minnesota Department of Education and Gov. Arne Carlson.

Minnesota 2000 is intended to help communities and their schools develop locally-generated ways to help students meet the six national goals for education adopted by President George Bush, the nation's governors and affiliates of the National Education association. These goals are that by the year 2000:

(1) All children in America will start school ready to learn;

(2) The high school graduation rate will increase to at least 90 per cent;

(3) American students will leave grades four, eight and 12 having demonstrated competency over challenging subject matter including English, mathematics, science, history and geography;

(4) U.S. students will be the first in the world in mathematics and science achievement;

(5) Every American adult will be literate and will possess the knowledge and skills needed to compete in a global economy; and

(6) Every school in America will be free of drugs and violence and will offer a disciplined environment conducive to learning.

"Minnesota is fortunate in some ways," states Robert Astrup, MEA president. "We already have the highest high school graduation rate in the nation—more than 90 per cent. Our students' test scores rank fourth in the nation. Our adult literacy rate tops that of most states. But we can—and must—do more.

"Combining state resources, private funding and the energy and initiative of community leaders and local educators, we can create locally developed plans that will help every child be successful and every adult reach his or her potential."

Kicking off the Minnesota 2000 activities was a symposium Thursday, September 12, at the Minneapolis Convention center featuring Lamar Alexander, U.S. Secretary of Education.

TRF blood drive on Sept. 25-26

Sixty-six units of blood is the collection goal for the blood drive to be conducted in Thief River Falls September 25 and 26 by United Blood Services under local sponsorship by the Eagles Auxiliary.

Hours of the drive are noon to 6 p.m. Wednesday, September 25, and 7:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Thursday, September 26 at the chapel area of Northwest Medical center.

Coordinator Kay Nelson noted that members of the auxiliary conduct a calling campaign to schedule appointments for donors. If donors follow their appointment times there is very little waiting for any donor, she said. The entire process should take less than an hour.

Nelson said she would like every person to consider the drive an invitation to personal action—"the satisfying action of donating blood for people in great need."

In this area more than 3,000 units of blood are needed each month to supply the needs of patients served by United Blood Services. The human body is still the only source for blood and donations by caring individuals are necessary for blood to be available when needed.

To make an appointment to donate, call 681-2377 (days) or 681-4760 (evenings).

Nominations open for Farm woman of year

Deadline for submitting nominations for the Farm Woman of the Year award has been extended to October 1, according to members of North Dakota and Minnesota Agri-Women chapters, sponsors of the Harvest of Knowledge Agri-Women's conference scheduled for Friday, November 1, at the Westward Ho motel in Grand Forks, ND.

Among items on the agenda is a seminar to be presented by Diedre Nordin and Maryel Anderson of Thief River Falls entitled "The Energy Crisis—Yours, Mine and Hours." Featured luncheon speaker will be Dr. Richard A Hanson, assistant director, human development, with the NDSU extension service in Fargo, ND.

Rotating workshops during the day will cover topics such as rural health, water quality, home landscaping, communicating with legislators and building interpersonal skills. A highlight will be selection of the Red River Valley Farm woman of the Year, chosen from county winners. Terry Dullum of WDAZ-TV will be the dinner speaker.

Registration for the day's activities costs $20, including the noon luncheon and dinner. Dinner tickets only are $10. Karen Landman of Route 1, Box 141, Northwood, ND, is in charge of registration and encourages women to register early to assure space availability at the workshops.

Purpose of the conference is to help farm women become better communicators for agriculture, better partners in the business of agriculture and open lines of communication between agricultural and non-agricultural communities. Organizers state that the conference is open to everyone and men are especially invited.

Changes made in state open burning rules

Changes in the Minnesota rule regulating open burning were approved in August by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) Citizens Board. The rule clarifies conditions under which open burning is allowed and eliminates the need for MPCA permits in most of rural Minnesota.

Under the new rule, individuals may burn wood or other vegetative materials without an MPCA permit except within city boundaries. Municipal or county authorities must be notified in advance, however, as well as local Department of Natural Resources personnel in forest areas.

MPCA permits are still required in cities, for permanent tree and brush burning sites and fire training. Municipalities and metropolitan-area counties may apply to the MPCA for authority to issue burning permits for their jurisdictions.

Included in the rule is a list of purposes for which burning is allowed, requirements for conducting open burning and a list of materials that are prohibited from burning. The rule is expected to become effective in early October.

Anyone planning open burning is encouraged to contact the MPCA, even if no permit is required, for a fact sheet summarizing the rule. Fact sheets are available at any of the MPCA's regional offices or by calling the MPCA information office. From inside Minnesota call 1-800-652-9747 and ask for the MPCA.

GOD'S LOVE APPEARS IN THE FLAMING COLORS OF AUTUMN

When summer's heat has taken flight,
The frost descending in the night
Will paint the trees with colors bright,
That morning will unfold;
And coming with the cooler days,
In keeping with this yearly phase,
The sight of branches all ablaze
Is awesome to behold.
On countryside or in the town,
Those leaves that later fade to brown
Proclaim, as they come drifting down,
The year is growing old.
Our House of Worship's lessons show
The love of God, that we should know
From autumn's beauty, all aglow
With shades of red and gold.

The first-time blood drive was sponsored by the Plummer Lions club with Bob Johanning as coordinator. Assisting were Dean Miller, Ferd DeHate, Gary Brantl, Merle and Becky Jesme, Art and Avis Froiland, Margaret Greenwald and Stella Howard. Deb Duchamp arranged for space in the community hall.

Carlson herd leads

Mylo Carlson dairy herd at Angus led the Pennington County DHIA for the month of June with an average daily production per cow of 67.4 pounds of milk and 2.22 pounds of butterfat. Eighty-nine per cent of Carlson's 62-cow herd was in milk.

Lyle Swanson of rural Thief River Falls was second with average production of 63.2 pounds of milk and 2.20 pounds of butterfat while Kelly and Gary Lundeen of Trail were third with 62.4 pounds of milk and 2.10 pounds of butterfat. Eighty-six per cent of Swanson's 42-cow herd and 98 per cent of the Lundeen's 42-cow herd was in milk.

Other herds in the top 10 in the Pennington association included the following with number of cows in the herd, percentage in milk, pounds of milk and pounds of butterfat listed respectively.

Tony and Sheila Salentine, 45 cows, 96%, 61.4 and 2.02. Orlan and Joel Stolaas, 39, 95%, 57.1 and 1.77, Walter Bros. Farm, 103, 81%, 55.7 and 1.90; Mark Hanson (three times per day milking), 52, 73%, 54.1 and 1.88; Pearson Bros., 41, 88%, 54.0 and 1.92; Warren Hamrick & Sons, 94, 95%, 54.0 and 1.77, and Tom and Marvin Koop, 30, 97%, 49.5 and 1.79.

Because milk production for the month is averaged out over all the cows in the herd, the number of dry cows affects the overall average. Averaging gives the dairyman a record of the herd's earning power for the month.

There were 22 official DHIA herds and four Owner Sampler herds on test with the association for the month of June.

A Fitting Tribute To Bob Farmes, Conservationist

This Saturday afternoon will be the official dedication of a memorial to Robert E. Farmes and it will be a fitting tribute to a man who devoted much of his life to conservation and preservation of this area's natural resources.

Farmes worked for more than 37 years in northwestern Minnesota with what is now the state's department of natural resources. When we first met Bob about 35 years ago his department was called the Minnesota Department of Conservation. In many ways we wish that the name change hadn't taken place, because conservation is a good term and a good idea. Farmes was a firm believer in conservation—a wise use of our natural resources.

That belief and that firm resolve to conserve and protect wetlands sometimes was an unpopular stance to take in an agricultural area where the products of wetlands and croplands were at odds. Flocks of foraging ducks that sometimes in wet years swarmed on to grain fields in the area in the fall left farmers understandably upset with anything and anyone that promoted or supported waterfowl production. A long-term perspective is difficult to accept when your current year's living is being trampled and gobbled up by flocks of waterfowl.

Improvement in grain production techniques, including straight combining and grain drying which have shortened the harvest season, coupled with a significant drop in waterfowl numbers, have mitigated the depredation which was indeed a major problem at times. Wet years which contributed to delayed harvest have also cycled into a more dry weather pattern. While many farmers still talk of ducks in the same way they talk of grasshoppers, army worms and hail storms, complaints about waterfowl are not as vociferous as they once were.

Bob Farmes was a public official who looked to the future from a perspective of the past. He had seen the disappearance of natural wetlands throughout Minnesota as well as elsewhere in the nation. He knew that the trend would continue unless wetlands under public ownership were withheld from private development, and he fought not only for their preservation but for funding for their development. One of his favorite areas was the territory around Ditch 200 northeast of Thief River Falls—the area generally known as the Elm Lake area.

Value of these natural lands has still not been realized, and it may be many years before they are fully appreciated. But that time will come, and indeed it is being realized by more and more people every year. Bob Farmes was ahead of his time and too often without visible support from even those who most steadfastly shared his vision.

Restoration of Elm Lake to its pre-drainage water levels was one of Bob's dreams. Thanks now to people who care about the waterfowl resources of the nation and have pooled their funds through an organization called Ducks Unlimited, money was available to accomplish privately what may never have been possible with public funds. Impoundment dikes and water control structures are in place and as nature provides rain and spring run-off the lake bottom will be covered with water once again.

Private funds have also been pooled (an appropriate term) to erect a memorial to Farmes at the water control structure on the Elm Lake project. The the ceremonies this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the control structure on the project, Elm Lake will be officially changed to carry the name Robert E. Farmes Pool. It will be a proper tribute to not only the man but to the idea that conservation begins here and now with each of us. And it should be a constant reminder to all those who use and enjoy the area and its wildlife that the foresight and determination shown by Farmes made it possible to preserve the area for the enjoyment of all.

To The Editor:

Gambling a moral issue?

Church quilt raffles and Bingo; lottery tickets and pull tabs sold at grocery stores, bars and clubs; raffles of Ducks Unlimited and Minnesota Deer Hunters association banquets; Pennington county fair pickup raffle; Chamber of Commerce, Lions club, 4-H club and other service club raffles—these are a few examples of gambling.

According to Webster's New World Dictionary, the definition of gambling is (1) games of chance for money, etc.; (2) to take a risk for some advantage.

If we as a community oppose the casino because of moral issues then we must do away with all gambling including the ones listed above. There is no gray area; we must be consistent in our views.

If you feel the casino is morally wrong, I would assume you would not partake in any of the above-mentioned activities. Therefore, if the casino is not permitted because of moral issues, we must not allow any gambling in our community.

Sincerely,
Joe Ose

To The Editor:

We're 20-year "newcomers" to Thief River Falls, but we always appreciated our really fine city, and especially so when our house burned in 1989. In rebuilding we determined to keep our business here, and we never regretted it and have continued to try to support our local business people as much as possible.

Now we have two questions for our local business people. First, you who voted against the proposed casino, would you be brave enough to go public so we can continue to patronize you, and encourage others to do so?

Secondly, you who voted for the proposed casino in our city, do any of you have sons, daughters, grandsons or granddaughters that you would be concerned about if they became involved in the gambling, or the other vices and social problems that are inevitably going to come with this venture? Is making more money honestly your highest priority in your short life?

We have no family here, though our interest is with young children every day and our concern is still just as great. We would urge each of you who is concerned to be at the Tuesday evening meeting; 5 p.m. is not a realistic time for many of us, but neither is the addition of a casino realistic for the good of our community.

Let's all make the effort to show our concern for the best for Thief River Falls. The younger generations may have to live with this decision for a very long time. Our presence at this meeting will send a message to Governor Carlson, and will inevitably help to influence his final decision on whether to grant permission for the gambling casino here in our city.

Sincerely,
Rodney M. and
Nancy E. Johnson
Thief River Falls

—It may be out of date to make a forthright declaration of war, but President Roosevelt's address last Thursday evening was a reasonably accurate facsimile.

—After nosing out the Red Lake Falls football team by an elephant's nose, the Lincoln school Prowlers have aroused big expectations in local fans.

—Here's hoping there will be at least one prairie chicken for each hunter.

—A British society is promoting a home for aged golfers, and a colleague wants to know how old a golfer has to be before he becomes interested in a home.

—The sad fact remains that the drastically higher federal taxes now in prospect will scarcely make a dent in the treasury deficit.

—Hitler seems to have found his diet of Russian bear meat unexpectedly tough.

—When butter, eggs and other farm commodities go up a few more notches the honeymoon between labor and the farmer will be over.

—They'll soon have to stage a cleanup in Crookston. That town has ordered 20,000 rolls of serpentine for a carnival night early in October.

—Gopher Coach Bernie Bierman is again confronted with his pre-season task of discounting fans' expectations of another championship football team.

DNR uses a variety of deer management tools

DNR Information Officer, New Ulm

Taken to extremes, deer management could range from incredibly simple to absurdly complicated. On the one hand, you could have a single management plan to protect the state's entire deer population. Or, you could have a myriad of plans for every locale or landowner.

In the early days of deer management, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) tended toward keeping it simple. During the early part of the century, deep populations were very low and the major objective was to protect the herd to increase numbers. Regulated hunting seasons and habitat protection have accomplished that.

Since then, deer populations have increased steadily while land use practices and societal attitudes have changed dramatically. Consequently, in order to be more adaptive and innovative, the DNR's deer management strategy has become more complicated.

According to Jay McAninch, DNR deer research biologist, managing deer will, unfortunately, continue to become more complicated. Not only must the voice of the sports man and woman be heard (and they have several widely differing viewpoints), but so too must the concerns of the landowners and other interest groups be addressed. Add to this mix those who are opposed to hunting, and it quickly become apparent that one shoe will not fit all.

Prior to 1973, Minnesota offered the traditional either-sex hunt. The primary way to adjust the harvest was to adjust zone lines or season length. It was deer management on the large scale.

In 1971, the deer population plummeted and the season was closed. Although lack of suitable winter habitat and a succession of severe winters were considered the main causes, it also became obvious that deer management on a large scale was no longer the best method. Limited bucks-only hunting and "hunters choice" season options in succeeding years failed to adequately control deer harvests. Recognizing the need to control harvest of does and to manage populations on considerably smaller scales, the antlerless permit quota system was born in 1975.

Deer hunting, specifically antlerless permits, is the "most effective means of managing the deer population," McAninch stated. During the 1970s and 1980s, the antlerless permit system "took the peaks and valleys out of the deer population by giving us better control on smaller areas. But during the past decade, we've found the system has needed refinement in order to allow management programs to meet their objectives.

The first areas targeted for special management on this smaller scale were public lands such as wildlife manage areas, parks and refuges. Wildlife management areas such as Talcot Lake, Mille Lacs and Carlos Avery are special permit areas, as are various state parks and national wildlife refuges such as Agassiz, Big Stone and Sherburne.

"Unlike most private land, public land is often intensively managed for wildlife," McAninch noted. "Naturally, those areas are going to have more deer than the surrounding areas. However, antlerless permits had been issued based on the deer population for the entire permit area. In effect, you had a situation where there were not enough permits for the wildlife management areas, for example, but perhaps too many for the surrounding area." That problems has at least partially rectified with the advent of these special small permit areas.

Most antlerless permit areas range from several hundred square miles to about 1,000 square miles," McAninch pointed out. Special permit areas, on the other hand, are generally less than 100 square miles.

This year the DNR has taken the concept of special permit areas one step further by targeting private lands in an attempt to reduce deer depredation problems. "In areas where there has been chronic severe crop depredation, more local population control is needed," McAninch said. "This is the first time this has been done on private land in any state that I'm aware of."

McAninch explained that the sub-area concept "will give us a mechanism to focus an intensive removal effort where depredation problems have not been solved through the normal permit process. However, it is not a method that will be used very often. In most cases, the regular antlerless permit system will continue to work well.

The special sub-permit area will be open to public hunting on an experimental basis beginning this year in the primary orchard area of Permit Area 346 in southeastern Minnesota. Zone 3A firearms license holders will be eligible to apply for a permit to take a second antlerless deer in this 43-square-mile sub-area, which is all private land.

"As people and wildlife continue to live in closer and and closer proximity, we'll continue to see the need for more localized management techniques, although long-term control will remain the priority goal," McAninch noted. "One of our key hopes is that sub-unit permit areas will help put the hunter and the landowner on the same team so that each can realize their mutual goals."

DNR officials are anticipating that hunting this fall will produce the fifth record deer harvest in the past nine years. Antlerless permits have been increased 40 percent over 1990 to control the population, alleviate deer depredation problems, and provide additional hunting opportunities.

Conservation officers see violations

DNR Law Information Officer

Conservation officers will share Minnesota forests and farmlands this fall with nearly 600,000 hunters, most of whom will known and obey the laws. But each fall a pattern is repeated, said Leon Haseman, Department of Natural Resources Enforcement Division director. "Conservation officers will be encountering hunters making the same mistakes as in past years, often because they have not learned the hunting regulations."

Haseman said many hunting violations can be avoided by simply reading the regulations, which are available wherever hunting licenses are sold.

"Hunters simply must familiarize themselves with the basic laws before they go hunting," he said.

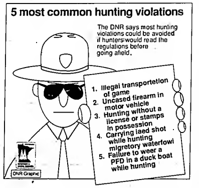
Haseman noted 10 common violations encountered by conservation officers:

- Illegal transportation of upland game birds. (The head and feet must be attached to the body when transporting upland game birds.)
- Illegal transportation of migratory waterfowl. (The waterfowl must have one fully-feathered wing attached during transportation.
- Uncased firearms in motor vehicles. (A firearm must be cased, with the case completely closed, zipped or tied.)
- Hunting without a license or stamps in possession. (Hunters must carry their licenses and waterfowl or pheasant habitat stamps while hunting.)
- Unsigned stamps. (Stamps must be signed on their face by the hunter to be valid for hunting.)
- Possession of lead shot when hunting ducks, geese, coots and other migratory waterfowl.
- Failure to have a life preserver (personal flotation device or PFD) in a duck boat while hunting.
- Shooting unidentified or misidentifed game. (Hunters should familiarize themselves with the appearance and markings of the game they are hunting and be certain before they shoot.)
- Early and late shooting. (Hunters must be aware of the shooting hours and the accurate time where they are hunting. Sunrise and sunset time schedules are printed in the regulations.)
- Shooting from a motorized watercraft while the motor is running.

"This fall it is essential to read the regulations, due to a number of changes this season," Haseman said. "For instance, a big step was taken by the Legislature to help ensure safe and ethical hunting in the future through passage of mandatory firearms safety training for all persons born after 1979."

The (DNR) Enforcement Division offers Firearm Safety Training, Advanced Hunter Education and Bowhunter Education Program clinics and seminars. Conservation officers and a dedicated corps of volunteers provide all Minnesotans with an opportunity to learn the true meaning of hunting through these courses, which combine education in techniques, ethics and safety," Haseman said.

5 most common hunting violations



The DNR says most hunting violations could be avoided if hunters would read the regulations before going afield.

1. Illegal transportetion of game
2. Uncased firearm in motor vehicle
3. Hunting without a license or stamps in possession
4. Carrying laed shot while hunting migretory waterfowl
5. Failure to weer a PFD in a duck boat while hunting

Prowlers chasing Moorhead, Detroit Lakes...

TRF volleyball team rebuilding

Moorhead, as usual, ranks as the favorite in North Sub-Section 8AA high school volleyball this fall.

Detroit Lakes, impressive in a recent 3-0 sweep over Thief River Falls, appears to be the Spuds' top challenger.

Thief River Falls, for a number of years, was a threat to the Moorhead championship reign, but the Prowlers now face a season-long rebuilding project following heavy graduation losses.

"I hate to keep saying it over and over, but we're so inexperienced," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "We're playing hard, and things are starting to click, but we just have to gain some more playing experience."

Sophomore Toni Chiodo has been a consistent solid performer in the early portion of the Prowlers' 1991 season, and senior Kathy Kvick, has showed signs of becoming a strong front row player, according to Anderson.

"We really have no individual standout-outs," said Anderson. "It's been a real team effort every time we go on the court."

If the Prowlers are to improve this fall, said Anderson, they will have to develop confidence in their play both offensively and defensively at the net. "For the most part, our serving and serve reception is pretty solid, but we have to become more aggressive with our hitting and our blocking at the net," she explained.

Swimmers expecting good year

Thief River Falls girls might not challenge for a team title when the 1991 Section 8 swimming and diving championships are held Nov. 8-9 at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, but individually, the Prowlers should do well, according to head coach Ryan Lokken.

A year ago Amy Adams advanced to the state in both the 50 freestyle and 100 backstroke, and was a member of the state meet-qualifying 200 freestyle relay team, along with Theresa Glauque, Linnea Dimich and Lisa Ulrich.

That entire relay team is back in the water for the Prowlers this fall, and Lokken figures they should be a contender for a repeat trip in 1991.

"I think we should have a chance to qualify two relays (200, 400 freestyle), and Amy could qualify in a couple of events again," offered Lokken. And we have a number of other girls who have good chances to advance, too."

Lokken goes so far to predict a possible state meet place finish for the 200 freestyle relay. "Right now, we've got the best 200 relay team in the section; we got six of the top freestyle swimmers in the section who can swim one of the 50's in the 200," he said, naming Adams, Dimich, Ulrich and Glauque, along with juniors Sanna Torgerson and Ingrid Morken.

Lokken said the Prowlers' early-season performances, have surpassed his expectations. "The kids are swimming really well. We've been doing even better than I thought we would."

Brainerd has emerged as a traditional power in Section 8 swimming, and Bemidji is expected to show well this fall. "We don't have the depth some of those teams have, but I think we've got a good chance to finish in the top three if our relays come through for us and if the other kids swim to their capabilities," offered Lokken.

1991 Section 8A high school football features balanced field...

Prowlers looking for playoff spot

Ten teams make up the Minnesota State High School League Section 8A football line-up. Eight of them earn a post-season playoff spot – based upon a coaches' seeding vote immediately following the completion of the regular season.

Detroit Lakes is the defending Section 8A champion, and the Lakers figure to present a strong title defense in 1991, although the pennant race is expected to be close.

"From top to bottom, I think our section is as balanced as it's ever been," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm.

The Lakers and Prowlers are joined in Section 8A football by Crookston, East Grand Forks, Fergus Falls, Park Rapids, Staples, Alexandria, Wadena and Little Falls.

Usually a 5-3 finish will produce a top-four spot and a home field edge for the Section 8A playoff quarterfinals.

Pairings and seeding positions are based on overall records, but emphasis is placed on results of sectional match-ups, pointed out Mumm. "The key is to beat people in the section," he said.

If the Prowlers stay healthy, they fit in well with the rest of the balanced sectional field, said Mumm. Thief River Falls did lose the service of junior Carter Rogalla in Week 2 when he suffered a dislocated elbow in a 24-14 loss to Detroit Lakes. The injury will keep Rogalla, who played extensively at wide receiver and cornerback, on the sidelines the rest of the year. "We'll miss Carter," said Mumm. "He's a good athlete.

1991 Northland Community College football...

Pioneers face MCCC football rivals

Minnesota Community College Conference (MCCC) features 15 teams in four state-wide divisions, with regular season divisional winners advancing to the MCCC state playoffs in November.

The divisional alignments include Northland, Brainerd, Fergus Falls and the University of Minnesota-Crookston in the Northwest; Hibbing, Itasca, Mesabi and Vermilion in the Northeast; Rochester, Willmar, Worthington and the University of Minnesota-Waseca in the South; and Anoka-Ramsey, Normandale and North Hennepin in the Central.

Northland, like the other three Northwest Division members, spends the first four weeks of MCCC-counting play facing Northeast Division teams before finishing the year with the Northwest match-ups. The Northwest-Northeast contests are worth one-half point in the MCCC standings, while divisional confrontations are worth a full point.

Sure-fire way to win a divisional title and earn a post-season berth, according to Northland coach Rick Nelson, is to sweep the Northwest games, while picking up at least a split in the four games against Northeast foes.

Northland's only title came in 1986. Brainerd won the following year, and Fergus Falls began the 1991 season with three straight Northwest Division crowns.

The 1991 Northwest Division race appears to be a wide open affair, according to Nelson, who expects Hibbing and Vermilion to head the Northeast Division with two of the stronger teams in the MCCC ranks.

"I'd like to think we will be right in it this year," said Nelson. "Barring any more injuries to key people (the Pioneers lost starting fullback Sylvester Davis to a broken leg in the season-opener against the Moorhead State University junior varsity), we hope to be there. It's a matter of staying healthy and picking up a couple of wins against the Northeast to be in position to win when you play the Northwest."

MCCC state playoff semifinals will be held Saturday, Nov. 2, when the Central champion hosts the Northwest winner and the Northeast champion entertains the South.

Fall fishing can be very productive

Contrary to popular belief, big fish are easy to catch in late fall – even after water and air temperatures drop below 50 degrees. A properly dressed angler can enjoy some of the season's best fishing without the hassles of recreational boat traffic and competition for key fish-holding areas.

Big fish move into shallows adjacent to drop-offs for late season feeding frenzies and are more vulnerable to lures and baits than any other time of the year. Locate a fall hotspot and you can count on it producing until ice covers the lake.

Of course, you may not catch as many fish as you did during the summer, but the bites you get will be from quality fish. Therefore, patience and concentration are vital, which makes dressing properly even more important.

Serious fisherman like to be on the water early and stay late. Since fall weather can change drastically throughout the day, it's best to dress in layers so clothing can be removed or added easily to ensure fishing comfort. And remember: Never judge how the weather "feels" to you at home.

Moose season will be held this fall

by Jim Reil,
DNR Information Officer, Bemidji

Minnesota's every-other year moose season will be confined to the northwest hunting zones this year. A dramatic decline in moose population estimates in northeastern Minnesota over the past two winters prompted wildlife officials with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to close the 1991 season in all 20 northeast area hunting zones. In that region, the population is down 55 percent from a record high estimate of 6,702 animals in 1988-89.

This year's population estimate in the northwest is up almost 40 percent from last year – a total of 2,771 moose. But that count still lags behind the five-year average estimate of 3,780 between 1982 and 1987.

Reduced moose numbers do not necessarily mean reduced hunting success, however, according to DNR Northwest Regional Wildlife Supervisor Jim Breyen. "With fewer hunters roaming the moose range, the hunter success rate this year is expected to be on par with years past," Breyen said. "The relatively open areas of the northwest range, compared to the larger forests and tougher terrain of the northeast, have yielded success rates of 80 to 88 percent for the past 10 seasons."

"The ultimate success of a moose hunt depends somewhat on weather conditions," continued Breyen, "and a great deal on the amount of time spent afield. Hunting parties that come well prepared, and are willing to spend some time in the field, should be able to find a moose this season."

A total of 365 permits will be available in 13 zones of the northwest moose range, allowing one moose of any age or either sex per party of four hunters. The season will run from Saturday Oct. 12, through Sunday, Oct. 20, except in the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge Zone 2 where the season will [illegible] Nov. 30-Dec. 8.

The 20 license-holding parties selected for the Agassiz Northwest Region will also be required to attend a pre-hunt orientation session.

Each season up to 20 percent of available licenses in Zones 3 through 17 are issued in a special landowner/tenant drawing, open only to certified landowners or tenants living on not less than 160 acres of agriculture or grazing land within the zone. This year, 41 landowner/tenant permits are being issued.

With the northwest moose population improved, but still lower than average, the total number of permits available is also down. The 365 licenses issued for 1991 is 19 percent lower than the 449 northwest area permits issued in 1989, and 53 percent less than the 772 issued in 1987. With the closing of the northeast season, this is the smallest number of permits issued since the biennial moose seasons began in 1971, when a total of 400 permits were offered.

The suspected cause of the recent population decline in the northeast is an aerial surveys conducted each winter is also down in the northeast and up in the northwest. In the northeast, this year's index dropped to just 29 calves per 100 cows, compared to a five-year average of almost 60 calves per 100 cows between 1984 and 1989. Recruitment among northwest area moose this year was 62 calves per 100 cows, up from 54 calves per 100 cows last year, and down only slightly from a five-year average of 68 calves per 100.

Breyen said wildlife researchers simply don't have enough information to determine if there are any links between the moose tick infestation and lower infestation of "moose ticks." The ticks latch onto a moose in the fall and spend the winter on the animal. As the ticks become engorged with blood in late winter, the moose attempts to rub them off on trees and brush, often removing large patches of hair in the process. The subsequent loss of its insulating winter coat leaves the moose vulnerable to the cold. In a weakened condition, the moose may die of exposure or other causes.

A similar situation was blamed for population declines observed in the northwest area during the winters of 1988-89 and 1989-90, when aerial survey estimates of moose numbers declined by 53 percent from the 1986-87 survey.

The calf production or recruitment index (measured by the number of calves observed for every 100 cows during the [illegible] recruitment rates. Increased mortality occurs in late winter or early spring, prior to calving season, while the calf per cow count is taken during the winter survey when the calves are about seven months old.

Five of the 18 northwest hunting zones will be closed this year because of low population densities. These include Zones 1A, 1B and 11 in eastern Roseau and the northernmost parts of Beltrami and Lake of the Woods counties (which have been closed for the past several seasons), plus Zones 12 and 13 in western Kittson and Marshall counties and the northwest corner of Polk County, where a handful of permits have been issued in past years.

Joel Davis leads TRF country runners

Two meets into the 1991 high school cross country season, Thief River Falls senior Joel Davis has established himself as one of the top runners in the area, finishing second in a season-opening effort at Roseau, then winning the Crookston Invitational.

"Joel can look forward to every meet with the possibility of winning it," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Lynn Dyer. "That's a very realistic possibility. And that has nothing to do with coaching or his work-outs. He's just a naturally athlete."

Davis was a state meet qualifier as a junior, and will have his sights set on a return trip to Minneapolis when the 1992 meet is held Nov. 2 at the University of Minnesota golf course.

"Joel is a strong runner with a very good finishing kick. If he's close at the end, he has a real shot at winning," said Dyer.

Overall, graduation losses has knocked the Prowlers' team strength down a notch, the coach admitted. "Team-wise, because of all the seniors we lost, it'll be a struggle," he said. "But overall, we've had some good performances so far. We'll just go out and try to improve from week-to-week."

Senior Stephanie Vigen and eighth grader Leah Helgenset are the top runners for the girls, but Helgenset will spend much of the 1991 season competing against runners her own age at the junior high/middle school level.

"Stephanie has the ability to have a real fine season," mentioned Dyer. "Our younger girls will probably be brought up at the end of the season to run varsity."

Most of the Thief River Falls regular season schedule is treated as a training exercise, according to Dyer. "We don't consider every meet life and death for us," he said. "Obviously you want to do well every time you compete, but we key our season around two meets – our Thief River Falls Invitational and region."

The annual Thief River Falls Sports Booster Invitational will be held Tuesday, Oct. 1, at the Thief River Golf Club.

Suggestions given for winter engine protection

When that first warm spring day beckons you to the water as a sure cure for cabin fever, will your boat and motor be as eager to go fishing? Not if you don't take time this fall to prepare it for the coming winter.

A lot can happen to the boat, motor and trailer that sits idle over the winter, especially if moisture settles in delicate areas.

Simplest solution is to take the rig to your local marine dealer for a thorough winterization, or you can do it yourself. In either case, you're protecting a major investment and ensuring a trouble-free spring when the weather breaks.

Here are some recommendations to follow to protect your rigs:

Boat

- Wash and wax the hull. Clean the interior and upholstery.
- Drain all water from hull and livewell lines and lubricate valves.
- Make sure batteries have a full charge and store them with fish finders in a dry area.
- Check all electrical wiring. Replace wires that are damaged.

Trailers

- Check wheel bearings and seals for wear or rust and repack them.
- Touch up rusted areas on trailer. Examine trailer wiring for loose connections, clean the bulb receptacles and lubricate them.
- Lubricate winch and replace rope if needed.
- Check tires for wear, and if necessary, have them balanced. When possible, block or jack up trailer to remove weight from tires during storage.
- Re-paint any paint nicks to prevent rusting

Outboard Engine

- Fill the fuel tank (if applicable) and add a fuel conditioner to prevent fuel oxidations, gum and varnish deposits, inhibiting corrosion in the carburetor and fuel system.
- Coat internal engine parts with a fogging oil. It helps prevent rust and acidic combustion residue.

MSHSL has 442 membership schools

Minnesota State High School League begins the 1991-92 school year with 442 member schools – eight less than last year.

The membership changes found several schools joining their programs – some 23 schools have become 10; Archbishop Brady closed; a few have changed partners; and five schools have chosen to return to MSHSL membership, or to join for the first time.

Another change for 1991-92 is a total realignment of member schools for each high school activity. All competitions will be conducted by section rather than district and region. There will be sub-section and section tournament levels leading to state in all activities.

Hunters may go through several "stages" of hunt

by Tom Conroy,
DNR Information Officer, New Ulm

Remember the guy who used to sit in a duck blind and shoot at anything coming by? Remember the fellow you couldn't talk to if he didn't get his limit, because he'd be so mad? If you dismissed their behavior with the comment, "he's just going through a stage," you might have been more correct than you though.

According to a Wisconsin study in the late 1970s, hunters do go through stages. Some progress rapidly or even skip stages, while others get trapped in a particular stage for years.

Where do you fit?

■ Phase No. 1 – Shooter Stage. This is a stage associated with the beginner hunter, but a lot of beginners manage to skip over it. On the other hand, some who have hunted a long time can't get out of it completely. This is the stage where you just want to shoot at something – if not game, then songbirds or even signs will do. Getting "a lot of shooting" is the measure of the hunt.

■ Phase No. 2 - Limiting-out Stage. The absolute measure of the hunt for the person in this stage is filling the tag or limiting out. Anything less is to fail, to spoil the day afield.

■ Phase No. 3 - Trophy Stage. Not limiting out is okay if one manages to get the "trophy" game. The duck hunter may pass up "lesser" ducks and take only greenheads. The deer hunter wants only the "big buck."

■ Phase No. 4 - Method Stage. Hunters in this stage become zealous, fervent about hunting. Only the latest in specialized equipment will do - huge spreads of decoys, the most expensive duck calls and tree stands, elaborate blinds on camouflaged boats, etc. Hunting is a very important dimension of this person's life: it's what he or she does best. Taking of game becomes secondary to 'how' it is taken. Often, hunters in this phase become more solitary in their pursuit and some tend to try more primitive methods such as muzzleloaders or the long bow.

■ Phase No. 5 – Sportsmanship Stage. Research has found that this "mellowing out" stage is not reached by many before the age of 40, and usually after many years of hunting. At this point, the satisfaction comes from the entire hunting experience; the hunter seems to be fully mature as both a person and a hunter. This hunter has reached a stage of "oneness" with the environment and no longer measures his or her worth by the game taken. Just "being out there" is satisfaction enough.

How we progress through the stages is a personal thing, determined largely by our own personal sporting code of ethics.

Duck hunters must have life jackets on board

by Tim Smalley,
DNR Boat and Water Safety Specialist

Ducks float. Duck hunters don't.

That's the message from the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR), which reminds Minnesota waterfowl hunters that they are required to carry one U.S. Coast Guard approved personal flotational devise (PFD or life preserver) for each person on board their boats.

That legislation became effective with the 1988 waterfowl season, and Minnesota has had no duck hunter drownings since then, said Tim Smalley, DNR boating safety specialist.

In the 10 years prior to passage of the PFD law, 27 duck hunters drowned in boat accidents, said Smalley. None of them was wearing a life preserver, and only four had flotation cushions in their craft.

"Although Coast Guard approved flotation cushions meet the legal requirement, we recommend that hunters actually have life jackets on board and wear them while traveling to and from the blind," Smalley said.

Water safety experts have found in tests that it is almost impossible to put a life jacket on after an accident takes place, due to panic and the shock of entering cold water. "Trying to get into a PFD after entering finger-numbing, ice-cold water would be like putting a seat belt on after a car crash – it's too late," Smalley said. "And seat cushions often blow away too quickly to catch by swimming after them."

Any Coast Guard approved PFD fulfills the law's requirements, but the DNR recommends the type III vest or float coast style life jackets that provide more protection from hypothermia than the orange "Mae West" devices.

"Hypothermia is a life-threatening lowering of body core temperature, and is involved in most duck hunter fatalities," Smalley noted. "With October water temperatures falling to the low 40s, hypothermia becomes a real possibility for a victim in the water for any length of time. Even strong Olympic-class swimmers have a difficult time swimming for more than a few yards in water that cold," he added.

Prepare snowmobiles for winter

With the winter season setting in and folks preparing for some outdoor fun in the cold, it's important that your snowmobile be in top running condition.

The intense old and dampness associated with winter in many parts of the country can leave snowmobiles sputtering. By keeping the engine properly maintained with manufacturer-recommended oils, lubricants, batteries and spark plugs, that sputtering will turn into "purring" as you glide across the snow.

For trouble-free operation all winter long, select an oil that provides maximum lubrication and cleanliness at extreme temperatures. In quality oil, special additives minimize wear, fouling and smoke. Proper oil is one of the best steps in preventive maintenance.

Batteries are an important snowmobile accessory to ensure quick, reliable starting on those cold winter mornings and evenings. If your snowmobiling plans call for a weekend camp-out, bring a spare battery.

And don't forget that your snowmobile engine also needs fuel line antifreeze to combat sub-freezing temperatures.

With proper engine maintenance, using antifreeze, fuel conditioner, point cleaners and spark plugs that keep your engine at peak power, your snowmobiling fun can be virtually trouble-free.

Multi-zone buck season will be used for 1992 deer hunt

Minnesotans who have wanted to hunt bucks by firearms in several zones will get that option – but not until 1992.

Next year the regular one-zone-only license will still be $22, but hunters will have an option to buy a new multiple-zone, bucks-only license for $44. Although details of the new license option have yet to be worked out, it will provide an extra opportunity for hunters who might want to hunt, for example, in Zone 4 on opening weekend, and then in Zone 2 and the following weekend.

The regular license restricts deer hunters to one zone to help disperse hunting pressure throughout the state. The DNR is unsure how many of the state's 400,000 deer hunters will want to take advantage of the new license in 1992, and might limit the total number available, said Dave Schad, DNR Forest Wildlife Program leader.

"If all hunters began moving from one zone to another during the deer season, too many could end up in already over-crowded agricultural areas," said Schad.

Schad added that the new license option will cost more because it will give hunters who buy it one more hunting opportunity. "It's only fair that hunters who buy the new license pay more for the added flexibility and additional days in the field it gives them," he said. "They will pay a greater share of deer management costs."

Introduction to hunting anxious time for some

by Jean Bergerson,
DNR, Grand Rapids

"Mom," said the young voice, "do you think I can go hunting next year? Will you buy me a gun?" These words are met with much more apprehension today than they were 10 or 15 years ago.

We have become a largely urban society, with an increasing number of single parent households. Today's society has little time to tend to home chores much less scout for hunting areas, go through the difficult task of trying to gain landowner permission, and then teach a youngster how to hunt properly.

But wait, it may not be as difficult as it appears. Next time your young son or daughter talks about the desire to hunt, look at it as a good opportunity to get away and enjoy the outdoors. First, enroll the youth in a firearm safety program. firearm safety will not only teach the basics of gun handling, but also wildlife management and respect for the laws as well. Join them if possible; parents are always welcome.

If you are a hunter, think about your first experiences participating in a hunt. Most likely they were not at deer camp "with the guys," but rather with a .22 in your hand looking into the treetops, or sitting motionless in an oak forest trying to find a squirrel. Or perhaps that first experience was stomping along fence rows and through brush in search of a rabbit. Or with a .410 or 20-gauge shotgun trying to hit a grouse.

These early ventures showed that natural instincts of wild creatures are often better than human instincts. One of the rules was, don't shoot at it unless you intend to eat it. You learned in an experimental way about the needs of wildlife, how food, cover and water go together to make a good home. You learn about other animals that frequent the forests and fields with the squirrels and rabbits. Most of all, you learn the companionship of sharing a warm September afternoon with someone who takes the time to show you about hunting. You have stories to share with your friends and relatives about your adventures, and you look back as an adult on those times as some of your cherished childhood memories.

Rabbit and squirrel hunting don't require a lot of equipment; you can go to a wildlife management area or nearby plot of public land and have a chance for success. The best hunting techniques are patience and knowing where to look. The small game hunting seasons are long, so lack of time is not a problem. Rabbit and squirrel seasons last until the end of February.

If you are unfamiliar with hunting places in your area, the Department of Natural Resources can provide maps of wildlife management areas. PRIM (Public Recreation Information Maps), available at DNR regional offices and some retail outlets, show land ownership and have both state forest and wildlife management areas highlighted. Both are open to public hunting.

Next time your youngster asks about that first gun and first hunting trip, look at it as an opportunity to provide many good memories and to share hours of quality time.

Deb Jacobson returns as Northland head coach

Deb Jacobson is back in the saddle again.

In her 19th year at Northland Community College, Jacobson returns as the Pioneers' head volleyball coach this fall after a one-year hiatus. She started the program 18 years ago, but stepped aside in 1990. It was just a trial separation. The two – the coach and team – are back together in 1991.

"I'm excited to be back. I'm looking forward to it," said Jacobson.

Northland went 0-29 a year ago, but a combination of returning veterans, some talented volleyball players and height, could put Northland into contender status in the Minnesota Community College Conference Northwest Division this time around. University of Minnesota-Crookston and Fergus Falls have enjoyed a strangle hold on the divisional race in recent years, with Northland Brainerd trailing the leaders.

Top two regular season finishers in each of the four state-wide divisions earn MCCC state tournament berths. Unlike football or basketball, Northwest Division matches against Northeast Division teams do not count in the MCCC standings.

Tech college states $7.1 million needs

Master plan for expansion needs at the Thief River Falls Technical college were outlined by Dr. Orley Gunderson, TRFTC president, for visiting members of the Minnesota Senate Finance Committee last Wednesday during a tour of the technical college following a similar tour of Northland Community college.

The $7,165,500 master plan has three different components outlined by Dr. Gunderson as follows:

(1) Construction and remodeling at the main campus totaling $2,271,500,

(2) Additional second story classrooms and student support/student service area at the aviation center totaling $1,396,000, and

(3) Additional laboratory and shop space for the aviation center programs at a total cost of $3,498,000.

"The main campus remodeling and construction project will enable us to better serve the needs of existing students and staff, plus accommodate future growth," Dr. Gunderson told the four visiting senators. "Without additional construction and remodeling, it will be impossible to serve students properly.

"The two projects at the airport would enable us to serve 800 to 1,000 students by 1995. Without the additional airport laboratory, it will be impossible to allow the program to expand to its full potential. This would be unfortunate as there is a tremendous demand for mechanics on a worldwide basis. This would have an impact on not only industry but also the persons in Minnesota who desire this type of education."

In outlining some of the needs of the technical college as presented in a prepared capital budget request, Dr. Gunderson pointed out the growth of the college in the last decade.

"The college grew in continuous full year equivalency (FYE) from 501.77 students in fiscal year 1980 to 938.29 in fiscal year 1991," he said. "This is an increase of 87 per cent. Further, the college experienced a 42.5 per cent increase in the total number of students served from 1989 to 1990. The number of credits purchased by students increased by 45.92 per cent during that same 1989 to 1990 period.

"This growth reflects the fact that the college draws students from a very large area," he added. "The Thief River Falls Technical college is not an area vocational school which draws students from only northwest Minnesota. Demographics that pertain to the Thief River Falls Technical college are the demographics that describe the State of Minnesota, eastern North Dakota, and for customized training, the world."

The TRFTC president said enrollment of another 150 students in the aviation maintenance technology program is projected by the 1992-1993 school year, bringing that enrollment to 600 students. Current enrollment of 450 in that program is expected to double to 900 students by the fall of 1995.

"The college projects to maintain approximately 125 students in the nursing program and expand to approximately 80 students in the drafting program," Dr. Gunderson said. "The Avionics program implemented this fall will add another 100 students and the two-year broadcasting program recently approved by the Minnesota Higher Education Coordinating Board will add 30 students."

Dr. Gunderson reviewed the fund requests of the college during the past few years and noted that it has been generally successful in obtaining needed funding for the rapidly expanding aviation maintenance technology program but generally unsuccessful in obtaining funds necessary to provide additional space and remodeling at the main campus.

"The college currently finds itself in a very difficult situation on the main campus because of tremendous growth college-wide and the lack of space for student support and student services," he said. "The college desperately needs additional space on the main campus and also needs additional lab space and classroom/student support space at the airport. The most significant aviation center student support needs are for a learning resource center, a study area and a counseling area. The college is currently requesting dollars to plan construction and remodeling for the main campus and the airport."

Recommendations for the main campus on highway 1 east include the following:

Procedures announced for advisory balloting

Vote on casino planned by volunteer group for Saturday, Oct. 19

Procedures for the community advisory vote on location of a gambling casino in Thief River Falls have been announced by the Citizens Advisory Vote committee, a volunteer citizen group organized to conduct and fund the non-binding referendum.

The voting will take place Saturday, October 19, from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. with polling places arranged at the Heritage Community center in Thief River Falls, community center in Goodridge and senior center in St. Hilaire.

Voter Information

To minimize any waiting to vote, there will be 10 registration lists divided alphabetically in operation at the Thief River Falls polling place. Each voter will need to furnish a driver's license or other positive identification to an election judge. Each voter will then sign his or her name and address, along with his or her ward or township, on the appropriate registration list.

Headings on the registration lists will read: "I, the undersigned, do testify that I am at least 18 years old, that I have resided in Pennington county for 30 days immediately preceding this election, that I am registered to vote in Pennington county and that Pennington county is my principal place of residency. I will be voting only once."

Separate ballots will be printed for each of the 21 townships and each of the five Thief River Falls wards to enable sorting of the final vote count by township and ward. Each polling site will have one ballot box, locked and supervised by two election judges. Thief River Falls residents will be allowed to vote at the Heritage Community center only.

Anyone unable to vote in person may submit a written request for an absentee ballot to the Citizens Advisory Vote Committee, P. O. Box 913, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. The request must state the voter's reason for needing an absentee ballot, name, address, ward or township lived in and signature. An absentee ballot and return envelopes along with information will be sent to the applicant. One address and signature must be provided for each absentee ballot request. Completed ballots must be mailed to the Citizens Advisory Committee, P.O. Box 913, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 and postmarked no later than October 17, 1991.

Committee Membership

Committee membership is open to all regardless of personal position on the casino questions. Purpose of the committee has been

Nitrate levels high in some water samples

Nine of 141 rural well water samples (6.4%) screened at testing clinics by the Marshall county extension service September 24 and 25 were in excess of the Minnesota recommended allowable limit for private water supplies (10 parts per million) for nitrate-nitrogen, according to Ray Thompson, county extension director.

This is the level set to protect infants under six months of age from the blue baby syndrome.

"As this was a screening," Thompson said, "only rural well users testing above four parts per million were advised to have their wells re-tested through a certified laboratory such as the Minnesota Department of Health. Water users should also remember that nitrates in water are odorless, tasteless and invisible."

Thompson conducted the screening with Nancy Nelson of the county extension service and John Keller of the Marshall county soil and water conservation district.

Each sample was also tested for bacteria levels, another health concern, Thompson said. Results showed that 27 of the samples (19%) had from slight to high bacteria counts. Users were urged to re-test to determine the exact bacteria counts and sources.

"In this screening it's possible that some of the samples were contaminated from un-sterilized containers," Thompson said. "In most cases, bacteria problems can be solved with corrective actions such as chlorination. This test did not differentiate between harmless bacteria and those which may cause a disease."

In addition, nearly all samples showed evidence of being hard to extremely hard with PH levels at 7.5 to 8.0, Thompson said.

Samples were also tested for iron which is an aesthetic problem in many parts of the country. Iron is not a health concern but it was evident in approximately one-half of the samples. Symptoms of iron include staining of fixtures and

Burning leaves allowed under law October 1

Beginning October 1 residents of Thief River Falls can burn leaves and yard refuse within the city limits.

Thief River Falls Fire Chief Dave Bjorkman, said Tuesday that by ordinance, residents can begin burning leaves and yard refuse within the city limits. Bjorkman said conditions are safe for burning at this time. He reminds residents that a responsible person has to be in attendance while they are burning leaves or yard refuse. He also suggests that residents have a garden hose attached and ready for use and that residents be considerate of neighbors by not burning when the wind may carry smoke into a house or laundry.

Residents in the rural area of the fire district still have to have permits to burn large areas. If anything, Bjorkman said, it alerts the fire department that there is a controlled burn taking place so that when someone calls in about a fire they know how to handle the call. In some fire districts they charge for every fire call they make. Bjorkman said the permits are free and can be picked up at the fire station.

Former Ringling Bros. clown featured in TRF

Former Ringling Brothers clown costumer Mary Derosier will be the featured presenter at the library on Thursday, October 3 at 7 p.m. Her program is intended for a second grade through adult audience and is open to the public. She will talk about costume designing for clowns and share a few of her original designs with the audience. Ms. Derosier notes that she enjoys this type of designing because "there are no limitations on what you can do." She is excited to be presenting this program in Thief River Falls since "I enjoy the 'behind the scenes' aspects of costuming and think it's interesting to show what goes into the final product that you see on stage."

A graduate of the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch, with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Theater with costuming as an emphasis, Mary worked for coutiers and then discovered the joys of wardrobing clowns. Her father's illness brought her home, but she still maintains a heavy schedule of freelance design for professional clowns as well as working as a part-time dispatcher.

She notes that clowns play an important role in the life of children and adults alike and she feels she adds to this with her costumes. Making people smile is what she finds rewarding about her design work. "I did some costumes for some kids as part of the Make-a-Wish foundation a couple of years ago," she says, "and that experience was probably the most rewarding experience I've had with costuming."

For more information about this program, please contact the Thief River Falls public library.

Mary Derosier, shown above in clown garb, formerly a costumer with Ringling Brothers Clown college, will present a clown costuming program for ages 8 to adult at the Thief River Falls public library on October 3 at 7 p.m. This program is presented free of charge and is part of the library's 90th anniversary festivities.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Gambling. What is the result of it? Receiving and claiming money that was not earned by you and that was not worked for.

If everyone who had money that they planned to use for gambling and for gas to get to the casino would give it to care for the poor and needy, look what could be accomplished. The trouble is poor people gamble hoping to win something and actually how many win? They are worse off than when they started.

If I want to help some needy cause I will give it as a free will offering and not through some gambling where a big percentage has to go for overhead expense such as acquiring property, heating and upkeep of a building, plus all equipment needed.

Conditions aren't good in Canada. What makes those who are planning the casino think the Canadians have money to throw away? They, like the U.S. citizens, should use their money to further good causes. Only a few might be lucky and the rest are worse off if they gamble.

I am not smart in politics but the more I think of the casino the more the story of Zacchaeus in the Bible comes to mind. He was a hated tax collector but when he came to Jesus he said he would pay back four-fold what he had taken illegally (Luke 19:8)

I am not prejudiced I don't care who they are and what color their skin is. If they do right it's right and if what they do isn't right it isn't right, regardless of who they are.

In closing, I am referring to the Seventh Commandment that God gave to Moses: "Thou shalt not steal." When one takes something that he did not work for, what would that be called?

Sincerely,
Lillie R. Asp

To The Editor:

An informational meeting was held Thursday evening, September 26, at Hayes Lake State Park. Attending the meeting were 20 residents from the surrounding communities. Merle DeBoer from the regional office of parks and recreation gave a presentation on the future of Hayes Lake State Park.

I'm sure many of you are aware the lifeguards were laid off at many Minnesota state parks this summer, including Hayes Lake State Park. The operating budget at Hayes Lake for 1992 suffered a 30 per cent cut. Mr. DeBoer indicated all of the state parks across the state had similar budget cuts. It will become necessary to close several state parks in the next few years to allow the remaining parks to operate. Hayes Lake State Park would be near the top of the list to be closed.

A meeting will be held within the next couple of weeks to try to organize a group to explore ways to prevent Hayes Lake State Park from closing. We hope all of you who enjoy the park will attend the meeting. If you have any questions please feel free to call 425-7204.

"While her boys were at home she was very active in the 4-H club program as an adult leader for many years. She also found time for church and civic activities and maintained a sensitivity and responsiveness to the needs of others.

"Iris is currently president of the Good Cheer club which involves itself in numerous activities to spread cheer to those who are sometimes forgotten. Speaking Of . . .

. . . Another Casino Column

Is it time to talk about the casino again? I've made up my mind and I've decided that I'm for it. Yes, I am. Despite all of the arguments I've heard against a casino, I'm for it.

I went to the meeting and none of the arguments I heard made much sense to me. What is the sense to stand up and rail against gambling, saying it is a sin and a vice that will harm the community, when we already have several forms of good, old-fashioned sin and vice here in Thief River Falls already? Goodness knows, we seem to have plenty of our own, home-grown sins and vices that people indulge in, not even including the alcohol, and, so-called sins of pull tabs, lottery tickets and bingo. It seems to me that if the community is going to go to pot because of sins and vices, then the damage has already had plenty of time and areas in which it could be done.

Maybe they are right, maybe the community is going to pot. But I think there are other reasons for the problems in the community rather than the availability of the, so-called, sins and vices of gambling.

What sense does it make to speak out loudly against the casino as a singular threat to families in the area? It seems to me that there are plenty of threats to the families in this area, one of the most disastrous of these being unemployment. I think, if statistics were examined, we would find there are more families being hurt by the vicious circle resulting from lack of employment in the area than the few who have been hurt by a member's addiction to lottery games or pull tabs.

We need jobs in this town. There are far too many capable, industrious people around here who cannot find jobs and must try to live on unemployment compensation and welfare. This is what is hurting the families in the area. These people want and need decent jobs that will get them off the public doles and give them and their families some self-respect. If a business will come into the area and create some jobs around here, I say, "more power to it." And that is just what the casino will be—a business.

We need competitive salaries around here. There are far too many capable, industrious people in this area who find it necessary to work two or even three jobs in order to make enough of a salary to make ends meet. Most people in this area are hard workers, good, honest, faithful employees, and they are not being paid anywhere what they are worth. A lot of them do not receive health insurance benefits, and rarely do they receive anything that faintly resembles life or disability insurance, pension funding or profit sharing. Many of them are employed part-time so employers do not have to provide any form of benefit to them. These multi-employments and minimum wage salaries are what threaten families around here. If a business will come into the area and create some competition around here, I say, "more power to it."

I think if the casino will bring some employment to the area, not only by itself, but with other businesses that will follow it to town, more power to it. I think if employment picks up, employers will be forced to pay their workers a decent salary because there will be some competition for those hard workers and good, honest, faithful employees. I think then we will see some pride and self-respect in this town again. I think then we will see some locally earned money spent in locally owned stores, as well as some out-of-town money spent in those locally owned stores.

Heaven knows, as far as the sins and vices go, let's get some of our community working and they won't have any time to spend indulging in sins and vices, or gambling either, for that matter.

Now there is going to be a vote. I understand that the result of such a vote will not legally affect the decision made by the county board and city council as to whether or not we will welcome a casino, but the proponents of the vote say it just might have an influence on the board and council members. Then I say, "Let's get out and vote."

Before you vote, however, be sure you get informed about the casino. Read the news releases, listen to the people involved, read the pros and the cons (they will be printed in abundance in the local Times, you can bet), use your head and make up your own mind. Whatever you do, don't let anyone else make your decision for you.

I would also urge you to sit down and write a letter to the editor of the Times or Northern Watch if you have some strong feelings on the issue. Your opinion is just as good as mine, and you have just as much right to state it publicly. Do it! (Just be sure to sign the letter and include address and/or telephone number for reference.)

Impressions . . .

Have you noticed the emotions of fall? Nature seems to experience the entirety of emotions each fall.

Look at the trees. They have turned multiple shades of colors. They are brilliant yellow or red. Some have hues of green and brown to suit just about any feeling we may have on any particular day. They are dressed in their brightest finery, exuding joy for all of us to see.

Have you noticed the squirrels? They are everywhere apparent these days. They seem so intent on obtaining the necessary foods for their winter survival. They never seem to be relaxed. They are always busy.

Notice the flowers. They are beginning to loose their summer glory. Some have already succumbed to frost. In my yard, the flowers are still blooming. Their shades of yellow and purple and white and blue are deepening. They are showing signs of age, yet they are still beautiful. They seem to be simply waiting. But, wonder of wonders, in the midst of the waiting, fading summer blooms, I find new flowers blooming. Nicotania which seeded itself from plants of a summer ago are now blooming red and white. Delphinium which were tiny young plants earlier this summer are surprising us with new blooms. Amidst awaiting doom are surprises just waiting for us to notice!

The weather during fall can be gloomy or sunny, all in the same day! The long-awaited rains have blessed us this year. During the fall, as rain once again soaks our ground, we dare not feel gloomy as we behold this blessing. The sun seems so much brighter after a rainy fall day. Maybe its because the colors of the trees seem so much more vibrant when they are sparkling with raindrops. Fall doesn't give us just rain or sun, but every once in a while, fall gives us snow. It likes to tease us with a foretaste of what will soon be here!

~~Fall is also a time of migration.~~ To see the various kinds of birds flocking and then flying south prepares us for winter. We realize that soon we will be somewhat isolated. Our days of fun in the sun are numbered. We had better make the most of them!

The wind of fall is not often meek. It is more likely to be blustery and a bit wild. I destroys trees and wreaks havoc with our sod. We appreciate the days it decides to give us a bit of peaceful relief.

Observing Fall's many emotions lets us see that nature is naturally emotional. It allows us to understand that we, too, can have varying emotions.

As the brilliant colors of the trees exude joy, so we too find times when we feel like shouting to the world our own personal joys. Each joy may be small, but displayed as the color of our life, will make our lives worthwhile.

Some days we try to deny that we are busy. But observing how nature was made to be busy—to be active—we can relish our busyness and count our blessings that we are able to provide for our loved ones.

When we see the fading blooms of summer, we realize our own mortality. We realize that there are times in all of our lives when we too must simply wait. And, then, when we least expect it, we will find ourself being surprised by life.

Fall's changing weather allows for us to experience changes in our own lives. The winds of our lives' storms may seem to overwhelm us, but nature shows us that after the storm there truly does come a calm. The teasing of fall's snows and the refreshing of fall's rains show us that our lives will benefit from the humor we can experience, and the times of refreshing we bother to experience.

Feeling a bit reckless? Feeling a bit blue? Feeling a bit joyful? Feeling a bit industrious? Feeling a bit lonely? Feeling a bit calm? Feeling a mite faded? Feeling surprised? Spend some time being thankful that you were so wonderously made ~~that you can ever experience the emotions of life. And, in the experi-~~encing of these emotions, you experience the wonder of life.

Prowlers beat Pirates 29-28 in overtime

Thief River Falls head football coach Jeff Mumm went with the democratic process Friday, and was rewarded with a wildly exciting 29-28 overtime win over rival Crookston in Section 8A high school football.

Regulation time ended in a 21-21 tie. In the tie-breaking overtime process, both teams receive four downs to score, beginning at the opponent's 10-yard line.

Crookston had the first shot on overtime offense, scoring on a third down run from the 3-yard line by Mike Peterson, who slipped into the end zone off left tackle. The Pirates lined up for the two-point conversion, but were whistled for a 5-yard illegal procedure penalty, prompting the Crookston coaches to try an extra point kick instead of the two-pointer. Jeff Olson's attempt, spotted at the 15, was on target, providing the host Pirates with a 28-21 lead.

Thief River Falls wasted little time matching the Crookston overtime score as fullback Matt Kaushagen burst off left tackle on first down. The question at that point was whether to let junior place kicker Barry Rhineberger, who was 3-for-3 for the day, kick for the tie and play another set of overtime downs, or have the Prowlers line up for a two-point conversion and the win.

After a time-out, the Prowlers went for two. Kaushagen, a hard-running, 5-10, 178-pound senior, got the call again. He was met at the line of scrimmage, but powered his way through the left side for the win.

The decision to go for the two-point instead of the one-point kick was made by the players, according to Mumm.

"First, I met with the coaches (sideline assistants Gary Laidley and Glenn Chiodo), and they said, let the kids decide," explained Mumm. "So I asked the kids if they wanted to go for the win or go for the tie. They wanted to go for two. Then I asked them what play they wanted to run, and they said the same play," referring to the preceding touchdown run.

Both decisions panned out for the Prowlers, who won their third straight game to go 3-2 for the year. In the process, they picked up their first win at Crookston since 1976, and beat the Pirates for just the second time over the past 15 years. Tough-luck Crookston, meanwhile, fell to 1-4 with its third straight one-point setback.

It was a fan-pleasing, entertaining match-up that featured three players with over 100 yards rushing – Marc Haugen, a 150-pound Thief River Falls junior, who netted 145 yards on 30 carries; Peterson, a 165-pound Crookston senior, who wound up with 142 yards on 22 attempts, and Kaushagen, with 120 yards on 23 tries.

Crookston looked impressive with a game-opening 10-play, 83-yard touchdown drive that culminated with an 11-yard cut-back through the middle by Peterson and the extra point kick by Olson for a 7-0 lead 6:46 into the contest.

But Thief River Falls was not intimidated. A short kickoff set the Prowlers up near midfield, and they put together a 10-play drive of their own to tie the game when Haugen stepped through the middle from three yards out and Rhineberger added the conversion for a 7-7 tie just 4:10 after the Crookston touchdown.

After stopping the Pirates at the Thief River Falls 28 on the next possession, the Prowlers put together another impressive scoring drive, covering the 72 yards in 15 plays as Kaushagen charged through the middle on a 3-yard touchdown run.

The offensive show continued when Crookston countered with a 9-play, 63-yard drive that ended on a 16-yard Peterson run off right tackle. But a pop-up kick was short of the cross bar, leaving the Prowlers with a 14-13 edge with 3:06 left in the first half.

Thief River Falls nearly made it 3-for-3 on first half possession scores when the Prowlers raced the clock to reach the Crookston 7-yard line with five seconds remaining. A fourth-and-four call from that point produced a 25-yard field goal attempt by Rhineberger that was wide right.

The Prowlers' impressive first half showing carried over to the start of the third quarter when Thief River Falls took the second half kickoff 72 yards in 12 plays to take a 21-13 lead on another 3-yard dive by Kaushagen and a Rhineberger kick.

The next play resulted in a Crookston fumble and a Jason Svir recovery at the Pirates' 43, giving the Prowlers an opportunity to break things open. But three penalties, including two 15-yarders, signalled the start of second half problems for the Prowlers, who lost a fumble at the Crookston 39 on their next possession and then watched as a high punt snap was downed at the Thief River Falls 29 with 5:58 left in the game.

Six plays later it was a 21-21 tie as Olson took a quarterback keeper off the right side on a 10-yard touchdown, then rolled right and found Nate Myrold in the corner of the end zone for the two-point conversion with just 3:19 to go.

And the Prowlers' made it even tougher on themselves when the ensuing kickoff was fumbled away, giving Crookston the ball at the Thief River Falls 32.

However, after giving up a first down at the 22, the Prowlers met the challenge when John Wallberg came up with a fumble recovery at the 21 with 1:32 left to preserve the tie and set the stage for the dramatic finish – the first overtime in Mumm's seven years as Thief River Falls head coach.

"That's my biggest win by far," said Mumm afterwards. "I think the kids showed what they're made of at the end. Bad things were happening to us in the second half, but the kids sucked it up and played really tough when they had to."

Thief River Falls finished with a 330-303 edge in offensive yards, and with those sustained scoring drives, the Prowlers' offensive line did their best to win over early season critics who focused on their problems up front in losses to Park Rapids and Detroit Lakes.

"People ridiculed our offensive line at the beginning of the year; now they're heroes," pointed out Mumm, praising a unit that includes Rick Ostby at center, Brad Kragness and Rhineberger at guards; Jason Kainz and Darin Weleski at tackles; Aaron Broten and Wallberg at the tight ends. Wade Evenson contributed, too, with his blocking, along with an 11-yard gain on his lone carry of the night, at wingback. Kainz and Wallberg are seniors, the others are juniors.

Thief River Falls hosts Morris Area Friday in the Prowlers 1991 homecoming game. Kickoff has been moved up to 6 p.m. to allow the students more time to enjoy the homecoming dance activities later that evening.

Mustangs out-score Bears 56-52

Red Lake County Central and Clearbrook-Gonvick kept the scoreboard operator busy Friday night as the Mustangs outlasted the Bears 56-52 in a wild North Tri-County Conference nine-man high school football game at Gonvick.

"I've never experienced a game like that before," said Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brantl. "From a fan stand-point it was a tremendous game, but from a coaching stand-point..."

Brantl and the Mustangs thought they had things under control when they turned a 28-22 halftime lead into a 44-22 third quarter cushion. But the Bears scored 30 fourth quarter points to take a 52-50 lead on a 31-yard Perry Torgerson touchdown pass to Joe Johnson with only 50 seconds left.

However, it took the Mustangs just 12 second to regain the lead as Scott Lorenson and Shannon Willett hooked up on a 58-yard touchdown pass to put Red Lake County Central back on top 56-52 with 38 second showing.

The suspense finally ended when Willett intercepted Torgerson with 20 seconds remaining.

"There was a lot of emotion on both sides of the field when the game finally ended," mentioned Brantl.

The win snapped a three-game Red Lake County Central losing streak. The 2-3 Mustangs play Norman County West Friday at 7 p.m. in Plummer.

Lorenson and Eric Kolstoe had record-breaking offensive efforts for the third-year Oklee-Plummer Red Lake County Central cooperative.

A 5-10, 210-pound freshman quarterback, Lorenson completed 11 of 17 pass attempts for 235 yards and four touchdown. And, pointed out Brantl, he did not throw an interception. The four touchdown passes and the 235 passing yards are RLCC records. "Scott had a great night," said Brantl. "Our play-action passes were working real well, and Scott was finding the open receivers."

Lorenson, in his second week as the Mustangs' starting quarterback, found a variety of open receivers, with Jay Malwitz catching three passes for 53 yards, Willett two for 61 and Jacob Melby two for 54.

Meanwhile, Kolstoe, a 5-9, 178-pound senior who was moved from quarterback to runningback the week before, netted 227 yards on 29 rushing attempts – a RLCC record. "Eric is a strong runner," noted Brantl. "He breaks a lot of tackles. He had a great game."

Both teams scored on their first two possessions for a 14-14 first quarter draw, setting the stage for the rest of the night.

Torgerson passed 33 yards to Shane Roepke and 60 yards to Chris Schmitz for the first quarter Clearbrook-Gonvick scores, while Kolstoe had a 12-yard touchdown run and a 69-yard gain that set up a 1-yard TD by Lorenson for the opening period Red Lake County Central scoring.

A 33-yard Lorenson-to-Malwitz scoring strike and a 1-yard run by the Bears' Joe Johnson kept the teams even in the second quarter until Kolstoe reached the end zone from a yard out with just 10 seconds left to provide the Mustangs with a 28-22 intermission edge.

Third play of the second half produced a 50-yard Lorenson touchdown pass to Paul Melby, and a 19-yard Jamie Hruby touchdown run opened up the 44-22 Red Lake County Central cushion as the third quarter ended.

But the Mustangs were self-destructive in the final 12 minutes when two bad punt snaps and a fumble set up an 11-yard Torgerson to Roepke touchdown pass, a 1-yard Torgerson touchdown run and a 22-yard Torgerson to Jeff Ostrum touchdown pass, giving the Bears a 46-44 lead.

Lorenson came back to find Malwitz with a 23-yard scoring pass as the Mustangs regained a 50-46 lead.

Torgerson followed with his fifth touchdown pass of the night – the 31-yarder to Johnson with 50 seconds left – only to be upstaged by Lorenson and his four touchdown pass of the game – the 58-yard game-winner to Willett, a 5-8, 154-pound sophomore.

And despite all the scoring, there was some defense being played, according to Brantl. "It wasn't that the defenses didn't play hard," he said. "The two offenses were just rolling."

Kolstoe was in on 12 tackles to lead the Mustangs, while Hruby and Ryan Bjerklie both were credited with nine.

Thief River Falls Northern Lights Invitational...

Rams win volleyball title

Roseau beat Bemidji, Warroad and East Grand Forks en route to championship honors in the 14th annual Thief River Falls Northern Lights Invitational high school volleyball tournament Saturday.

All three Roseau wins were come-from-behind efforts as the Rams got by Bemidji 15-17, 15-6, 15-7 in the first round quarterfinals, turned back Warroad 3-15, 15-12, 15-3 in the semifinals and slipped past East Grand Forks 5-15, 15-9, 15-5 in the championship match.

East Grand Forks reached the finals by beating Marshall County Central 15-5, 14-16, 15-12 and Thief River Falls 15-7, 15-9.

Warroad, a 15-9, 15-9 first round winner over Steinbach, Manitoba, bounced back from the semifinal loss to Roseau with a 5-15, 15-2, 16-14 third place match win over Thief River Falls.

The host Prowlers opened the tournament with a 15-8, 15-8 victory over Badger-Greenbush before losing to the Green Wave and the Warriors.

Bemidji, after the first round loss to Roseau, beat Steinbach 15-13, 15-9 and Badger-Greenbush 15-13, 15-12 for the consolation title.

Thief River Falls fell to 5-10 overall with the 1-2 tournament showing.

"We played very well as a team against Badger-Greenbush," reported Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "We had some mental errors that were costly at times in the semifinals against East Grand Forks. We have to hit the ball; we have to take advantage of a good set and put it away."

The Thief River Falls third place match against Warroad was a see-saw affair. The Warriors swept the Prowlers 15-0, 15-5 at the Roseau Invitational back on Sept. 7, but the rematch was a back-and-forth contest. The Prowlers had a 7-2 third-game lead before the Warriors rallied for an 11-11 tie. Thief River Falls went back on top 13-11, but it was tied again at 13 and at 14 before Warroad finally won the extended match 16-14.

"We played well enough to win," said Anderson after the match-up with Warroad. "We played with so much confidence and enthusiasm in the first game. Game 2 was just the opposite. We sometimes have a hard time coming back once we fall behind. Both teams played really hard in Game 3."

Bemidji won the junior varsity portion of the tournament and Badger-Greenbush took the C squad title.

Senior Kathy Kvick and sophomore Toni Chiodo were Thief River Falls representatives on an all-tournament team selected by the varsity coaches. The honor squad also included Holly Carlson and Rachael Stoskopf, Warroad; Kim Punk, Steinbach; Jessica Reese, Badger-Greenbush; Jill Fosholm, Marshall County Central; Robyn Egeland and Jenny Loeck, East Grand Forks; Heidi Hanson, Bemidji; Charissa Lundbohm and Sue Roadfelt, Roseau.

Thief River Falls has a pair of North Sub-Section 8AA matches this week, hosting Moorhead tonight (Tuesday) and visiting Fergus Falls Thursday.

Kvick and Chiodo shared varsity Player of the Week honors announced by the Thief River Falls coaches, with Amy Enge earning similar honors at the junior varsity

"We played very uninspired volleyball," said Mostrom.

Blue Devils grind out win

Justin Lunsetter and Jason Grandstrand both scored twice and both rushed for over 100 yards Friday to lead Grygla-Goodridge past East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 34-9 in a Top of the State Conference nine-man high school football game played in Goodridge.

Lunsetter, a 170-pound senior, finished with 137 yards on 21 carries, while Grandstrand, a 170-pound sophomore, netted 109 yards on just 10 attempts. Lunsetter scored on runs of 38 and 9 yards; Grandstrand scored on runs of 12 and 34 yards.

Underdog Sacred Heart stayed within 12-3 with a ball-control first half, and the Eagles trimmed the difference to just 12-9 when Jason Langer opened the second half with a 9-yard touchdown run. But the Blue Devils took over after that. Lunsetter's 9-yard touchdown run made it 20-9 at the end of the third quarter, then Grandstrand's 34-yard score and a 24-yard run by Aaron Ostby produced a fourth quarter cushion.

"We played better football in the second half," mentioned Grygla-Goodridge coach Darwin Hagen.

The Blue Devils wound up with 327 yards on 46 rushing attempts. They were just 2-for-5 in the air for 16 yards.

Defensively, Dale Manderud, a 160-pound senior, had a "solid" game at one of the ends, pointed out Hagen.

Grygla-Goodridge, 4-1 for the year, will have a Top of the State Conference bye this week. The Blue Devils will finish regular season play with games Friday, Oct. 11, at Valley North; Wednesday, Oct. 16, vs. Argyle in Grygla; and Tuesday, Oct. 22, at Stephen.

Hibbing 28, Northland 0...

Cards blank NCC in MCCC football

Eric Stockton was 20-for-39 passing for 190 yards and two touchdowns as Hibbing beat Northland 28-0 Saturday in a Minnesota Community College Conference football game at Prowler Field.

"We got beat by a better football team," offered Northland coach Rick Nelson. "I thought we played fairly well, but they just have so many skill people."

Northland tried to make a go of it early, opening the game with a successful one-side kick and promptly moving inside the Hibbing 20-yard line before running out of downs. Moments later, after recovering a Hibbing fumble, the Pioneers moved inside the Cardinals' 10-yard line before stalling.

Those first quarter chances were the Pioneers' best scoring opportunities of the day. Hibbing weathered the early challenge, then scored on 26 and 3-yard Stockton passes to Reggie Britton and Scott Antonutti.

"It was the third straight MCCC loss for the Pioneers, who fell to Itasca 27-20 and Vermilion 40-7 the two previous weeks, but it was an improved performance, said Nelson. "We set a goal for ourselves to improve each day in practice, and I think we did that," he explained. "Defensively I thought we played well, despite giving up 28 points. We definitely played a lot better than we did the week before."

Northland stayed with Hibbing on the ground (100-102), but the Cardinals' passing attack had a 100-yard edge over the Pioneers (190-91).

Kevin Massiah had 50 yards on 16 carries to lead the Pioneers' ground game, while Shawn Campbell netted 38 yards on 12 attempts. Greg Henderson led Hibbing with 58 yards on seven carries.

Northland quarterback Reggie Drummond was 7-for-14 passing for 91 yards. He was sacked five times.

Antonutti caught nine passes for 91 yards to lead the Hibbing receivers.

Northland will face Mesabi Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the Pioneers' 1991 homecoming game. Mesabi lost a 19-18 decision to the University of Minnesota-Crookston Saturday when the Trojans scored on the final play of the game. Elsewhere in MCCC Northwest-Northeast Division play over the weekend, Itasca surprised Brainerd 14-6 and Vermilion out-scored Fergus Falls 41-27.

Swimmers participate in Fergus Falls Invitational

Moorhead edged Brainerd 304-301 Saturday for team honors at the Fergus Falls Invitational girls high school swimming meet.

Melrose was third with 225 points, followed by Fergus Falls with 213, Thief River Falls 148, Detroit Lakes 98, Park Rapids 75 and Crookston 29.

Missing point-producers Amy Adams and Ingrid Morken, the Prowlers weren't able to challenge for team honors, but Thief River Falls performances still included 13 personal-best times.

"The girls swam really well," said Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "They were great."

Freshman Theresa Giauque led the Prowlers with a first place 2:07.52 in the 200-yard freestyle and a second place 58.78 in the 100 freestyle – both personal-best times.

Other personal best performances were turned in by Linnea Dimich in the 500 freestyle; Leslie Ammerman, 100 backstroke; Robin Bollesen, 100 freestyle and 100 backstroke; Sarah Harger, 100 butterfly and 500 freestyle; Lisa Ulrich, 200 freestyle and 100 freestyle; Mandy Johnson, 200 freestyle and 100 backstroke; Maja Turenne, 200 freestyle.

Lokken said strong performances were also turned in by Sanna Torgerson and Jane Bentson, who will fill in spots for Adams in the 200 and 400 freestyle relays, respectively.

Thief River Falls will host Moorhead Thursday in a 5 p.m. dual at the Franklin Middle School pool. The Prowlers will compete in the Grand Forks Invitational Saturday starting at 11 a.m. at the University of North Dakota Hyslop Pool. A scheduled quadrangular meet at Crookston today (Tuesday) was cancelled after Grand Forks and Park Rapids dropped out.

Rebels' rally produces win over Falcons

It took 12 games before the Middle River-Marshall County Central cooperative high school football program picked up its first win, but the second one came a lot quicker – Thursday when the Rebels made it two-in-a-row with a 13-12 come-from-behind victory over Fertile-Beltrami at Middle River.

The Rebels made their debut in 1990 with an 0-8 record and they were 0-3 this fall before beating Ada-Borup 21-6 Sept. 20 with three fourth quarter touchdowns. Thursday, Middle River-Marshall County Central trailed 12-6 before putting together a 13-play fourth quarter drive to go ahead with two minutes left.

"We're starting to wear people down," pointed out Middle River-Marshall County Central coach Eldon Sparby. "We're playing straight-ahead, smash-mouth football right now, and we've dominated the fourth quarter the last two games."

David Blazek scored both Middle River-Marshall County Central touchdowns on short-yardage plays – a 1-yard run in the second quarter and a 2-yard effort to tie it in the fourth quarter. Jeremy Tallum broke the tie with the conversion kick.

Fertile-Beltrami had a 6-0 first quarter lead on a 10-yard Trevor Hamre run and a 12-6 halftime edge on a 3-yard Matt Sorenson run. But the Falcon failed on both conversion attempts.

"It was a very even game," acknowledged Sparby. "We had some penalties and mistake that kept us backed up at times on offense, but defensively we did a good job."

Blazek netted 85 yards on 20 carries for the Rebels, who were outgained 171-160 for the night.

Dan Koehmstedt, who plays nose guard, and Boe, an end, led the Rebels' defensive efforts. Koehmstedt was credited with five unassisted tackles and 12 assisted stops while also coming up with a fumble recovery. Boe was a "big play" producer on defense, said Sparby, with an interception, a blocked conversion kick, a fumble recovery and two quarterback sacks among his five tackles and two assists.

Middle River-Marshall County Central will try for a three-game win streak Friday in a Valley Plains Conference game at Red Lake Falls.

Scoring

High school volleyball...

Nordics shut out Skippers 3-0

Middle River and Marshall County Central students were teammates Thursday in a Valley Plains Conference high school football game against Fertile-Beltrami, but Friday they found themselves competing against each other in a North Border Conference volleyball match as the Nordics swept the host Skippers 15-10, 15-12, 15-11.

While the two school field cooperative programs in football, baseball and track, they retain the long-time rivalry in volleyball and basketball, resulting in friendlier, but no less competitive match-ups on the court whenever they face other.

"We played pretty well as a team," said Marshall County Central volleyball coach Mark Jorgenson after his team evened its record at 5-5 heading into the Thief River Falls Northern Lights Invitational the next day. It was the Nordics' second win of the year over the Skippers, following a 3-1 Marshall County Central season-opening victory back on Sept. 5.

Middle River fell to 1-5. "We're just not very aggressive," said first-year Middle River coach Debbie Johnson. "We're still young and we don't have much experience. We lack confidence. Blocking is probably our strong point, but we play it too safe when it comes to hitting the ball."

Senior Holly Grom, the lone Middle River player with much varsity experience coming into the 1991 season, along with eighth grader Krissi Super, have been the Skippers' most consistent performers at the net, said Johnson. Super and Andi Nelson have been the leaders at the service line, and Sara Melby, who shares setter duties with Nelson, drew praise from the coach for her hustle.

Both teams have two matches this week. Middle River visits Roseau tonight (Tuesday) and will host Warroad Thursday. Marshall County Central plays Grygla-Goodridge tonight in Goodridge and faces Lake of the Woods Thursday in Baudette.

Steel Shot Required

Department of the Interior's U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service reminds waterfowl hunters that nontoxic (steel) shot is required for all waterfowl and coot hunting during the 1991-92 hunting season. This is the final year of a five-year conversion to nontoxic shot for waterfowl hunting nationwide.

In addition, it will be illegal to possess lead shot, either in shot shells or as loose shot for muzzle-loading, while hunting these species. The regulations govern all 50 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and U.S. territorial waters seaward of county boundaries.

Spent shot deposited in hunting areas has been found to cause lead poisoning in waterfowl inadvertently ingesting the shot as they feed.

"The North American Waterfowl Management Plan is receiving tremendous support from hunters who want to restore waterfowl populations," says Service Director John Turner. "The elimination of lead poisoning is yet another way hunters can help in the effort to maintain stable, healthy populations of ducks and geese."

Non-toxic shot requirements have been phased in by county according to the number of waterfowl harvested. Counties with the highest harvest were the first in which the use of nontoxic shot has been required. The remaining counties included this season are those having an annual average waterfowl harvest of five or fewer birds per square mile during the 10-year period from 1971 to 1980.

Waterfowl hunters may contact the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service or their state wildlife agency for additional information concerning nontoxic shot regulations.

Water Permit Requirements

What does a person need to know before working on the bed of lakes, wetlands or watercourses? The answer is available in a new brochure entitled "Water Permits In Minnesota - What You Need To Know About Federal, State and Local Permit Requirements."

The brochure is designed to provide the information needed by landowners, developers, consultants, government officials and others about specific permit requirements when development is proposed on the bed of lakes, wetlands and watercourses.

The brochure was produced by the Waters Division of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR), in conjunction with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' St. Paul District. It was developed to serve as a guide to working with federal, state and local units of government.

The brochure contains information on DNR and Corps of Engineers agency contacts, a discussion of wetland functions and values, pictures of the eight different wetland types, and a general discussion of each agency's permit program.

Brochures are available by contacting the DNR at (612) 296-6157 or (612) 296-4800, or the Corps of Engineers at (612) 220-0375.

Buffalo Auction

Approximately 20 buffalo will be auctioned off at Blue Mounds State Park near Luverne Thursday, Oct. 17, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The auction is an annual event held to prevent the park's popular buffalo herd from becoming overpopulated, said Merlin Johnson, Blue Mounds State Park manager.

Tentatively included in the auction will be nine calves, two 18-month-old bulls, two 18-month-old heifers, two 30-month-old heifers, two 30-month old bulls, and three mature cows. All animals have been tested and have health certificates, Johnson said.

Animal inspection will begin at 8 a.m. on auction day, and will continue until the auction begins at 1 p.m.

For additional information, contact the DNR at Blue Mounds State Park by calling (507) 283-4892.

The videos will be available to library patrons on one-week loans. Shown with about half of the videos are Jan Upham, president of the library board; Steve Hook (center), past chairman of the Northwest chapter committee; and Marty Johnson, presently serving as committee chairman. The Thief River Falls public library is observing its 90th anniversary with a number of activities this week, including dedication of the display case in the background at 4 p.m. The case was donated to the library in memory of Gundar Legvold.

State Parks Permit

More than 100,000 lizards will appear on windshields all across Minnesota this year. No, it's not because the state is being overrun by reptiles. As a matter of fact, it's quite the opposite.

The five-lined skink, which is an endangered reptile in Minnesota, is featured on the 1992 Minnesota State Parks annual permit. The windshield sticker also promotes Beaver Valley State Park, which is home to the shy lizard.

The colorful skink sports five bright yellow stripes on a sleek black body and a metallic blue tail. During the mating season, the male skink flashes a red head and lips. The insect-eating reptiles can be found in rocky bluff areas, in oak savannas, or near limestone and sandstone outcrops in the wooded ravines of southeastern Minnesota.

When attacked, the skink will literally drop its tail and run away. The tail will continue to move, distracting the predator enough to allow the skink to escape.

According to Pat Arndt, Minnesota state parks marketing and merchandising coordinator, this new permit and subsequent stickers will focus on resources and interpretation. "We want to focus attention on Minnesota's resources that are found in and protected by our state parks," said Arndt. "By featuring these treasures on the annual permit and also in the state parks merchandise line, we hope people will become more aware of our environment and our responsibility to protect our resources."

Arndt noted that profits from merchandise sales at state parks nature stores help fund interpretive and education programs for parks visitors. Last year nearly 8 million people visited Minnesota state parks.

The 1992 annual permit costs $18. That reflects a $2 increase approved by the Minnesota Legislature, the first increase in three years. Permits cost $12 for senior citizens, people with handicaps, and those who buy a second or additional permits. Daily permits are $4 each.

Annual permits go on sale Oct. 1 at all Minnesota state parks and the DNR headquarters at 500 Lafayette Road in St. Paul.

Injury-plagued Marshall County Central will go into tonight's match at Grygla-Goodridge with a 4-6 record after losing to East Grand Forks and Badger-Greenbush Saturday. "We played well – we covered the floor well – against East Grand Forks," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson, "but we played some pretty sloppy volleyball against Badger-Greenbush."

An auction of confiscated firearms held recently in St. Paul produced nearly $37,000 for the State Game and Fish Fund, the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) reported. Some 550 people attended the auction, which was held at the DNR Headquarters in St. Paul.

The items sold had been confiscated from violators of Minnesota's hunting laws.

DNR officials said the highest amount paid for a single item was $450 for a 12-gauge Browning shotgun. Among other items that drew high bids were a 7mm Ruger rifle for $400, and a 12-gauge Baretta shotgun and 30-06 Browning rifle for $375 each.

As Minnesota's Canada goose population grows and grows, the hunting for these big birds gets better every year. Yet for a hunter new to the sport, goose hunting can be harder than skiing in Iowa.

It's not difficult find geese or even learning how to hunt them. Geese are abundant throughout much of Minnesota, and goose hunting information in the form of videos, books and magazine articles is easily available. The biggest problem most would-be goose hunters have is finding a specific place to hunt. But even though securing a goose hunting spot can be tough, it is not as impossible as some hunters might think, according to Kim Lines, DNR Farmland Wildlife Program leader.

The first step to finding a place to hunt is to rent or buy a goose hunting book or video from a library or sporting goods store, Lines said. "Before you look for the birds, you need to know about basic goose biology, behavior and habitat," he explained.

"If you've never hunted geese before, you might next consider a controlled hunt at Lac Qui Parle, Roseau or Thief Lake wildlife management areas," Lines said.

These DNR-sponsored hunts are controlled by daily lotteries that allow a certain number of hunters to shoot from permanent pits or blinds. A beginner can learn plenty about goose shooting techniques, hunting etiquette and strategy from watching other hunters at these wildlife areas, Lines said. "Pick up a 1991 waterfowl regulations synopsis at your local sporting goods store, bait shop or DNR office to find out more about the controlled hunts.

"If you're ready to hunt on your own, you'll need to find public or private land that geese are using," Lines said. Canada geese nest throughout much of southern and western Minnesota, and when migrating can be found almost anywhere there is water and nearby cropland. That means you can find them almost anywhere. To start narrowing your focus, you might plan a goose hunt around you duck or pheasant hunts where you already know the territory.

"Once you've picked a general area to hunt, call the local wildlife manager or conservation officer a few weeks before you plan to hunt and ask where large numbers of geese are flying or where geese are causing crop damage," Lines suggested. "The DNR officials can usually suggest a few lakes or wetlands where geese are most abundant.

"Now comes the hard part: scouting," Lines said. "A week before your hunt, head out to the lakes or wetlands and, at dawn, watch the birds fly to nearby crop fields, where they often feed on picked corn or newly planted wheat.

"Once you've pinpointed fields where geese feed, ask the landowner if you can hunt there," Lines said. "Some farmers are eager to rid their fields of geese and will be happy to let you do the ridding. Others, having endured 'slob' hunters in the past, might begrudge you permission. If that's the case, politely say 'thank you' and ask elsewhere. If you keep trying and ask politely, you can usually find landowners who will allow you the privilege of hunting on their property."

Public land is another option if the geese are feeding or resting in wildlife management areas, waterfowl production areas or other state or federal hunting areas, Lines said. A handy guide for finding public hunting land in Minnesota is the "Minnesota Atlas: A complete Guide to Public Lands and Water Access," available from many sporting goods stores or by sending $28.60 (which includes tax and postage) to Adventure Publications, P.O. Box 269, Cambridge, MN 55008.

Marilyn Hanson of Thief River Falls has been selected as Artist of the Month for October by the Northern Prairie Artists association. She will show some of her work at the Northern Prairie Arts Gallery in the Country Class Arts store in Thief River Falls Thursday, October 3, from 1 to 3 p.m. She is pictured with one of her watercolors entitled "Flower Garden" and a pen and ink drawing entitled "Old Barn."

Marilyn Hanson Artist of Month

by Cathy Mueller
Northern Prairie Artists Ass'n.

Artist of the Month for the Northern Prairie Artists association, Marilyn Hanson of Thief River Falls became interested in art when her daughter Paula was attending Northland Community college. She decided to take the Art Course because it would cover all aspects of art.

Watercolor was the first class that was offered by instructor Mike Trudeau. From there she went on to acrylics and oil paints, followed by drawing classes which she especially enjoyed.

Presently concentrating on watercolors, Marilyn is working on improving her technique. She still does some work with other mediums but favors watercolor use. Marilyn does most of her painting in her basement "craft room."

"Daytime is the best time for me to paint, but any time is a good time if you have the time," she said. "I'm working on miniatures, which is my favorite size to paid. I like flowers and buildings, which are my most frequent subjects. I would like to master everything."

Like many other members of the Northern Prairie Artists association, Marilyn is a beginning artist. She is taking workshops to help her develop her own style. She has taken a workshop from Marv Espe and will be taking the watercolor workshop from Lavonne Forsberg. She is also planning to take the class by Rose Edin which will be held next spring. She likes the work of Russell Norberg and Ellen Deiderick.

Marilyn said her husband, Orville and her children have been very encouraging of her work. She has given the children some of her paintings. She joined the Northern Prairie group in 1987 and has been an active board member and participating artist in the monthly art projects.

It's fun being creative, trying to make my first masterpiece," she said.

Some of her recent attempts to create that masterpiece will be on display Thursday, October 3, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Northern Prairie Art Gallery in the Country Class Arts store in Thief River Falls. Persons interested are encouraged to stop, view her paintings and visit with her during that time.

Country music jam session

Monthly country music jam session will be conducted Sunday, October 6, beginning at 2 p.m. and continuing through the potluck supper at 5:30 p.m. and into the evening at the Embassy Community center in Fosston.

All who play musical instruments are invited to participate and the public is also invited to attend and listen. For details contact Rodney Myhrum at 435-6913 evenings.

Gov. proclaims Public Power Week in state

Public Power Week has been proclaimed in Minnesota by Gov. Arne Carlson for October 6-12 in honor of the 132 municipally-owned electric and gas utilities in the state.

According to Gov. Carlson, the first municipal electric utility in Minnesota began operating in Ada in 1876. Several other municipals in the state have celebrated their centennials.

"Far from being relics of the past," Gov. Carlson said, "municipal utilities are an important part of the electric utility industry in Minnesota and across the country ....Municipally-owned utilities average the lowest rates. This helps keep rates down for all electric customers."

Among cities in this area which have municipal electric utilities are Thief River Falls, Warren, Newfolden, Alvarado, Argyle, Stephen, Hallock, Roseau and Warroad.

Local Kidney Foundation reviews drive

Results of the August fund campaign of the Kidney Foundation of TRF, Inc., were reviewed with concern at a meeting of the board of directors September 19 at the Ruth Nepper home.

Amount received from ticket sales and donations from businesses and organizations this year was down substantially from the income received in prior years and a cause for concern as to the future activities of the organization.

Winners of the foundation's raffle were Gloria Bugge, doll; Rolland Ryan, fishing trip; and Donald Peterson, $100 in cash.

Until 1983 the Kidney Foundation effort in Thief River Falls involved fund-raisers with all proceeds sent to the Kidney Foundation of the Upper Midwest in Minneapolis. In 1983 the Kidney Foundation of TRF was incorporated and since that time all the funds collected have been used in this area to assist people with kidney disease.

In that eight-year span more than 20 people have been the recipients of more than $78,000, primarily to assist with transportation and related costs of going to Grand Forks for dialysis or to the Twin Cities for medical assistance.

There are no paid positions in the local foundation which operates under the theme "People Helping People." Requests for money are screened and decisions on funding made by the board of directors which currently includes Clifford Bredeson, Klem Gigstad, Robert Bergan, Rick Erickson, Duane Glass, Web Maves, Ruth Nepper and Marilyn Winters.

Special thanks to those who did support the fund drive was expressed at the September board meeting. Although the fund drive is officially over, donations can still be made by contacting any of the above board members or sending a contribution to the Kidney Foundation of TRF, P.O. Box 222, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Current plans are for additional screening clinics to be conducted yet this fall and during the spring of 1992. For additional information contact Thompson at the Marshall county extension office, phone 745-5232.

U.S. Passport costs to increase by January 1

Passport costs will increase. Fees for a U.S. passport are expected to rise before the end of the year. The cost for an adult 10 year passport will go from $35 to $55 and for a child's five-year passport from $20 to $30. The fee increase is largely due to the rise in both labor a material costs as well as the need to produce a more tamper proof and secure document.

Americans who want to beat the fee increase may apply for their passport at one of the 13 U.S. passport agencies or at one of the 3,500 post offices or clerks-of-court around the United States. First time applicants must apply in person and present a completed DSP-11 passport application (obtained from one of the offices noted above), proof of U.S. citizenship, proof of identity, and two identical 2x2 inch photographs. Applicants who must make a personal appearance are required to pay an execution fee which is expected to be $10.

Applicants in possession of a current or recently expired passport may be eligible to apply by mail. To qualify applicants must be able to include a previous passport issued within the past 12 years and obtain when they were over age 16. Applicants should complete a DSP-82 (available at the offices mentioned above) and mail it, along

Attorney General
Hubert Humphrey III

Anyone who has ever worked in an office can appreciate how vital a business' copy machine is. Telephone con artists can appreciate it too, and they are cashing in on it by the millions of dollars.

"Toner phoners" and "paper pirates" call businesses masquerading as a company's regular supplier of copy machine products, such as paper or toner.

The U.S. Postal Inspection Service estimates that fraudulent telephone solicitors of copier supplies are swindling American companies out of $100 million a year. Xerox alone reports that the impact of "toner phoners" on their company's supply business jumped from $3.5 million in 1987 to more than $10 million in 1989.

Fraudulent telephone solicitors advise businesses that the copier supply company is planning to raise the prices of its copier products. The deceptive solicitor then offers

". . . . . That Government Of The People By The People For The People Shall Not Perish . . . . ."

On Tuesday, September 17, 1991, over 500 people packed the city auditorium in an unprecedented meeting to hear the Red Lake Band of Chippewa present their proposal for a Gambling Casino in Thief River Falls, and to voice support or opposition to it.

On one point did all agree: that the people want to vote on the issue. This was restated in the Northern Watch: "Most residents of the city and county would feel more comfortable if an advisory vote of some kind could be held . . . . ."; and also in the Grand Forks Herald: "The only clear consensus was that residents wanted to vote on the issue."

Both the County Commissioners and the City Council at their respective meetings on September 24, 1991, unofficially encouraged that if a privately-funded advisory vote of the people is to be held, it be held as soon as possible. We share a common belief in government by representation.

Therefore, the eligible voters of Pennington County and Thief River Falls will have the opportunity to cast their advisory vote either for or against the proposed gambling casino on Saturday, October 19, 1991. To insure that the voting procedure be as fair, impartial and open as possible, all activities and voting procedures will be carried out openly, in a forthright manner, open to the examination of all who wish to do so. The Chamber of Commerce has been invited to participate. Members of the media, and any other interested persons are invited to witness the voting and ballot count.

VOTING PLACES ARE

The Heritage Community Center in Thief River Falls
The Community Center in Goodridge
The Senior Center in St. Hilaire

Voting Date Is Saturday, October 19, 1991

Voting Times Are From 8:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M.

The arguments pro and con have already been voiced. The purpose of the committee is solely to organize as impartial and objective a vote of the people as possible.

If you would like to assist with expenses, send all support to the Citizens Advisory Vote Committee. If any additional finances are received they will be returned.

Projected expenses for facilities rental, printing, advertising and miscellaneous materials are $950.00.

A public meeting will be held Thursday, October 10, 1991 at 7:00 p.m. at the city auditorium basement meeting room for all interested persons and volunteers to attend. If you would like to become a committee member or a volunteer election judge regardless of your position on the casino, attend the public meeting or call one of the members listed below.

THE ONLY REAL HANDICAP IS NOT TRUSTING GOD'S WISDOM

The answer to why some people are physically handicapped is not easy to come by, but it is there. Those who over the years watched the TV series which was based on the true story of a struggling midwestern farm family will remember the heart-rending episode in which the beautiful eldest daughter went blind at the age of 15, a tragedy that would surely have destroyed her hopes of being a teacher. Nevertheless, after learning to cope with her sightless condition, she did indeed become a teacher —of blind children. The only people who are truly handicapped are those who fail to realize that God has a purpose for all of us, enabling us to live full and productive lives in which, regardless of our disabilities, we learn to help others as well as ourselves.

Adversity is not without comforts and hopes.
—Francis Bacon

Trip to Door County/Mackinac Island

The Overland Travel club sponsored a trip by Carpenter Charter bus to Door County/Mackinac Island in September, leaving from Thief River Falls at 7 o'clock Saturday morning the 21st. Passengers loading in Thief River Falls were Robert and Maxine Sundberg from Grygla, Murle and Andrew Lien from Greenbush, Ray and Mary Ann Ostenson from Lancaster, Peter and Frances Garszewski from Holt, and from Thief River Falls, Gordon and Johanne Hunt, Howard and Ruby Langlie, Gote and Erland Anderson, Harold and Alpha Helvorson, and Alvin and Mildred Rondorf. By 10 o'clock the bus load had reached Grand Rapids, where Clare Salisbury, Tyne Mike, Erna Seiberg and Ruth MacRosita joined the travelers. At Duluth they enjoyed a good view of the city when crossing the high bridge into Wisconsin. Overnight lodging was at the Days Inn in Marquette, MI. A short drive Sunday morning brought the bus with its eight seers to Tahquamenon Falls the second largest falls east of the Mississippi River. From there it was on to Sault Ste. Marie, MI, where it was interesting to see how the Soo Locks were able to raise or lower the water level for ships to go from Lake Superior to Lake Michigan. Here everyone also had time to visit a Great Lakes Freighter, before going on to the Quality Inn at St. Ignace to stay overnight. Monday morning, now September 23, the travelers rode the ferry to Mackinac Island, where they all enjoyed a carriage tour of the island, as no motorized vehicles are permitted. The rest of the day was spent visiting shops and candy stores in the island. Overnight lodging was at the Best Western at Escanaba, in Door County. Door County is known as the Cape Cod of the Midwest. It is an 80 mile long peninsula that juts out into Lake Michigan. Tuesday was spent there, where everything from sod-roofed houses to fishing villages were visited. A fish boil had been scheduled for the tourists. Again overnight lodging was in Door County. The next day was also spent in Door County visiting points of interest, and then on to Green Bay, WI, for the night. Thursday morning the bus load headed north back into Michigan to Ironwood for an underground mine tour and other sites of interest. Overnight was at Hurley, which is near Ironwood. Friday morning, now September 27th, the bus load left for Thief River Falls, but time allowed them to spend some time in Duluth. With Randy Carpenter as bus driver and Eldon Moe as the tour guide everyone had a relaxing and very interesting trip.

Monday morning September 16, Wanda Melvie of Holt, visited at the Lloyd and Harryet Larson home. In the afternoon Lloyd and Harryet were coffee guests at the Milton and Eileen Relerson home in Thief River Falls. Evening supper guests at Larson's were Marlan and Dorie Augustine of rural Holt. Rebecca and Stella also visited their sister, Helen Carlson, a resident of Valley Home. In the evening they visited their brother, Lester Halvorson, at his home in North, who recently spent four days as a patient at Northwest Medical Center.

Eldon and Evonne Moe and Jim Moe enjoyed having supper at Lon's Tuesday evening sponsored by the Northern Vet Service.

Wednesday forenoon visitors at the Lloyd and Harryet Larson home were Clifford and Marge Steinhauer of rural Holt. Friday afternoon Ida Rupprecht of Thief River Falls, was a visitor at Larson's. Marvin and Marcelle Nelson of Strathcona were supper guests.

Thursday evening, September 19, Eldon and Evonne Moe entertained for supper the cast who had presented a mock wedding during the program the afternoon of the open house, at the Oak Ridge Lutheran church, in honor of LaVerne and Bev Hamre's 25th wedding anniversary. Their guests were Steve and Vanessa Appel and sons, Joey and Matthew, Rodney and Lea Helgenset, Marvin and Betty Moen, Janice Olson, Duane Vetsaas, Martin and Louise Solseng, Mike and Maria Srnsky and sons Jeremy, Jason and Daniel, Rev. Mike and Rhonda Herschberger and Tim, and LaVerne and Bev Hamre and their houseguests, Charles and Lana VanWinkle of Singer, LA. Jim Moe was also a supper guest. The video of the mock wedding was also enjoyed following the supper.

Saturday Lloyd and Harryet Larson brought early birthday wishes to his brother, Donald Larson. Saturday Delores Rudy was also a visitor. Donald's birthday is September 23.

Approximately 800 people attended the turkey supper at the Nazareth Lutheran church in Holt Sunday evening.

Wednesday evening supper guests at the Harold and Alpha Helvorson home were Mrs. Stella Bitzer of Williams, and Alfred and Rebecca Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Solem received word by telephone Thursday evening, that they have another great-granddaughter. Office supply scams plague all businesses to sell the company copier supplies at the old price. This offer sounds valid, but in reality these copier supply telemarketers often sell inferior merchandise for as much as three times the amount a business would regularly pay for its supplies.

Warning Signals of Fraudulent Telemarketing. Businesses in Minnesota and throughout the country report that "toner phoners" consistently use the same sales pitches and techniques to fool an unsuspecting purchaser. Warning signals of shady supply sales include,

- Offers to sell surplus office supplies at "last year's prices."
- Offers to sell products that "just happened" to be available in a company's area due to cancellations or over-ordering by other purchasers.
- Offers of free, personal gifts if a business agrees to the sale.

Tips to prevent telemarketing scams. The "paper pirates" exploit unfamiliarity with the business which sells copier supplies and the speed with which companies need to make numerous business decisions each day.

Since it is often difficult to recover money from out-of-state con artists who are experts in hiding their assets, it is important to prevent "phoner" fraud.

The Attorney General suggests that businesses follow these tips to fight copier supply and other telemarketing scams:

- Use caution when responding to telephone solicitations.
- Ask for information in writing.
- Have one person order supplies for your company.
- Deal with companies that you know. Or, if you are not familiar with a company, check out its reputation before placing an order.
- Check invoices carefully. For more information, or if you suspect you were a victim of telemarketing fraud and want to file a complaint, contact the Minnesota Attorney General's Consumer Division: 124 Ford Building, 117 University Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55155; (612) 296-3353.

The Times' Editorial Opinion

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Opinions expressed by the editor are his own and not necessarily those of other staff members. Opinions expressed in items from other publications may be contradictory to the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

Our Community Exists Because Of Effort

We have heard it or seen it several times now in the comments and letters regarding the proposed casino for Thief River Falls. We are referring to the opinion that local officials should be attempting to attract "industry" or "factories" or "businesses" rather than promote establishment of a casino.

With all the public exposure that has been given to Jobs Incorporated and the city's community development office, and to the various projects they have been involved in over the years, there shouldn't be anyone in the area who isn't aware that the effort to not only attract new business but to retain and expand existing business is an every day effort.

We can imagine that all of those who have spent countless hours in investigating leads, making contacts, providing information, seeking financing, arranging meetings and the myriad of other things which have been and are being done in the business field must shake their heads in wonder each time they hear or read comments like those mentioned above.

Thief River Falls exists as a business center and a hub of activity in this area precisely because it has been blessed with people who not only had an interest in the community but knowledge and expertise and ability as well. They have spent the time and the effort to do what had to be done, often well beyond what could reasonably have been expected under the circumstances. They had vision and determination and communication skills—and too often not enough support from the people of the community who would stand to benefit from that effort.

Perhaps people will never know how much our community has benefitted from such people in the past as L.B. Hartz, Bill LaFave, Bill Dahlquist and others, but their impact was substantial. Many won't realize until into the future the impact of the current business leaders in carrying on that tradition of true leadership. But the work is being done. It is going on day by day and it's not a new idea by any means.

This editor happens to disagree with some of the community's business leaders over the merits of a casino proposed to be located here by the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians. That difference is only a matter of personal opinion and is purely subjective, and the disagreement on this one issue does not in any way diminish our opinion of or appreciation for those who have long been engaged in organizations and personal activities aimed at keeping our business community strong.

Over our 37 years in the newspaper business we have heard enough "they should" comments to last several lifetimes. We really don't want to hear any more. We are grateful for the people who have made and are making the efforts to do what they can to keep our community strong. We give them our public thanks. Success often comes slowly in such work, but it is vital to survival—and it is being done!

Is 99.9% Good Enough?

"What's your quality standard?" asks Natalie Gabel in an article in the March, 1991 issue of TRAINING, The Magazine of Human Resources Development published by Lakewood Publications, Inc., of Minneapolis.

"Reality says that quality standards of 100 per cent are never going to be attained," she continues. "After all, nobody's perfect. Wouldn't life be a whole lot easier and less stressful if we accepted a certain amount of predictable human frailty and built in a margin for error? We could even call it something impressive and positive-sounding. How about 'acceptable quality level,' for example?"

She goes on to point out that the idea of an "acceptable" level of mistakes, errors, waste, spoilage—and consequently a corresponding level of disgruntled customers—is a trap that can lure an otherwise well-meaning company into the kind of corporate quicksand where size and strength can become a liability instead of an advantage.

"The only acceptable quality level, say those who have been charting a course back to competitive excellence, is 100 per cent," Gabel writes. "That's the standard of measurement. The rationale is simple: Set a standard at 95 per cent and people figure they're doing fine as long as they're at or near it.

"In the language of the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award, however, quality is a 'race with no finish line.' There's no time of day or month on the calendar when it's okay to let up.

"The alternative to setting standards at their highest possible level becomes clearer when you look at the consequences of 'almost but not quite,'" Gabel concludes. She says that if 99.9 per cent is good enough, then:

- Two million documents will be lost by the IRS this year;
- 811,000 faulty rolls of 35mm film will be loaded this year;
- 22,000 checks will be deducted from the wrong bank accounts in the next 60 minutes;
- 1,314 phone calls will be misplaced by telecommunications services every minute;
- 12 babies will be given to the wrong parents each day;
- 268,500 defective tires will be shipped this year;
- 103,260 income tax returns will be processed incorrectly this year;
- 2,488,200 books will be shipped in the next 12 months with the wrong cover;
- 5,517,200 cases of soft drinks produced in the next 12 months will be flatter than a bad tire;
- Two plane landings at O'Hare International Airport in Chicago each day will be unsafe;
- 3,056 copies of tomorrow's Wall Street Journal will be missing one of the three sections;
- 18,322 pieces of mail will be mishandled in the next hour;
- 291 pacemaker operations will be performed incorrectly this year;
- 880,000 credit cards in circulation will turn out to have incorrect cardholder information on their magnetic strips;
- 20,000 incorrect drug prescriptions will be written in the next 12 months;
- 114,500 mismatched pairs of shoes will be shipped this year;
- $761,900 will be spent in the next 12 months on tapes and CDs that won't play;
- 107 incorrect medical procedures will be performed by the end of the day today;
- 315 entries in Webster's Third New International Dictionary of the English Language (unabridged) will turn out to be misspelled.

At any rate, you get the message. One hundred percent may be an unattainable quality goal, but 99.9 per cent isn't good enough.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I regret that I was unable to attend the Robert E. Farmes Memorial Dedication September 21. Bob Farmes received just about every possible award from wildlife organizations and deserved them all, this one most of all.

I remember Bob Farmes as a dedicated professional and a very good friend. As a reporter for the Times and an avid sportsman I had an enjoyable association with Bob during the mid-1960s. He was a friend to every Minnesota sportsman, whether they knew him or not.

Bob had great knowledge of wildlife and also had the leadership qualities to direct the energy of volunteers. One example I can recall was the Pennington County Sportsmen's Club's trail-making and browse-cutting expedition in the woods on Randen Ridge the weekend after the March blizzard of '66. We found 10 dead deer, but saved many others from starvation.

If I ever return to your area, I'll definitely visit the memorial pool and monument.

Also, I was sorry to hear of the death of my old boss, Clarence Mattson. I learned a lot of things as his employee, including some of the finer points of duck hunting and moose watching. Like the tough old bird he was, he gave cancer a good, long fight.

I haven't been back to good old Thief River for many years, but I usually see Neil Mattson of Warren at newspaper functions here in North Dakota, and he brings me up to date on the Times and its coverage area.

To those I knew who are still Times staffers, keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Jim

To The Editor:

My purpose in writing this opinion letter is not to try to persuade the public to support or to oppose the proposed casino. That horse has been kicked around so much lately that to continue to do so would be totally redundant. No, my purpose is rather to discuss a few related points which have arisen surrounding the casino controversy.

It has been suggested by supporters of the casino proposal that it is not a question of morals at all, but rather one of economics only. The message they seem to be sending is "If a profit in dollars and cents can be made, then conflicting moral concerns should be overlooked."

Although I didn't live in Thief River Falls at the time the municipal liquor store was approved, I can only infer that the same attitude prevailed at that time. (I'm completely astonished that a city can take pride in owning a liquor store when that same city's police chief stated publicly, during a drug awareness meeting a year ago, that the source of the community's greatest drug problem is alcohol.)

Using this "profit vs. morality" line of thinking, the obvious next step for the economic betterment of Thief River Falls should be to legalize the selling of hard drugs on our streets and in our schools. That should be followed by legal prostitution, right? I mean, after all, as long as the community can benefit financially, it's simply a financial issue and has nothing whatsoever to do with morality, right? The proceeds could go a long way toward improving our educational system, right? And just think of all the tourist trade these business ventures would bring into town! Look how many new jobs that would create! Does this sound ridiculous to you? That's what I thought, too. But it seems to be the philosophy of our city officials, Chamber of Commerce, etc. It's time to get in touch with reality, Thief River Falls, and call gambling what it is: a moral travesty.

My second point concerns a comment made by Pennington County Commissioner Ken Murphy, in which he blatantly accused the ministers of Thief River Falls of "racism". I am one of those ministers. I am also part Cherokee Indian. I personally find Mr. Murphy's comment totally insulting and, were I a member of the Red Lake Nation, I would take exception to such an implication.

I have spoken with, and listened to, many local people concerning this issue and not one of them gave any indication that they were opposed to the Red Lake Band owning a business in Thief River Falls. They oppose a casino in Thief River Falls regardless of the owner's race. In fact, I've heard several comments indicating that a family oriented business or tourist attraction owned by the Band (such as a theme park, a Native American history museum, craft shops, restaurants, etc.) would be a welcome addition to our community.

My greatest point of consternation with Mr. Murphy's comment, however, is that he seems to have planted a seed of bitterness that is now beginning to flourish out of control. Many recent news articles concerning the casino proposal have mistakenly cited "racism" as one of the major motives of the opposition. I firmly believe this misconception originated with Mr. Murphy's statement, which, it seems fairly obvious, was intended to affect the consciences of those of us who oppose the casino. It's not working, Mr. Murphy.

My third and final point centers on the attitudes of the city council and the county board of commissioners. The implication they have given is that their decisions will be made according to what they alone, as individuals, believe, with virtually no concern for the wishes of the people they represent. I realize that this is their legal right; that a referendum vote would be non-binding; but weren't they elected to represent the interests of those who elected them? Couldn't they be voted out of office as easily as they were voted in? According to the Grand Forks Herald, a referendum vote has been scheduled by a citizens group to be held on Oct. 19, 1991. Mayor Carlson was quoted in that same article as having implied that the decision to accept the casino proposal could very well be made before the referendum is even held!

What I am trying to say is simply this: Let's start calling immorality what it is instead of hiding it under a pile of profit and loss statements; let's not allow our elected "public servants" to intentionally try to confuse issues by bringing in accusations of "racism" where it doesn't exist; and if those elected officials refuse to properly and honestly represent those who put them in office, let's find some who will.

Sincerely,
Gene Eddleman

To The Editor:

Allow me to express my best judgment concerning the new casino coming to our town.

A few years ago we finally voted in hard liquor. The first year we were told the city made over a hundred thousand dollars profit, but I was told by some reliable source the relief to the needy people went up by one hundred thousand dollars the first year. That's like robbing Peter to pay Paul.

Then two or three years ago we got the pulltabs. The talk was that everyone would make money. It has not turned out that way. I know of people who have lost their house and home; some have mortgaged their farms; some homes have been broken up; it goes on and on.

Now we are thinking about big time gambling. The way I see it we will only open up our town to more evil. We will invite the law-breakers, deadbeats and misfits. The only people that will benefit would be the owners and the State of Minnesota from taxes. They say 300 people are going to get jobs. Cut that in half and the estimate would be too many.

If you are so set on gambling, go farming or buy a business uptown. That should cool off your gambling. With every little town going in for gambling, who do you think will come to Thief River Falls? This place will be too small to attract the big boys. By making it so convenient to gamble we know a lot of locals will try their luck and only lose their money.

Sincerely,
Melvin Joppru

Twenty three were registered, the guests were Joyce Shodin from Grafton, ND, Marion Nyflot from Bronson, Clara Nelson and Melvin Kittleson from Karlstad, and Toni Kleinwachter from Strandquist. After the Pledge of Allegiance was said and Table Grace prayed, lunch was served by the hostess, Toni Kasprowicz, who also won the door prize.

Slow Drains?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again!

The secret? Clean drains don't run slow. Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are signals that a thick layer of "gook" is choking your pipes. This gook coats the entire length of your pipe- from sink to sewer, or septic.

Conventional drain openers cannot remove this build up. Even a small tunnel through the waste lets them flow through the pipe, leaving the gook behind!

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes like new... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That allows it to liquefy even years of build up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, Plumb Clean is money-back guaranteed!

Save Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35 ¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safety. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some, may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.

Plummer To Hold Autumn Fest

"The Plummer chapter of the Future Farmers of America and the Commercial club are jointly sponsoring a harvest festival to be held at Plummer Saturday, October 4. Included in the program of events for the day are a free show at the village auditorium in the morning starting at 9:30; a band concert at 1 o'clock; a football game at 2 o'clock between the Plummer and Oslo teams; exhibits of livestock, grains, vegetables, poultry and canned goods; and a livestock sale at the county garage."

Marriage Licenses Slump In Sept.

Three Inches Snow Falls Here

"This community got a foretaste of winter last Saturday when a three-inch snowfall arrived locally, the precipitation being recorded on the power plant gauge as .35 inch. The snow quickly disappeared, and with no rain of consequence this week, belated threshing operations have been resumed."

From The Editorial Page

"We are about due to make an embarrassing mistake. We are sure of this because it has been so long since we have been called to task by an angry reader or advertiser. Our mistakes seem to run in bunches. We go along for months at a time without serious trouble and then all at once, everything seems to go wrong at once. That's why we are beginning to worry about what's going to happen. Things have been too peaceful hereabouts of late."

Home Nursing Classes To Begin

"The Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross is sponsoring the Red Cross nursing classes as a part of the itinerant public health nusing program now being carried on by Miss Ruby Goodman in Pennington county.

"Classes for adults will be conducted by Miss Goodman, who is authorized by the Red Cross to teach these classes. The instruction is very practical; knowledge of home hygiene and care of the sick means greater security and safety against illness and suffering in the home. The purpose is to strengthen the resourcefulness of the homemaker, and to help her to take better care of her home and family under normal conditions, as well as in illness or emergency."

—It's time to start fattening that turkey, Thanksgiving Day has been set for November 20.

—It must be kind of damp down around Ada, too. That town reports three and one-half feet of precipitation since the first of the year.

Railroad Business

"The railroad contractors on the road between here and Red Lake Falls are having a hard time of it at present. The recent heavy rains have made it almost impossible for them to do any work, some parts of the line being under several feet of water. There is some doubt about their being able to finish their contracts this fall."

And the Weather Report

"The country has not been as wet as now in several years and this will be a disastrous fall for the farmer. Very little plowing is being done or can be done, it being impossible for many farmers to go onto their fields with a team. Threshing machines are unable to move and very little threshing will be done until after the ground freezes. The roads are all impassible and the farmers are forced to idleness at a time when they should all be busy at work."

Volume 80, Number 61 | 324 Main Avenue North, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 | Tuesday, October 8, 1991

Moose in northwestern Minnesota will become fair game for hunters beginning Saturday as the semi-annual moose season opens at sunrise and continues for nine days through Sunday, October 20. The animal pictured above was a Thief River Falls visitor early this spring, bedded down with a smaller companion in a back yard off East First Street when this Times photo was taken. With a good summer of growth it will be an acceptable animal for harvest this fall. Minnesota Department of Natural Resources has issued 365 moose hunting permits this year, a majority of which are in the northwest zones. Four-member parties may take one moose of any age or sex per party by rifle or archery and a 90 per cent success ratio is expected. Voluntary orientation sessions for moose license holders will be conducted Friday, October 11, at 1 and 7 p.m. when Gordon Forester, area wildlife manager for the DNR in Thief River Falls, will discuss moose hunting laws, ethics and care of meat once a moose has been harvested. The DNR will have a moose check station at Amoco 24 in Thief River Falls beginning Saturday morning and continuing until Tuesday evening, October 22. Moose hunters have until 48 hours after the season closes to register their animals. Check stations will also be available at the Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area headquarters and in Karlstad. Forester said the number of permits has been reduced to 365 this year from approximately 500 in the last two seasons due to a decrease in moose numbers in the state.

Commissioners agree to delay casino action

Delay requested this morning by volunteer group supporting advisory vote

Pennington county commissioners meeting in regular session this morning agreed to a request not to act on the proposed gambling casino for Thief River Falls until an independent advisory vote is taken Saturday, October 19.

The request was presented to the board by the Citizens Advisory Vote Committee, whose members include David Grothe, Mark Kelley, Russell Holmes, Rod M. Johnson, Dennis Peterson and Timothy Rittenour.

In making the request to the board of commissioners, the committee listed three primary reasons why a vote is being organized, advised the board on progress in organizing the vote and addressed what the committee called "the matter of fairness."

A similar presentation will be made tonight at the regular meeting of the Thief River Falls city council in the city auditorium.

There are three principal reasons why an advisory vote on the proposed gambling casino is being organized for Pennington county residents:

(1) At the Sept. 17, 1991 public meeting, the general consensus of the people was that they would at least like an opportunity to vote. Since no legal means exists for the city or county to conduct a referendum on the casino question, the Citizens Advisory Vote committee has been formed as a private effort to bring about this opportunity for the people.

(2) Since American government is a government of the people, the primary office of elected officials is that of rightly representing their constituency. A properly conducted advisory vote could well assist you in doing this.

(3) An advisory vote has the approval of the Attorney General. "A private group, paying all of its own expenses and adopting all of its own procedures therefore, may conduct an opinion poll ...for the purpose of ascertaining public sentiment on a proposition." (This is an) excerpt from a public statement released by (city) attorney (Paul) Ihle.

The progress to date in organizing this advisory vote is as follows:

(1) Three polling sites in the community centers of Thief River Falls, Goodridge and St. Hilaire have been reserved for Saturday, October 19, 1991, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

(2) Voting procedures have been finalized, patterned after school board elections of some years ago, and publicized. Positive voter identification will be required. The voter will be required to sign a registration form, listing name, address, township or ward.

(3) Approximately 7,000 ballots have been printed by township and ward to enable sorting of the final ballot count. You will be presented with verified, detailed statistics, the merits of which you can determine.

(4) Absentee ballot requests are being received and answered.

(5) Volunteers are presently being enlisted to assist with this effort.

Additionally, we wish to address the mater of fairness:

(1) There will be three polling sites in the county, all at public, handicap-accessible locations.

(2) The voting places, date and times have been well publicized and will receive more publicity.

(3) The doors will be open to each and every eligible person who wishes to vote. Every registered voter may cast a ballot. Absentee ballots may be requested for those unable to vote in person.

Screening program for breast cancer starts October 28

Mammogram screening for breast cancer will be conducted October 28 through November 22 and educational sessions are scheduled for November 7 and 19 at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls.

Screening is being conducted by Northwest Medical Center and the Falls Clinic division of Dakota Clinic Ltd. in cooperation with the American Cancer society. There are approximately 300 spots open for screening mammograms and when these appointments have been made there will be no additional appointments made at the screening price.

Cost of the screening will be $50, payable in cash at the time of the screening, and will include x-ray and interpretation only. Those who wish to have the hospital and clinic to process their insurance for this service will be charged the regular rate of $101.25.

Appointments may be made by calling the medical center at 681-4240, extension 477, during regular business hours.

Educational sessions will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a videotape on mammography and self-examination and conclude with a question and answer period. Questions will be handled by a representative from the patient education department of the hospital and a physician.

American Cancer Society suggests a three-sept detection program:

(1) Have the first screening mammogram by age 40, one every two or three years to age 49 and one annually after age 50.

(2) Practice monthly breast self-examination (your doctor or patient education staff can show you the proper methods); and

(3) See your doctor for regular breast exams—at least every three years until age 40, then every year.

Facts About Breast Cancer

- Breast cancer is the second most common form of cancer in American women. It rarely occurs in men.
- One out of 10 American women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime.
- About 150,000 new cases of breast cancer will be diagnosed in 1991 and 44,000 women will die from the disease.
- Most breast irregularities are found by women themselves, yet many women do not know how to perform breast self-examination and few do so regularly.
- Fewer than 30 per cent of American women follow recommended guidelines for screening mammography, a simple procedure that can reveal small breast cancers up to two years before they can be felt. Screening should begin by age 40.
- Over 80 per cent of breast lumps are benign, but any breast lump must be evaluated by a physician. Follow-up biopsy is often recommended.
- If detected early, breast cancer can often be treated effectively with surgery that preserves the breast.
- Breast cancer incidence increases with age, rising sharply after age 40. Two-thirds of all breast cancers occur in women over 50 years of age.
- Every woman is a risk for breast cancer. The risk of developing breast cancer increases as a woman ages, if she has a family history of breast cancer; has never had children, had her first child after age 30, began menstruating before age 12, began menopause after age 55 or eats a diet high in fat. However, most breast cancers occur in women who have no identifiable risk factors.

Last year 147 Minnesota medical facilities participated in the breast cancer detection awareness project. Twelve thousand mammograms were done which revealed 61 breast cancers.

Dear Friends,
You cannot put a time limit on grief. The grieving process is never the same for any two people. Do not compare yourself with others in similar situations. Their smiles may not reveal the depth of their sorrow. Be patient with yourself. Heal in your own time, and in your own way.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Marijuana plants with a street value of about $2.6 million were destroyed by officials on Red Lake Indian Reservation Saturday.

Three enrolled tribal members and one man from Pennington county are under investigation, according to Julius Schoenborn, criminal investigator for the Bureau of Indian Affairs. No arrests have been made and the case remains under investigation.

Schoenborn said a field of about 115 marijuana plants ranging in height from five-foot six inches to eight feet tall were first discovered while officers were flying over a bog near the reservation line and Pennington county. "It looked like evergreen trees growing from a bog," said Schoenborn. It's unusual for evergreen trees to be growing in a bog, he explained.

Schoenborn said the field was located near County road 51 and the reservation line, near Hickory township in Pennington county. It was about three-quarters of a mile from the location of a field where 56 plants were eradicated on September 15.

Schoenborn said the 115 plants found at the new location were eradicated. He said they had a street value of about $2.6 million.

The case remains under investigation by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Tribal Police, and the Tribal Game Warden's office.

Teleconference on Workers Com.

"Controlling Workers Compensation costs Through Ergonomics" is the title of a one day Teleconference to be presented on Wednesday, October 23 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Thief River Falls Technical College. Cost to attend the teleconference is $10 per person — lunch is not included.

This Teleconference is directed to safety directors, plant managers, plant engineers — anyone who is responsible for controlling workers compensation costs or who will benefit from learning to apply ergonomics. The program will show how ergonomics (fitting the task to the worker) and an effective Return to Work Program can help control the number one cause of workers compensation costs: cumulative trauma disorders (in particular back injuries). Participants will have opportunities to direct questions to the presenters via phone lines.

The teleconference is sponsored nationally by Wausau Insurance Companies and is being presented locally through cooperation with the Customized Training Division of the Thief River Falls Technical College.

Registrations will be accepted starting on October 15 and will be on a space-available basis. To preregister contact the Customized Training Division of the Thief River Falls Technical College, 1301 Highway One East, Thief River Falls, MN 56702 or call (218) 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884.

Millard Dailey leads SDA church worship service

by Marilyne Sayler

Saturday was a landmark day at the Seventh-day Adventist church. Since the Pastor had to be out of town, the 11 a.m. worship hour was delegated to church elders. The congregation learned that Millard Dailey of Red Lake Falls was scheduled to preach the sermon.

A layman, Mr. Dailey has preached and taught Bible classes in Thief River Falls for many years. But, at 83 years of age, he has started to notice that it takes a lot out of him to stand behind the pulpit for half an hour to deliver a sermon.

Those who are acquainted with Millard Dailey know that he is not a quitter. As one of the founders of Red Lake Falls Electric 53 years ago, he has distinguished himself as a hard worker, a progressive thinker, a community leader and a gentleman. He has travelled extensively in the United States and abroad, although one of his favorite trips was to the Oval Office in 1967 to meet with President Lyndon Johnson who appointed him to the Federal Farm Credit Board for a six year term.

Although Mr. Dailey retired from his heavy responsibilities at the Red Lake Falls Electric Company he continues to serve on the board of the statewide Minnesota Rural Electric Association and Minnkota Power Corporation.

Besides being a businessman, Dailey is a Bible scholar, an avid supporter of religious liberty and a man whose heart is as big and open as his keen mind. He loves to speak of God's unconditional love for people and His desire for their salvation . . an appropriate topic for a man whose life away from the pulpit is as much an inspiration as the words he shares from Scripture.

This summer, though, Mr. Dailey finally admitted that, because of his health, he needed a break from speaking duties at the church. With regrets, the church granted him a couple of month's leave.

That all ended on September 28. One of Dailey's friends made a proposal that sounded workable. The friend reasoned, "Why should Mr. Dailey have to put forth so much effort to hold up his lean six-foot frame during the sermon when the congregation, many of whom are less than half his age, sit comfortable in their pews?" The answer seemed an obvious, albeit significant break from tradition. Daily liked the idea and decided to give it a try.

So it was at the appointed time during the Saturday morning service, Millard Dailey, Bible in hand, bypassed the pulpit and took his place on he platform in a rocking chair. With a clear voice he commented bow nice it was to actually feel comfortable up front again. Momentarily blocking out the congregation, he tried out the chair's rocking action as if giving it his final approval. Then he once more acknowledged his audience. With typical good nature, he chuckled, "I just hope I don't fall asleep during the sermon!"

With apparent approval, Dailey's listeners settled in to hear the message of the day. Be assured, no one slept through his sermon. "It was just as if he was sitting in my front room talking to me personally," commented one listener afterward. "I love to hear him speak and I'm so glad we found a way to make that possible again."

Ancient King Solomon penned, "A gray head is a crown of glory; It is found in the way of righteousness." Solomon's wisdom certainly still rings true in 1991. Making it possible for "seniors" to continue serving and ministering in our community is not a duty; it is a privilege.

Millard Dailey of Red Lake Falls led worship service recently at Seventh-day Adventist church in Thief River Falls. Dailey was given the opportunity to preach from a rocking chair instead of the pulpit.

Five-day stop smoking clinic

Five-day stop smoking clinic is scheduled October 20-24 at Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls under sponsorship of the medical center and Falls Clinic division of Dakota Clinic Ltd.

Sessions will begin at 7 p.m. each day and be conducted by the Seventh-day Adventist church in the basement meeting room at Northwest Medical center.

Dr. Leo Herber, program director, said the five-day plan is "very much oriented toward teaching people how to live, not just how to give up the smoking habit."

Each day of the clinic has a special emphasis—support, health awareness, substitution strategies, personal growth and development and motivation.

Cost for participants will be $15 for individuals, $25 for two people from one family and $30 for three from one family. Pre-registration is required as class size is limited. For information or to pre-register call 681-4747, extension 205.

Woodcrafters conduct meet

Lambert Brunkhorst, industrial arts instructor at Franklin middle school, discussed shop safety when Northland Woodcrafters met for the first meeting of the season Monday, September 30, at the Occupational Development center in Thief River Falls.

Brunkhorst discussed safety features when working with table saws, jointers, radial arm saws and routers, answering questions from members during the presentation.

Mrs. Ruth Legvold invited members of the club to use the new display case containing her late husband's bird carvings at the Thief River Falls public library for display of their carvings and other small items.

Members were thanked for their participation at Pennington county fair competition and exhibition and preliminary discussion was held regarding expanded participation at the 1992 county fair.

Discussion was also held on a club project for the building of wood toys to be distributed at Christmas time to needy children in the area. Plans and suggestions will be available at the October meeting planned for Monday, October 28, at 7 p.m. at the ODC.

Also at the October meeting membership for the 1992 club year will be available and will include the remainder of 1991. Membership is $10 per year for individuals and $15 for families.

LETTERS

To The Editor

Over the past several weeks much has been said about this casino. This issue seems to have been split on two points of view—economic gain versus morality. Various writers have quoted Biblical passages in opposition to the casino. One Biblical passage says, "Judge not lest ye be judged."

However, that is not my argument. It appears to me that the proposed casino comes down to a matter of rights. Those opposed to the casino on moral grounds are attempting to mandate their "moral code" on those who choose an alternative lifestyle.

No one is forcing anyone to go to the casino, no-one is being forced to gamble, and anyone who chooses to can totally ignore the casino. No one has the legal right to shove their moral code down the throat of another.

I support the casino locating here in Thief River Falls and have absolutely no intention of spending one thin dime at the establishment.

Sincerely,
Dennis J. Larson
Thief River Falls

To Mayor Bob Carlson, City Council Members and The Editor:

Why, Mayor Bob, are you so opposed to the growth of Thief River Falls? Sure, your family is set in good businesses and you are ready for retirement. But what about our families...our futures.... our children's futures?

The number of part-time jobs right now is limited. With the businesses that would come into town following the arrival of the casino (Perkins, Target and who knows what else) there would be many more part-time jobs for our high school students and even some full-time positions for the "unemployed."

As far as the gambling issue is concerned, what about the fact that a few upstanding moral citizens of our community were caught illegally gambling (betting, to be exact) on an NCAA tournament at the Elks club not that terribly long ago? But that's OK, isn't it?

Isn't it true, Mayor Bob, that since you've been in office there have been a lot of businesses turned away? And what about the $4.5 million dollars that was to be donated by Ralph Engelstad? We lost that, too—and all he wanted was for the sports arena to be renamed after Huck Olson.

To the ministers and religious groups: You people with such high moral standards—not wanting the casino to come in and saying we should turn to God. Do you realize what you are saying?

May I remind you that as true Christians you are not to make up one's mind or a decision for them... that no man can change another—only the Lord can do that. You have no right to decide what is right for another. You as true Christians are to present the facts, that being Jesus, and the rest is up to the individual, not you!

We know gambling is wrong, but anything you do in excess is a sin, and that includes much more than just gambling. If you are as against gambling as you claim to be, then you better put an end to playing Bingo and raffles. And what about pulltabs? We've seen quite a few of the local church members doing just that.

We are also quite certain that if we do get this casino and more new businesses these new families will have to attend a church some place. Will you refuse their money on Sunday when you pass the collection plate? We hardly think so.

Now, to the council members: When are you men and woman going to stand up for what the people want in this community, or should I say, what is right for this community, which is GROWTH. We want TRF to grow, we want a Perkins, we want a mall, we want whatever it takes to get things moving in this community "again." You are people we have voted in—now start doing your jobs! Otherwise give them up!

People in TRF, there will always be those who choose to gamble, drink or do things you don't approve of. We have no control over that. But if you are opposed to gambling, then do as you have in the past—simply stay away from it.

We need to stop being afraid of changes and not hinder the growth of our community. Look at St. Hilaire; why, they even want the casino. It makes no sense to let another community have the casino when TRF is where the Red Lake Band wants it to be.

This shouldn't be a moral issue or racist matter. It simply is a matter of letting Thief River Falls die or live.

On leave, but still on assignment

by Marilyne Sayler

Home on leave doesn't necessarily mean home without assignment. At least not if you're Private Paul Erickson.

Paul arrived in Thief River Falls last weekend to visit his parents Wavell and Sarah Erickson and within a few days he was busy representing some of the best this country has to offer. This is how it all came about.

In the spring of this year Erickson registered with the military completing his basic training at Fort Jackson, SC. He was given Advanced Individual Training (AIT) at Fort Gordon, Georgia, where he earned a Military Occupational Specialty by becoming a single channel radio operator. Jump school at Fort Benning, GA, followed a thrilling experience for Erickson since it was jump school that enticed him to join the military in the first place. Following graduation from jump school came his long-awaited home leave, and with it an invitation for him to introduce a club of young boys to the Presidential Physical Fitness award concept. "I knew he would be a good person to do it," comments his mother. "After reading his letters about the gruelling routine to get him into shape during basic training, I knew he was in top physical condition and so he could provide a good role model for the boys."

Paul spent time with the boys, ages 6 through 10, members of the Adventurer's club at the Seventh-day Adventist church. He helped them understand the significance of being in shape and then began helping them improve their own physical fitness. In the process he was asked many questions about his experiences such as, "What do you like best about what you're doing?" to which he replied, "I really appreciate the opportunity to learn new skills, such as operating a radio. I plan to continue my formal education, too." "Why do you want to go back to school?" the boys shot back. "Because it's fun!" testified Erickson with complete honesty.

One of the boys wanted to know if the food was bad. "No, actually overall it's pretty good. We get lots of special dishes and great desserts. The only time the food is bad is when we're in the field. After that we're really glad to get back to the barracks and get some real food again."

After a few moments of roughhousing, Erickson gently brought the boys back to the task at hand — chin ups. Their many unsuccessful attempts did not stifle the lands' curiosity. "What did you like best about jump school?" one asked as he dangled from a parallel bar. Paul's face lit up as he responded without hesitation, "the first four seconds after I jumped out of the plane. It was a real thrill!" When probed further, "What do you see when you jump out of a plane?" He answered, "During the first four seconds, pretty much all I see is my boots. Once my chute opens I get to see what's below me. And of course, I'm always looking out for the other jumpers so I don't run into them or get tangled up in their chutes."

Erickson went on to explain that jumper trainees get experience exiting two military aircraft — the C-130 and the C-141. When asked what the difference is, he said, "We jump out of the C-130s. There is a minimum distance by which we are to clear the plane. We step out of the C-141s. We literally walk right out of the plane."

Later, Private Erickson confided that the opportunity to spend time with a group of young boys was a valuable experience. "I think they taught me as much as I taught them," he said. "I learned that soldiers are a lot easier to put through PT than little kids. Soldiers know how to follow orders instantly on command without asking hundreds of questions or taking numerous little side trips. Yet there is something neat about the free spirit of little kids too. Some of them tried so hard to do well. And, I don't see them giving up either. They put their whole heart into what they're doing."

Interestingly, Private Erickson's students this week do not seem to be unlike the child Erickson of 12 years go. Early on, Paul's parents observed him to be an avid student of airplanes. When he turned 10, his one birthday wish came true. He got to go for his first airplane ride aboard what was called a Discovery Flight. He showed such interest in the flight panel that the pilot started to ask a few questions. She was awed as he named the instruments and their functions. She then allowed the young Erickson to take over the cockpit controls for more than 10 minutes. After that experience, Paul seemed to float on air for a long time. He knew he was in love with airplanes.

Thursday morning Erickson boarded another plane in Thief River Falls, this time heading for Fort Bragg where he will have military orders waiting for him. "I hope to get into the 18th Air Borne Corps," he says, "but I'll just have to wait and see where I'm needed." Paul's eyesight prevents him from becoming a military pilot, but that doesn't seem to bother him. "Being a paratrooper is what I really want to be right now."

If it is possible to influence outcomes by sending wishful messages, some of Erickson's young admirers may have done just that. As a farewell and thank you gesture, they presented him with hand-folded paper planes, carefully colored and labelled with wax crayons. These were their own versions of military aircraft. As Paul good-naturedly sent one of them flying, a deliberately-placed message ejected from the plane and floated to the ground. It read, "Thanks for helping us start our club. Good luck."

Private Paul Erickson worked with youngsters of Seventh-day Adventist church this fall to help prepare the boys for passing the Presidential Physical Fitness award. Erickson completed basic training at Fort Jackson and received Advanced Individual Training at Fort Gordon, GA. He then attended jump school at Fort Banning.

State's education report released with Fed report

Minnesota Governor Arne Carlson has unveiled a state report in concert with the release of the first National Education Goals Panel annual report calling on Minnesotans to raise their expectations for students.

"Both reports show we have many things to be proud of in our education system and in the performance of our students and teachers," Carlson said. "Yet it is not enough to rest on our laurels. It's not enough to be a leader among states. We must be leaders among the countries of the world. We need to create an atmosphere for change and understand that the education system that served us well yesterday is obsolete for our children today and falls far short of what will be needed tomorrow."

"Our first goal must be to convince every Minnesotan that creating world class educational opportunities for our children must be our first priority. Second, we must realize that we cannot create the education system our children deserve without the help of every segment of the community. Third, we must develop better information systems and benchmarks to measure our progress," Carlson said.

The First Annual Governor's Report on Minnesota and the National Education Goals indicated that:

Learning readiness: Minnesota is a leader in recognizing the importance of prevention in the early years to later success in life and learning:

- Our early childhood family education program was the first in the nation to fund combined learning activities for children and parenting education.
- The state has funded early childhood health and development screening to catch problems early before they interfere with learning.

School completion: Minnesota has the highest high school completion rate in the nation — 91 per cent — and already exceeds this national goal.

- The state is setting a new graduation standard to raise expectations and ensure achievement for all students — especially special populations whose dropout rates exceed the state average.

Student achievement: Minnesota students score near the top nationally on most measures of achievement, but national excellence is no longer enough. More efforts are needed to raise standards and achievement to world standards.

First in Math and Science: Minnesota students rank high on national measures on mathematics and science achievement but in a more competitive world, the standard of comparison has to be global.

- Minnesota eighth-graders recently placed among the top five states in a mathematics assessment conducted by the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAAEP).
- By global measures, American students rank near the bottom in mathematics and science achievement.

Adult literacy and lifelong learning: Minnesota has had a strong commitment to lifelong learning and adult education with participation in these programs each year exceeding the state population of four million.

- But Minnesota businesses and industry are spending millions to re-educate adult workers in basic skills.
- Estimates are than 355,000 Minnesotans between 18 and 64 have not completed high school and another 200,000 have basic skill levels below the eighth-grade.

Safe, disciplined, drug-free schools: Minnesota leads the way in developing community-based, comprehensive alcohol and drug prevention programs for young people.

- Programs include prevention education, early intervention, and cooperative efforts between schools and communities.
- Youth development plans and community service programs — with strong youth involvement in planning and administration — are creating positive environments for young people.

"If we are to achieve our goal of being a world leader in education, the commitment must start in the individual schools and communities," Carlson said. "Personal commitment and involvement will translate into a better future for our children and our state. I'm challenging everyone to ask what they can do to help — and then do it."

Impressions . . .

Well, it's that time of year again. It's time to do your home's fire safety check. If you haven't already looked over your house for hazards, take time today to do so. Fire strikes when we least expect it. When it strikes, it destroys.

First of all, do you have smoke detectors in your home? If you do, do you have enough of them? Do you have a smoke detector on every level of your home? Do you have them by all sleeping areas of your home? Do you have them near the kitchen and furnace areas? Have you also installed them in the garage and workshop of your home?

Assuming you have smoke detectors in all the best places in your home, have you checked to see if they are working? If you can't remember when you last replaced the batteries in your smoke detectors, replace them today.

Smoke detectors really do work. We tend to think of them as the nuisance noise which blares whenever we overcook something on the stove. But, I can attest to the fact that smoke detectors really do their job. A summer ago we were awakened by our smoke detector in our bedroom area. We thought it was simply choosing a bad time to signal that its battery was getting too weak. But, after repeatedly changing the battery—in the middle of the night, half asleep—we decided that maybe we should take its continued warning sound seriously. Upon investigation, we discovered that a fan we were using that night was actually getting overheated. We smelled nothing—the smoke detector did. Heed you smoke detector if it warns you. Its job is to warn you before it's too late.

Do you have a family fire escape plan? Do all of your family members know your family's plan? Have you arranged for a meeting area outside of the house? Do all of your family members know where this meeting area is? Have you practiced your escape routes?

The furnace is a mighty important part of our homes. Have you had it checked over to see that it is running well? Have you cleaned or replaced the filters? If your furnace is a wood furnace, have you checked for buildup in the chimney? Do you have combusitbles stored near you furnace? If you do, remove them.

Do you have a fire extinguisher in your home? Do you and your family members know how to use it? Where is it? Do all of your family members know where it is? Does it need recharging?

How's the wiring in your home? Hopefully the basic wiring of your home is safe. If it's not, replace it. Do you have the proper kinds of cords for your appliances? Are your extension cords frayed? If they are, replace them.

There are many potential hazards in our homes. Our job is to see that we act responsibly and try to eliminate the hazards of which we are aware. I am forever amazed at how major tragedy was only miraculously averted in the home where we are now living. Before we moved her, church members did some sprucing up to the parsonage. In the basement was a long church table loaded with a multitude of paint cans and brushes and rags of every sort. In close proximity to this highly combustible area of paints and varnishes was a leaking gas pipe. The pipe had been leaking for several months. I still can't fathom why the entire house with the people working in it was not simply exploded by this deadly mixture. We must act responsibly to avert such hazards. Only miraculous intervention—and a new pastor's wife's good sense of smell—caused to tragedy to occur in our church's house.

Do your family members know what to do if a fire occurs? Do they know to vacate the house before calling for help from a neighbor's home? Do all of your family know how to call 911 for help?

After inspecting your home for hazards, don't just expect them to disappear without you taking the responsibility to see that they are eliminated. Clean you closets, replace the batteries, eliminate frayed cords, check your furnace, check for gas leaks, recharge the extinguishers, practice your escape routes, check to see that the exits are all accessible, and check to see that your windows can be opened. Then, rest well, knowing that accidents can happen, but you at least have done your very best to see that harm will not come to those you love.

Reiner . . . .

Congratulations to Donavan Quam and Nicole Paulson, who were crowned King and Queen at the Goodridge homecoming on Friday, September 27th, also congratulations to the other candidates and attendants!

These two photos were printed from glass negatives owned by the Pennington County Historical society. The pictures were originally made by John Borry, photographer in early Thief River Falls. The pictures may have been taken in either the Borry home or Mr. Borry's studio. They were apparently taken some time apart because the chair at the right on each picture is the same but with different upholstery. The foot stool at the front of the top photo is also repeated in the other picture with a different fabric, standing behind the chair at the right. In the top picture, note the toy fire engine on the table, and other toys on the floor. There is also a fox hide in front of the chair at the right. Pictures from this collection will be printed on a regular basis until next summer.

Otters 3-2 winners in volleyball

Thief River Falls completed its North Sub Section 8AA regular season high school volleyball schedule Thursday with a 3-2 loss at Fergus Falls – the Prowlers' fourth sectional defeat in as many tries.

The Otters won 11-15, 18-16, 15-3, 3-15, 15-11.

"We really played well for most of the night," reported Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "We were a little flat in Game 3 – we quit communicating and had a tough time serve receiving – but overall, when they wanted to play, they all played hard."

The Prowlers overcame a 7-3 first-game deficit to open the night with a win, but 12-10, 14-13 and 16-15 Thief River Falls leads slipped away in the second-game loss.

After taking turns carrying play in Games 3 and 4, the match-deciding fifth game was an even affair that included an 11-10 Thief River Falls lead on an ace serve by Ali Peterson.

But the Prowlers ran into a rash of errors down the stretch that led to five straight points for the Otters to end the contest.

Peterson led the Prowlers with 17 service points, with Toni Chiodo picking up 12 and Kelly Skeim 10. Chiodo had a team-high 15 last-touch points, while Peterson had 12 and Kathy Kvick 10. Kvick also had five kills. Chiodo was credited with four.

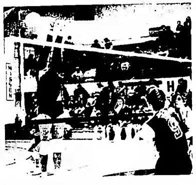
Chiodo and Peterson shared the Prowlers' Player of the Week award, announced by the Thief River Falls coaching staff. "Toni and Ali did an excellent job as far as overall team play and leadership," pointed out Anderson. "All the girls really played their hearts out. I was very proud of them the way they worked hard right down to the last point."

Fergus Falls won the junior varsity match 18-16, 15-3, with Thief River Falls taking the C squad encounter 15-4, 13-15, 15-13.

TRF Scoring

Service points - Ali Peterson 17, Toni Chiodo 12, Kelly Skeim 10, Nessa Anderson 7, Jamie Martell 6, Kristen Boughton 5, Kathy Kvick 2.

Last-touch points - Tony Chiodo 15, Ali Peterson 12, Kathy Kvick 10, Kelly Skeim 9, Nessa Anderson 5, Kristen Boughton 5, Jamie Martell 3, Kristi Lindberg 3.



A drive by Win-E-Mac senior Angele Ledding (9) sailed past a Thief River Falls defender Monday during the second game of the Patriots-Prowlers volleyball match in the Lincoln High School gym. Win-E-Mac won 3-0.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . A Column That's a Little Sappy, but Sweet

I've mentioned before in this column that I'm going to be a grandmother again. This may not matter much to anybody, but it matters a great deal to me, so I'm going to write about it. Like I said above, it's a little sappy and sweet, but that type of column is nice sometimes, too.

I've been a grandmother for six years; actually, it was six years ago on October 1 that I was called out of my English class at Northland and told I had a grandson and I was finally a grandma. I went back to my class with the biggest grin plastered on my face and everybody clapped at me, or for me, or for my daughter-in-law, or for my son, or for the baby, or for all of us, or something. Anyway, I had told my class all about my pending grandmotherhood (numerous times), so they all knew what was going on with me that night and why I was somewhat sappy. (Why I was sitting in a Northland classroom becoming a grandmother is another story that I won't go into detail about at this time.)

I can't help being sappy about being a grandma. It's great fun, you know. It's a little unbelievable, but fun. Actually, I don't feel old enough to be a grandma, but does anyone? Seems to me that grandparents are getting younger and younger nowadays, or is it just that we look and feel that way? Yes! I think grandparents now are much more active and vital than grandparents used to be when I was young. Most of us are still bouncing around acting like teenagers, and a lot of the grandparents I know still look like teenagers, too. Isn't it great? We can actually have good times with our grandchildren.

Having a grandchild is much more fun than having children. I heard someone say that if they had known what fun grandchildren were, they would have had them first and skipped having children entirely. This is a good idea! My children were a lot of work and I hardly had any time to have fun with them at all. Frankly, I don't think they even dreamed of having fun with me because I was their—MOTHER—and that word meant I was not a fun person. I suppose I was just too busy keeping them respectable-looking and responsible-acting to have fun with them, too.

Grandchildren are wonderful to have around. Most of the time they treat grandparents much nicer that they treat their parents. My grandson never sasses me, or throws a temper tantrum at me, or gets mad when I tell him to do something. He always listens to me when I tell him stories and he actually likes to hear about "the good old days" and silly things I do and tell him about. He especially likes to hear about the (interesting, naughty, funny, strange, embarrassing, dumb) things his dad did when he was a little boy—and I tell him—about EVERYTHING. It's so refreshing to have someone listen to me and enjoy what I say! His father and aunts and uncles were never so attentive or polite when they were his age, I'm sure.

It will be good to have one more grandchild-type person around our house. I worry about just having one of them. It isn't only me, because I am, after all, his grandma, but I worry because all of his aunts and uncles seem to feel the same way about him that I do. We all think he is absolutely the best, most perfect, most polite, most intelligent and, of course, best looking six-year-old child we have ever come across, and this type of thinking can be dangerous. He could turn out to be terribly spoiled with all of us thinking that way. I'm glad he will soon have to share all of us with another little boy or girl. I know he will be glad too, because I think he is getting a little tired of being perfect for us all of the time.

The best thing about being a grandma is that I will get to spoil the baby and then give him (or her) back to his (or her) mom and dad to take care of yucky things like wet or dirty diapers, crying, colic, cleaning up after spitting up or other not-so-fun things. To tell you the truth, I can hardly wait to hold that baby. (Don't they smell good and snuggle up to your neck so nice?)

Another good thing about being a grandma is that I will get to put the baby to sleep. Now that is one of the very best things about being a grandma! Oh boy, to be able to just sit in that rocking chair with that little bundle and rock back and forth and hum a little tune or even sing a song out loud, because the baby won't care if I hum or sing off-key like some other people do.

Sometimes I can even take a little nap there in the rocking chair, right along with the baby.

I also get to spoil my six-year-old grandson and give him treats that his mother won't let him have at home, and let him do things that she won't let him do. She doesn't mind, I don't think—at least she hasn't said anything to me about it yet. And he certainly doesn't mind when I do that.

The worst thing about being a grandma is that my grandson doesn't live here in Thief River Falls, so I can't see him as often as I want. It is really hard to keep track of what he is doing in school, what kind of present to buy him for his birthday so I don't get him something he already has, and, especially, how cute and smart he is getting to be, when he is not around me very often. Oh, I know, I'm probably better off than some grandparents. My grandson comes to visit often, because, after all, he lives only six hours away, but it just isn't often enough for me. Soon he will come to live closer, about an hour away, and I can hardly wait.

Now I'm supposed to became a grandma again on November 1. (What is it with these kids of mine with the first of the month?) I'm taking bets that the baby will be born in October, however, because his/her mother, his/her father and his/her brother, as well as his/her grandpa and his/her aunt all have birthdays in October. Anyway, watch out for me as the end of the month comes near, because I'll be getting all sappy again, but now you'll know why.

erty but do want control over who uses their land for recreational purposes. So for most sportsmen, the question is: How do I approach a landowner and let him know that I am a responsible hunter who will respect his property and am willing to be held accountable for my actions?

Whitetails Unlimited through the corporate support of the Federal Cartridge Company, has a proven solution: Project P.O.L.I.T.E.— Permission Of Landowner In-order To Enter.

Whitetails Unlimited has designed a hunter/landowner identification card which has opened thousands of acres and helped responsible sportsmen gain access to hunting private property. A generous donation from Federal Cartridge is making the cards available free of charge. Federal Cartridge understands the difficulty a growing number of sportsmen face in gaining access to private property.

This is how it works: when a sportsman has decided where he would like to hunt, he approaches the landowner for permission. Upon introducing himself, the hunter/landowner identification card is presented. Once permission has been granted, the landowner signs and dates the card which has been completed with all necessary information by the landuser (sportsman). The landuser retains the portion with the landowner's signature. The landowner retains the portion of the card containing the specific information on the landuser: name, address, phone number, vehicle make and license number.

The ID cards give the hunter a tool to supply a private landowner with proper identification. It also encourages the hunter to ask for permission to hunt on private lands. Properly implemented, it assists landowners in controlling hunters on their property. Proper identification will make private landowner receptive to allowing respectful hunters on their lands. This in turn will open and keep land open to regulated hunting.

Free hunter/landowner identification cards are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed legal size envelope to Whitetails Unlimited Inc., Attn.: Project P.O.L.I.T.E.; P.O. Box 422, Sturgeon Bay, WI 54235.

Why Do You Think They Call It Art Work?

Becoming an artist is hard work. Inspiration is nice but sweat and determination are essential.

There is a school to help talented teenagers reach their potential in the arts: the Arts High School. Through an intense two year program, 11th and 12th graders receive instruction in their field of interest along with a solid liberal arts education.

The Arts High School offers innovative programs in dance, literary arts, media arts, music, theater and visual arts. Art classes are taught by committed instructors – many of whom are practicing artists who can offer the encouragement and firsthand experience you need.

Our students come from all around the state – and represent various degrees of accomplishment. Some have had extensive training; others are just discovering their abilities as writers, actors, musicians and dancers. Programs are designed to meet individual needs.

If you will be an 11th grader next year and have talent, drive and enthusiasm, call the Arts High School admissions office at 591-4700 or 1-800-657-3515 for an application packet.

As space permits, students who will be 12th graders in the fall of 1992 will also be considered for enrollment.

Hanson herd is tops in county DHIA records

Mark Hanson herd topped the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association for July and August with average production of 65.9 pounds of milk and 1.95 pounds of butterfat per day, according to Mel and Randy Rasmussen, supervisors.

Eighty-three per cent of Hanson's 54-cow herd was on test in July and August. The cows are milked three times a day.

Mylo Carlson herd was in second place with average production of 61.6 pounds of milk and 2.04 pounds of butterfat. Ninety per cent of Carlson's 60-cow herd was in milk.

Third place went to Lyle Swanson whose 42-cow herd was 83 per cent in milk and averaged 57 pounds of milk and 1.94 pounds of butterfat.

Other herds in the top 10 included the following with the named of the herd, number of cows, percentage in milk, average pounds of milk and average pounds of butterfat listed respectively:

Kelly and Gary Lundeen, 42 cows, 98 % in milk, 53.8 pounds of milk and 1.68 pounds of butterfat; Walter Bros, 102, 85%, 53.7 and 1.88; Tony and Sheila Salenune, 44, 93%, 53 and 1.80;

MN court of appeals to hear cases in Bemidji

In its ongoing effort to make the courts more accessible to the public, the Minnesota Court of Appeals will hear oral arguments in Bemidji at the Beltrami County Courthouse, district courtroom, beginning 9:30 a.m. on October 16. The cases are heard at half hour intervals, with the last case starting at 11:30 a.m. The public is invited to attend the arguments, which are heard by a panel of three judges. A synopsis of each case is provided.

Bemidji is in the Ninth Judicial District, which includes Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Koochiching, Itasca, Aitkin, Crow Wing, Cass, Hubbard, Beltrami, Clearwater, Mahnomen, Norman, Polk, Red Lake, Pennington and Marshall counties.

The court of appeals was created in 1983 to reduce the backlog in the Minnesota Supreme Court. Its decision is the final ruling in about 95 per cent of the appeals filed each year. Only five per cent of the court's decisions are accepted by the Minnesota Supreme Court for further review. "We are the only court in the nation which issues all its decisions within 90 days after hearings," said Chief Judge D.D. Wozniak. "We travel throughout the state for arguments, to reduce the expense of appeals, and we recognize that justice delayed is justice denied, so we handle our cases very promptly."

DO THE YELLOW PAGES TAKE TOO BIG A BITE OUT OF YOUR ADVERTISING BUDGET?

SOME MYTHS AND FACTS

Myth: Yellow Page advertising is creative, active advertising.
Fact: It's hard to be creative when you have to limit your message. Harder still when you realise you can only change that ad once a year. Yellow Page advertising by necessity is stagnant, passive advertising. Your products change. Your services offered change. Your prices change. Your customers change. So should your advertising.

Myth: Yellow Pages sell products.
Fact: Yellow Pages are not designed to sell. They are intended to be a directory. That's why you can't advertise the prices of your services or products. And, often you can't advertise that you are the best or the biggest. You really can't tell the reader why he should choose you over your competitor. Plus, many consumers shop for convenience and will pick a store close to their home or office — regardless of size or ad or brand names and product. Remember, the purpose of advertising is to sell goods and services, as well as build high levels of recall.

Myth: Yellow Pages create brand awareness.
Fact: Brand awareness or store image are important parts of your advertising plan. If Yellow Pages did in fact build awareness, then you would see large ads for Wards, Walgreens, Shopko, Target or even Northwestern Bell or AT&T themselves in the Yellow Pages. But, you don't see these advertisers using the Yellow Pages to create awareness of their product or store.

Myth: It's best to have your ad at the beginning of a classification in the Yellow Pages.
Fact: Yellow Pages are designed with big ads at the head of the classification, and small ads last. And you are told that in order to get to the head of the list you need to buy the biggest ad. But biggest isn't always best. See for yourself. Pick up the phone book and find your ad. Nine times out of ten, you start at the back and flip pages toward the front. When you do, you'll see the smallest ads first.

Myth: Yellow Pages reach a large audience that reads them regularly.
Fact: The actual number of copies of the Yellow Pages which are distributed is often misleading. Many households receive more than one copy, not to mention multiple books in offices which may never be used. Also, the Yellow Pages are closed about 90% of the time, and are used by the average adult about 3 times a month or 34 times a year. By comparison, look at your newspaper's total circulation. The newspaper reaches your target audience 108 times a year, giving you much greater exposure.

Win-E-Mac, after a brief first-game lull, buried host Thief River Falls 15-10, 15-0, 15-5 Tuesday in high school volleyball.

The perennial Class A power from Winger-Erskine-McIntosh, started the night with a 10-0 Game 1 lead.

After getting rocked at the start, Thief River Falls regrouped, pulling within 13-7 and then 13-8 on ace serves by Toni Chiodo and LuAnne Maslowski. Win-E-Mac reached match point, but the Prowlers picked up two more points before surrendering the 15-10 decision on a tap at the net by April Sebenaler.

But instead of giving the Prowlers a shot of confidence, Thief River Falls' Game 1 comeback apparently caught the Patriots' attention as they dominated Game 2. Win-E-Mac forced Thief River Falls time-out calls at 6-0 and 12-0 before finishing the shutout when Angela Ledding put one away at the net.

The Prowlers regained their composure long enough to take a short-lived 4-2 lead in Game 3, but the Patriots put together a run of nine unanswered points to turn a 6-5 lead into a match-ending 10-point win.

"You have to be happy with that (first-game) comeback," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson, "but we were really flat in that 15-0 game."

Anderson gave special recognition to efforts of sophomore starters Jamie Martell and Toni Chiodo, along with the performance off the bench by senior Amy Eriksen, but overall, she wasn't particularly thrilled with the Prowlers' play. "We've got some kids who never give up, but we have to have everybody showing up ready to play every match if we want to be successful," she said.

While Chiodo led the Prowlers with four service points and five last-touch points, the Patriots got an 18-point service night from sophomore Erin Tangen and 11 last-touch points from both Sebenaler, a 5-11 senior, and Heather Benbo, a 5-6 junior.

The loss put the Prowlers at 5-13 for the year. They will take on Red Lake County Central Thursday in Plummer before returning home to host Fosston Tuesday.

Win-E-Mac was a 15-6, 15-2 winner in the junior varsity match, and the Patriots were 2-0 winners in a pair of matches against the Thief River Falls C squads. The Prowlers' JV is 4-12; the C squad is a combined 5-8.

TRF Scoring

Morris rally beats TRF 29-28

A week earlier 29-28 sounded pretty good as Thief River Falls edged Crookston in overtime in Section 8A high school football. Friday the same score proved disheartening as the Prowlers lost a 1991 homecoming decision to Morris Area when the Tigers came up with two fourth quarter touchdowns to wipe out a 28-13 deficit.

Both teams came out of it with 3-3 records. Thief River Falls wraps up its regular season schedule on the road with Section 8A games Friday at Fergus Falls and Wednesday, Oct. 16, at East Grand Forks.

Jeff Mumm ranked the victory at Crookston as one of the biggest wins he has experienced in his seven years as Thief River Falls head coach. The loss to Morris has to rank among the most disappointing. With Jason Svir returning a punt 68 yards for a touchdown, throwing a 31-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Johnson and scoring again on a 5-yard run from scrimmage to go along with a 9-yard Matt Kaushagen touchdown run, the Prowlers appeared headed for their fourth straight win as they began the fourth quarter with a seemingly secure 15-point lead.

"It looked like we had it under control," acknowledged Mumm. "I thought we played three pretty good quarters of football. But give Morris credit; they never gave up. The big plays killed us. They knew what they had to do to win the game, and they did it. That's a sign of a great football program."

Quality of the Morris Area program is reflected in the fact that the Tigers, while playing in a Class A conference, made back-to-back state football playoff appearances in Class B in 1988 and 1989 – coming up with a Prep Bowl runner-up finish in '88.

"They've been to the Metrodome; they know how to win the big games – the close games," pointed out Mumm. "Big plays decided the game, and they definitely had the bigger plays at the end."

It was a game full of big plays, starting almost immediately when the Prowlers fumbled on the second snap of the night and the Tigers' Jeff Weiler was there to scoop up the loose ball and return it 43 yards for a touchdown. Weiler also added the conversion kick as Morris Area went up 7-0 just 62 seconds into the game without running an offensive play.

But Thief River Falls had a big play of its own later in the quarter to tie it 7-7. A Morris Area holding penalty on a punt proved disastrous for the Tigers when Svir got a second chance for a return after originally settling for a fair catch at the 15. He dipped behind a wall of blockers along the right sideline and took off on his 68-yard touchdown return that was followed by a Barry Rhineberger kick for the tie with 1:24 remaining.

The Prowlers also scored the next two times they got their hands on the ball for a 20-7 halftime lead.

An 11-play, 80-yard drive made it 14-7 with 4:09 left in the second quarter. The touchdown came on a third-and-14 scramble by Svir from the Morris Area 31. His behind-the-line dash bought time until he was able to loft the ball to a wide-open Johnson in the back of the end zone.

Moments later Weiler tried to get off a punt after grabbing a high snap from center, only to have to kick blocked out of bounds at the Tigers' 26-yard line with 1:58 to play in the first half.

That distance was quickly covered on a 6-yard run by Marc Haugen and then three straight carries by Kaushagen, with the senior fullback scoring on a strong second-effort tackle-breaking run through the middle from nine yards out with 37 seconds showing.

But a play that would ultimately play a major role in the final outcome kept Thief River Falls from adding the conversion when Svir, holding for Rhineberger, pulled up when he had trouble with the snap on the placement. After a scramble and what looked like a successful two-point completion in the end zone, the Prowlers lost the points and the play on an offensive pass interference penalty.

Morris Area got back in the game at the midway mark of the second quarter when Weiler caught a short pass from quarterback Isaac Kieffer on the left side, then broke away from a defender en route to a 36-yard gain to the one, setting up a three-yard touchdown run by Kyle Ross. The Tigers' kick was wide left, leaving it at 20-13.

Thief River Falls answered that threat by going 54 yards in nine plays to rebuild a 28-13 cushion. Big play on the drive was another scramble/completion by Svir – this one winding up as a 34-yard reception for Wade Evenson that carried to the Tigers' 10-yard line. Three plays later the Prowlers pulled to the right while Svir ran a naked bootleg to the left for the five-yard touchdown with 2:02 remaining in the third quarter. Svir also rolled left for the two-point conversion.

Morris Area wasn't throwing in the towel, however, as the Tigers struck for two touchdowns in a 2:35 span in the middle of the final period to win it.

The Tigers pulled within 28-21 on a little trickery as Kieffer made a quick toss to Weiler parallel to the line of scrimmage on the left side. The wide receiver then turned into a quarterback when he found Ross behind the secondary for a 52-yard touchdown pass. Ross added the two-point conversion run off left tackle.

Four plays later the Prowlers were punting, and Weiler came up big again with a 49-yard return to the Thief River Falls 14. Jon Backman promptly broke through on the right side for the touchdown, and Ross came back off left tackle for the game-winning two-point conversion.

It still looked like Lady Luck was going to shine on the Prowlers when a fourth-and-9 play from the Thief River Falls 31 resulted in a Fran Tarkenton-like scramble by Svir, who finaly found Evenson on a 13-yard first down gain to the 44 with 3:26 still to play. But after picking up another first down at the Tigers' 43, the Prowlers' comeback hopes were dashed by a fumble that was recovered by defensive tackle Mike Maanum with 2:03 left.

Thief River Falls wound up outgaining Morris Area 218-84 on the ground, with Kaushagen netting 121 of those yards on 25 carries and Haugen getting 70 yards on 22 tries. Svir's scrambles produced 78 yards on a 3-for-9 night passing, but the Tigers collected 125 yards on a 6-for-19 showing.

Northland Community College volleyball...

NCC leads Northwest Division

A 3-0 Friday night home court win over Fergus Falls vaulted Northland to the top of the Minnesota Community College Conference Northwest Division standings.

The Pioneers surprised the Spartans 15-5, 15-13, 17-15 to improve their overall record to 10-9 and their Northwest Division mark to 2-0.

Northland will try to secure their hold on first place Wednesday with a 6:30 p.m. match at the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

The Pioneers dominated the Spartans at the start with 11 first-game kills – five each by Jill Brand and Cheri Bjorgaard.

Northland continued to hold the upper hand through Game 2, although they had trouble wrapping things up. Game 3 was tight, and it got a little tougher for the Pioneers when Bjorgaard suffered a broken bone in her foot while playing at the net late in the third game.

But Alice Dunning game off the bench to fill in for Bjorgaard, and the Pioneers managed to fight off a 14-13 deficit to complete the sweep.

"We played some excellent volleyball," said Northland coach Deb Jacobson. "They put it all together and really played well."

But the loss of Bjorgaard made it a bittersweet victory. "I would like to think we can pull together and overcome the injury," said Jacobson, "but I can't lie and say we won't miss her. She is a very good hitter, and she was leading the team in defensive digs."

The trip to UMC will be the lone outing of the week for the Pioneers, who will head to Moorhead State for an Oct. 15 match with the Dragons' junior varsity before finishing regular season play with a second swing through the Northwest Division – at Brainerd Oct. 23, at Fergus Falls Oct. 25, and at home against UMC Oct. 30.

Panthers top RLCC

Norman County West wore down Red Lake County Central Friday, leaving Plummer with a 36-22 North Tri-County Conference nine-man high school football decision.

"They're a little bigger and a little quicker than we are," pointed out Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brantl. "We played pretty

Three Win-E-Mac defenders went up to block a shot by Thief River Falls' Carla Lawrence as the Prowlers' Jamie Martell looked on during Monday's high school volleyball match in the Lincoln gym. The Patriots won 3-0.

Swimmers take part in Grand Forks meet

Thief River Falls girls will visit Bemidji Thursday and will host Fergus Falls Saturday in dual meet high school swimming action. The Bemidji meet starts at 6 p.m.; the Fergus Falls meet begins at 1 p.m.

The Prowlers, who are 2-2 in dual meet outings, competed in the Grand Forks Invitational Saturday at the University of North Dakota.

Bismarck Century won the 12-team event with 102 points, followed by West Fargo with 77, Fargo South 71, Fargo North 70, Minot 68, Moorhead 58, Thief River Falls 39, Jamestown 37, Grand Forks Red River 20, Grand Forks Central 13, Crookston 1 and Fargo Shanley 1.

Although the Prowlers finished back in the pack, it was a good outing against strong competition, pointed out Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "Our kids turned in some excellent performances," he said. "We had a number of personal-best times."

In the junior varsity portion of the meet, Minot was a winner with 110 points, followed by Crookston with 76, Bismarck Century 59, Fargo South 44, Jamestown 33, Fargo North 15, Fargo Shanley 13, West Fargo 6, Thief River Falls 9, Moorhead 1, Grand Forks Central 0, Grand Forks Red River 0.

Pioneers lose 23-14

Giving up the football at your 8 and 24-yard line is no way to protect a one-point fourth quarter lead.

Northland found that out Saturday afternoon when Mesabi, not about to look a gift horse in the mouth, rallied for a 23-14 win over the host Pioneers in a chilly Minnesota Community College Conference football game at Prowler Field.

Looking for its first win of the 1991 season, Northland had a 14-13 homecoming game edge before running into fourth quarter problems when a fumble and a short punt into the wind set Mesabi up with a go-ahead field goal with 12:18 remaining and a game-clinching touchdown run 3:13 later.

The loss dropped the Pioneers to 0-5 for the year, including an 0-4 showing against MCCC Northeast Division teams. They finish the season with Northwest Division games Oct. 12 at the University of Minnesota-Crookston, Oct. 19 at Brainerd and Oct. 25 at home against Fergus Falls.

Mesabi, 3-2 overall, went 2-2 against the Northwest Division this fall.

Northland had a 7-0 first quarter lead and a 14-13 halftime edge, but touched Mesabi territory just once after intermission.

"We were disappointed our our second half," said Northland coach Rick Nelson. "We just didn't get it done on either side of the football."

Scoring started after a fumble recovery and 12-yard return to the Mesabi 23 by defensive back Scott Degelder. Five plays later quarterback Reggie Drummond danced around behind the line of scrimmage on a third-and-four snap from 6-yard line before finding tight end Jason Stewart in the the end zone for a touchdown. Stewart didn't have much territory left when Drummond got the ball to him just inside the out-of-bounds line on the left side. Derek Landerville added the conversion kick for a 7-0 lead with 40 seconds left in the first quarter.

Mesabi answered with a 10-play, 58-yard touchdown drive following the ensuing kickoff. Big gainer was a 32-yard Gray Hannah pass to Brondon Paulson that carried to just outside the Northland 10. The Ironmen scored five plays later on a dive from the one by Jesse Van Asten. The snap was bobbled on the extra point kick, forcing Mesabi to put up a pass that was incomplete, leaving it at 7-6 with 12:30 left in the first half.

The Ironmen made it two straight scoring possessions when they quickly forced a Northland punt and put together a 10-play, 54-yard drive that ended on a 4-yard touchdown run by Van Asten with 7:18 showing. Van Asten went wide left on the play and even though he was hit by Degelder at the Northland 2, his diving effort caught the left corner of the end zone. David Foster tacked on the extra point kick.

The sudden scoring outburst continued when Northland responded with a 7-play, 54-yard touchdown drive that started with 34-yard pickup – a 19-yard pass from Drummond to Stewart that had a 15-yard Mesabi unsportsmanlike penalty added to the end of the play. That quickly set the Pioneers up at the Mesabi 23, and they scored from the four on a pitch left to Kevin White. Landerville's kick broke the 13-13 tie with 3:39 to play in the first half.

Northland lost out on two other scoring opportunities when they ran out of downs at the Mesabi 4 and lost a fumble at the Ironman 26-yard line on back-to-back first quarter possessions.

"First half we did all right, but we still missed a couple of opportunities early," acknowledged Nelson. "We just didn't get the job done when we needed it."

Neither team was doing much offensively in the second half until the Mesabi turned the fourth quarter scoring chances into points. Drummond was back to pass on a second-and-nine from his own 15-yard line five plays into the final period when he dropped the ball while being sacked. William Markovich recovered at the 8. The Northland defense gave up just two yards in three plays, but Foster hit the field goal attempt from the 14 to take the lead away from the Pioneers.

To complicate matters, Northland had trouble with the ensuing kickoff and wound up starting from the Pioneers' 8. They went nowhere, and Flint Gandrud's punt into the wind only reached the 24.

A third-and-seven from the 21 was turned into a 16-yard gain and a first down at the Northland 5 when Hannah found 6-4, 250-pound tight end Brian Jonikin over the middle. Hannah scored on the next play as he rolled right, then turned it upfield when he receivers were covered. The kick finished the scoring and the comeback with 9:05 remaining.

"It's disheartening," said Nelson, looking at 0-5 start. "It's not that they (Pioneers) are not putting out the effort; the kids haven't quit. But the mental mistakes are killing us. You can't keep making the kind of mistakes we're making and expect to win football games."

Northland gave up just 78 yards on the ground and had a 238-185 edge in total yards to go along with a 15-11 advange in first downs. But the Pioneers also lost three fumbles and had an interception.

Shawn Campbell led the Northland ground game with 50 yards on seven carries. Drummond netted 36 on 11 tries, while leading Northland ball carrier Kevin Massiah, slowed by a nagging leg injury, was held to 32 yards on 20 attempts. Van Asten led Mesabi with 42 yards on 19 carries. Both quarterbacks were 8-for-25 with one interception, but Hannah had a 107-86 edge in yards over Drummond.

Eagles edge Rebels 12-6

A brief two-game Middle River-Marshall County Central win streak ended Friday with a 12-6 Valley Plains Conference overtime loss at Red Lake Falls.

The 6-6 regulation time tie set up a four-down overtime offensive series for both sides. Middle River-Marshall County Central failed to add any points to start the extra session, with Red Lake Falls finally winning it on a fourth down dive from the two-yard line by Simon Geller.

"We're pretty evenly matched, but we should have played better," said Middle River-Marshall County Central coach Eldon Sparby, whose team came into the game on the strength of back-to-back wins over Ada-Borup 21-6 and Fertile-Beltrami 13-12. "We weren't happy with our emotional performance. We were flat."

Red Lake Falls struck first when a pass interception set up a 22-yard Harry Hoselton touchdown pass to Nathan Patnode in the second quarter.

Middle River-Marshall County Central tied it when John Sparby finished of a strong third quarter drive with a 9-yard touchdown run.

Both sides failed on the conversion kicks.

Middle River-Marshall County Central lost out on an opportunity to go ahead in the fourth quarter when the Rebels recovered a fumbled punt return inside the Red Lake Falls 10-yard line, only to have the play called back because of a penalty.

"We played pretty well in the second half," said Sparby. "I think we doubled them in offensive yards in the second half, but we couldn't score."

David Blazek led the Rebels' offense with 124 yards on 20 carries.

Defensively, Dan Koehmstedt led the Middle River-Marshall County Central efforts with 11 solo tackles and six assisted stops in the middle of the line, while inside linebacker Travis Knutson was credited with seven unassisted stops and eight assists.

The 2-4 Rebels will visit Fosston Friday.

Hunter ID Cards

Do you hunt on private property?

Do you ever have trouble getting permission to hunt on private property?

If you answered yes in the first question, statistics would indicate that you probably answered yes to the second question also. Why? Well, for starters, three-quarters of all the land in the United States is privately owned and the majority (over 90 per cent) of sportsmen and women will be hunting on private property this season. Couple that information with the fact that hundreds of thousands of acres of private land are posted with "No Hunting or Trespassing" signs each year and the problem continues to magnify itself.

Yet polls taken of landowner opinions show that most landowners do not mind hunting on their prop-well most of the time, but we just had a tough time trying to stop them."

Norman County West had an 8-0 first quarter lead, then maintain 14-6 and 22-14 spreads at the next two quarter breaks before opening up a two-touchdown gap on a 10-yard Jerry Paulsrud touchdown run with about five minutes remaining in the game.

The Panthers also scored on a pair of short touchdown runs by Joel Ziegler and touchdown passes of 21 and 44 yards from Scott Mickelson to Jeff Kolnes and Jon Hillerud, respectively.

Red Lake County Central scoring included a 67-yard Scott Lorenson pass to Paul Melby in the first quarter; a 4-yard Eric Kolstoe run in the second quarter; and a 2-yard Kolstoe run in the third quarter.

Kolstoe finished the night with 64 yards on 18 carries, while Adam Lundeen netted 42 yards on just three attempts. The Mustangs wound up with 107 yards on 24 rushing attempts. They added 128 yards in the air, but were just 5-for-20 throwing the ball. Kolstoe caught three passes for 40 yards.

Kolstoe was also the Red Lake County Central leader on defense, where he was credited with 28 tackles – solo and assisted stops, combined. Ryan Bjerklie was in on 17 tackles, while Bernie DeHate had 16 and Lundeen finished with 14.

The 2-4 Mustangs will play Red Lake Friday in a 7 p.m. game at Plummer.

Sacred Heart claims crown

Heart, East Grand Forks and Red Lake County Central all went 2-1 in pool play, while Lake Park-Audubon was 0-3.

The tie-breaker for the Plummer pool was based on the fewest number of games lost – setting up a 1-2-3 placing for the Eagles, Green Wave and Mustangs, respectively.

Sacred Heart went on to beat Climax 2-0 in the title match and East Grand Forks stopped Norman County West 2-0 in the third place match – at Plummer. Red Lake County Central was a 2-0 winner over Red Lake Falls in the fifth place match and Lake Park-Audubon got by Clearbrook-Gonvick 2-1 in the seventh place match – at Oklee.

It was a bittersweet day for the Mustangs, who beat eventual-champion Sacred Heart 7-15, 15-5, 15-5 to start the tournament and swept Lake Park-Audubon 15-7, 15-7 before East Grand Forks knocked off the host team 13-15, 15-11, 15-9. The Mustangs bounced back to beat Red Lake Falls 15-6, 15-9.

"Overall, I was pretty pleased, especially with our performance against Sacred Heart," said Red Lake County Central coach Brad Borene.

Red Lake County Central, 11-7 for the year, was scheduled to face Crookston tonight (Tuesday) at Oklee. The Mustangs play Thief River Falls Thursday in Plummer and will be at Fisher Monday.

Larson places third

Derck Larson of St. John's, a freshman from Thief River Falls, was third in the final medal standings at the 1991 MIAC men's golf tournament completed Saturday at Pebble Creek in Becker.

Larson turned in a 27-hole 112, three strokes behind champion Jon Lindquist of Gustavus and just one shot behind second place Pete Anderson of the Gusties.

Perennial golf power Gustavus won the team title by a 457-471 margin over second place St. John's.

Larson is the two-time defending Thief River Golf Club tournament champion.

JV beats EGF 23-14

A 24-12 loser at East Grand Forks in the 1991 season opener, the Thief River Falls junior varsity high school football team won a Monday rematch with the Green Wave at Prowler Field by a nearly-identical 23-14 margin.

Kyle Boman scored on runs of 1, 24 and 6 yards for the winners, who trailed 14-8 at halftime, then protected the lead with a fourth quarter goal line stand.

Thief River Falls, 2-6 for the year, was also 3-for-3 in the extra-point department – a shovel pass from Jeff Twomey to Mike Moreno; a Joby Looker kick; and a Lee Lund to Twomey flea-flicker pass.

Tracey Wensloff and Gary Laidley-coached Thief River Falls junior varsity will host Crookston Monday at 5 p.m.

Sports Boosters meet

Ryan Lokken, head high school swimming coach for the Thief River Falls boys and girls, will be the guest speaker Thursday at the weekly 12-noon Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club meeting in the Rex Cafe.

Skippers having trouble trying to pick up victories

First-year head coach Debbie Johnson is not happy with the Middle River record, but she has trouble finding fault with the Skippers' efforts in high school volleyball.

The Skippers, after falling to 1-8 with a week's worth of losses to Roseau, Warroad and Badger-Greenbush, will try to pick up win No. 2 tonight (Tuesday) with a match against Grygla-Goodridge in Middle River.

"They're playing hard, and they're playing well together, but not well enough to win," explained Johnson. "They try hard, but we've gotten off to some slow starts, and they have a tough time coming from behind."

Middle River surprised a strong Roseau team 15-10 to start a Tuesday (Oct. 1) match, but the host Rams came back to win 15-1, 15-9, 15-1 with an edge at the service line – where the Skippers had trouble with both serving and serve reception.

Warroad swept the host Skippers 15-13, 15-9, 15-8 Thursday, and Badger-Greenbush beat them in a Tuesday marathon 15-13, 9-15, 15-5, 3-15, 15-13.

"That's probably the best we've played this year," said Johnson after the loss to the Bulldogs. "They really played well as a team – I think we've got some talent, but we've got to put it together. We've got to try to eliminate some of the mistakes we've been making, and we've got to become more aggressive."

Andi Nelson leads the Skippers in serving with a 95 percent figure at the line, while Krissi Super is serving 90 percent and Sara Melby is at 80 percent.

Super is the team's top spiker, connecting on 58 of 76 attempts (76 percent) through Thursday's matches. Holly Gram was good on 54 of 72 spikes (75 percent) and Melby, in addition to her setting duties, was 29-for-36 spiking.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FERN HAUGEN

And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me - but let me go.

For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.

In loving memory of Fern Haugen who would have celebrated her birthday, October 14. Sadly missed by her Mom and Dad, brother Orrin, and sisters Ardith, Edna, Lois, Linda, and Sharron.
